Probers Call M'Carthy Hand

Ike Says Administration Fighting Reds Effectively

Senate Passes $1,083,000,000 Farm Money Bill

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The Senate today approved a $1,083,000,000 farm appropriation for the fiscal year starting July 1. This was about 100 million dollars more than President Eisenhower requested.

The big money bill now goes back to the House for consideration of some six million dollars added by the Senate Appropriations Committee and 38 million tacked on by the Senate itself. A Senate-House Conference Committee probably will have to adjust many differences before the measure is finally approved.

More Funds For REA

Senate passage, by voice vote, came after the Senate added 35 million dollars for rural electrification loan funds—raising the total to 135 million. Eisenhower had asked for 55 million and the House had upped this to 100 million.

The hike in new funds for increasing rural electrification was approved by the narrow vote of 42-40 after a bitter floor fight, with Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, leading the opposition.

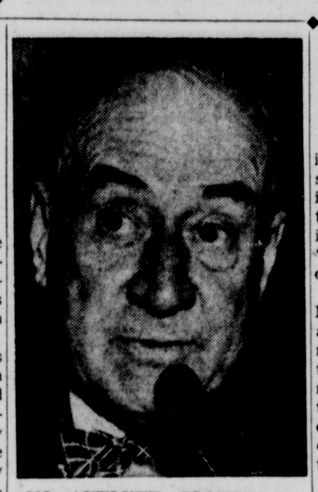

Knowland argued that 100 million dollars was "adequate" money. He said the government would have a total of 185 million dollars available for REA loans during the next 12 months—including the new authorization and carryovers from past loan authorizations.

Sens. Ferguson (R-Mich) and Aiken (R-Vt) supported Knowland, arguing that 135 million would give REA more than it needed or could use.

Morse, Langer Aid Demos

A group of Democrats, aided by Sens. Morse (Ind-Ore) and Langer (R-ND) battled for the increase. In the vote the increase was carried by 35 Democrats, 6 Republicans and Morse over the opposition of 37 Republican and 3 Democrats.

The six Republicans who voted with Morse and the Democrats were Sens. Langer and Young of North Dakota, Cooper of Kentucky, Mundt of South Dakota, Schoeppel of Kansas and Wiley of Wisconsin.

Eisenhower Bars M'Carthy Queries

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower, asserting the supremacy of the executive branch in fighting communism, said today the administration has rolled up an impressive record in that field—"quietly and relentlessly" and "under due process of law."

Barring questions about Sen. McCarthy, Eisenhower issued at a crowded news conference a 16-month record of the blows executive agencies have aimed at communism. These included convictions and indictments of Red leaders, deportations, and expansion of the list of subversive organizations.

The President reaffirmed his backing of Atty. Gen. Brownell's statement of last week which accused McCarthy of trying to "set himself above the laws of our land" in inviting secret data from government workers.

No McCarthy Queries

But Eisenhower ruled out newsmen's questions about the conflict between the administration and McCarthy. He asserted he has said his last word on that subject, unless something happens that makes him think he has to say something more.

Henceforth, he said, he will have just one aim and idea: To win enactment of the administration's legislative program, which he has called progressive and "dynamic" but parts of which have hit snags in Congress.

When a newsman came back with the question whether McCarthy was "hurting" the program, a look of annoyance overspread the President's face and he snapped: Next question.

Otherwise Eisenhower spoke readily on a variety of issues, saying that he:

1. Has reached no decision on such proposals as a request to Congress for a resolution authorizing direct American intervention in Southeast Asia, menaced by Communist aggression.

No Comment On Scientist Case

2. Would reserve comment on the 2-1 recommendation of a security board that atomic scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer be denied access to atomic secrets. The President again mentioned his great admiration for Oppenheimer's achievements, but said the White House should not intervene until the quasi-judicial process is complete. The Atomic Energy Commission has yet to make its decision on the case.

3. Positively will not compromise the principles of his flexible farm price support program, despite some reports from Capitol Hill that a compromise appears inevitable. Eisenhower said, however, that he does not consider all details of his program sacrosanct.

Reds Infiltrate CIA, McCarthy Tells Hearings

Boss Of Nation's Top Counter-Espionage Unit Denies Charge

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said today Communists have infiltrated the elite Central Intelligence Agency. CIA Chief Allen W. Dulles promptly declared the charge is "false."

McCarthy also stated publicly that he had discussed with members of his Senate Investigations subcommittee "The question of Communist infiltration of atomic and hydrogen bomb plants."

At a meeting with White House officials and others a year ago, McCarthy told reporters later, he was persuaded—"but not fully convinced"—that it would not be in the public interest to air the reports about the plants at a public hearing.

AEC Has No Comment

The Atomic Energy Commission, which controls the operations of the plants, had no immediate comment.

McCarthy tossed his remarks into the record of today's McCarthy-Army hearings.

The senator said "Communist infiltration of the CIA . . . disturbs me beyond words." He called the reports about the atomic and hydrogen bomb plants "alarming."

Both situations, he said, are "much more serious" than his subcommittee's investigation of alleged subversives in the Army's radar research center at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. The Ft. Monmouth inquiry has figured prominently in the Army hearings.

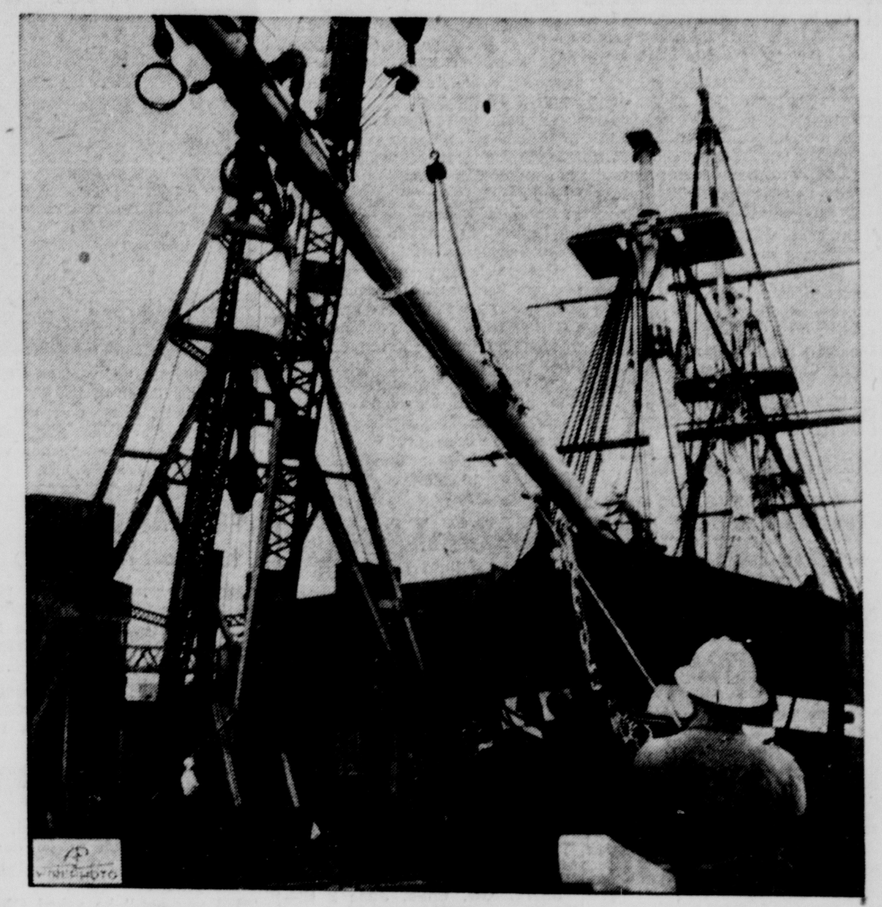

Charge False, Dulles Says

The CIA director, a brother of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, issued this statement:

"McCarthy's charge that the CIA is penetrated by Communists is false.

"Last summer a McCarthy report charged that an alleged Communist in the government printing office had access to CIA classified material. That charge also was false. I wrote McCarthy on Oct. 22, 1953, to give me any information he might have on CIA personnel. Since that time I have not had a word from him on the subject."

The CIA is the nation's main counter-espionage unit and a clearing house for intelligence reports from all branches of the armed service and the FBI.

Workmen lower 70-foot Oregon pine bowsprit into place on the USS Constitution at the Boston Navy Yard. The bowsprit, built four years ago from one of the largest timbers ever brought to Boston, had to be taken out to replace a 20-foot bitt designed to hold the spar in place. "Old Ironsides" is considered the oldest warship in the world still in commission. She was built near her Boston berth in 1797.

Senator Asked To Name Reds In U. S. Plants

Welch Trains Heavy Fire On Cohn To Set Off Lengthy Uproar

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Army Counsel Joseph N. Welch joined forces with Democratic senators today in a sudden, determined campaign to make Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy turn over to the FBI or Secretary of Defense Wilson the names of 130 alleged Communists who, McCarthy said, are in U.S. defense plants.

But McCarthy stuck to his stand that the way to get these purported Reds out of strategic factories is for his Investigating committee to hold public hearings, and expose them.

In the midst of a lengthy uproar, set off by Welch's whiplash cross-examination of McCarthy aide Roy M. Cohn, the special McCarthy-Army Investigating subcommittee voted unanimous "recommendation" that the 130 names to be sent to the Defense Department at once.

McCarthy retorted this wouldn't do any good. He made it plain that, as chairman of the regular Senate investigations body, he would not be bound by today's vote.

The Wisconsin senator said he will provide any information the Defense Department wants if Secretary Wilson will send somebody after it. But he emphasized that the real way to tackle the matter is through public hearings by the subcommittee headed by him.

FBI Powerless To Act

The FBI has all the information he has, and more too, he said, but is powerless to fire subversives from defense plants.

During the hot row, Cohn at the demand of Welch read off a list of cities in which the plants alleged to be infiltrated are located. They included Syracuse, Rome, Schenectady, Dunkirk and Buffalo, N. Y., and Quincy, Cambridge, New Bedford, Boston, Lynn, Fitchburg and Pittsfield, Mass.

Welch took off his velvet glove today and aimed a series of bare knuckle Sunday punches at the McCarthy camp—and, in particular, at the 27-year-old Cohn, who at times had trouble curbing his admittedly hot temper.

With sharp-edged irony, and often with hammering insistence, he bombarded Cohn with questions.

Before the defense plant sideissue came up, Cohn denied that the G. David Schine case is at the root of the McCarthy camp's collision with the Army. He said the trouble would have come up anyway because the Army officials were determined to stop their Loyalty-Security Board members from being subpoenaed by the McCarthy investigators.

New Probe Held Possibility

And he predicted trouble will start again—maybe ending in a whole new investigation like the present one—when the subcommittee resumes its efforts to question those board members. Cohn said these efforts definitely will be made once the present inquiry ends.

Russia Insists Reds Help Police Indochina Truce

GENEVA, June 2 (AP)—Russia and Red China today insisted over Western opposition that Communist nations help police an Indochina armistice.

The clash over makeup of a commission to supervise a ceasefire plunged the Indochina parley into fresh deadlock.

Soviet Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov, backed by Red China's Chou En-lai, told the nine-party conference agreement would be hard to reach unless Communists were included on a supervisory commission.

Britain, France and the United States argued during a fruitless session that it was impossible for a Communist country to be neutral and therefore should not be included.

At the end of the closed door four hour meeting, one Western diplomat said "Nothing was accomplished." Another described the session as one of "tough bargaining but no progress." Informants gave this account:

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault insisted that the supervisory commission should be "authentically neutral and authentically international."

He declared a commission made up of only two Communist and two nonCommunist nations would be automatically condemned to frustration.

Russia previously had proposed that the policing organization be composed of representatives of India, Pakistan, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Bidault had been ready to ask the conference to hand responsibility for policing a cease-fire to neutral countries of Asia.

But the debate bogged down over the definition of a neutral nation and Bidault did not introduce the idea, supported by both the United States and Britain.

Fatal Explosion In Sub Probed

PORTSMOUTH, N.H., June 2 (AP)—Overhaul of the submarine Sirago continued today despite a pre-dawn explosion in her main ballast tank which claimed the lives of two civilian painters and seriously burned a sailor.

A Board of Inquiry was convened this afternoon by Rear Adm. Charles B. Momson, commandant of 1st Naval District. Named as senior member of the board was Capt. Charles A. Ferriter, USN, president of the 1st Naval District General Court-Martial Board.

The other two members include Comdr. George S. Watkins, USN, asst. medical officer at the Portsmouth base hospital, and Lt. (JG) Richard D. Leggat, USNR, member of the general court-martial board for the district.

Killed in the blast that swept through the heart of the sub as she lay in drydock were Joseph E. A. Rousseau, 40, of Portsmouth, and Raoul Senechel, 28, of Somersworth. The men were spraying the interior of the vessel's main ballast tank with a plastic substance when the blast occurred.

L. A. Official Reported Cool To Heading TVA

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower reportedly has explored the possibility of offering the chairmanship of the Tennessee Valley Authority to Samuel B. Morris, general manager and chief engineer of the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power.

A government source who asked not to be named said, however, that Morris has made it pretty plain to Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's top aide, that he would not be interested in the job.

The President is looking for a successor to Gordon R. Clapp as TVA chairman. Clapp's term expired on May 18 and Eisenhower did not reappoint him.

VFW Urges Red Ban

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars urged a House Judiciary subcommittee today to approve legislation outlawing the Communist party or other groups advocating violent overthrow of the government.

Missing Person Case Was Cinch

OMAHA, June 2 (AP)—Sgt. Leroy Bessler is one of the Omaha policemen assigned to the job of finding missing persons.

Recently, Sgt. Bessler opened a letter from Harold Bessler of Pontiac, Mich., asking for help in finding a brother he hadn't seen in 32 years.

"All I know," wrote Harold, "is that he is believed to be in Omaha and his name is Leroy Bessler."

That was an easy case for Sgt. Bessler and when brother Harold flew here for a reunion he brought along sister Mrs. M. C. Houghton of Detroit. Sgt. Bessler hadn't seen his sister in 32 years either.

Key Block Of 800,000 Votes Won By Young In NYC Fight

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Robert R. Young today won a key 800,000 votes in his battle for control of the New York Central Railroad system.

Election inspectors tallying proxies in Albany rejected a management challenge of the validity of the huge block of shares cast by supporters of Young.

At Albany, a spokesman for Young cheered the decision, declaring that for "all practical purposes" the election was "over and done with." But Central President William White promptly declared management will continue its legal fight to block the counting of the shares.

Meanwhile, the laborious count of votes went on in an Albany hotel room. Election inspectors have made no announcement other than today's statement on the challenged shares. The annual meeting, which started with a stormy session last Wednesday, will resume Tuesday noon at the office of the railroad's secretary in Albany. Whether the tally will have been completed by then was not known.

Young claimed at the meeting Wednesday that, with the 800,000 shares, his side had cast 3½ million votes—more than half of the 6,447,410 shares outstanding.

The controversial block of shares, the biggest outstanding, was purchased by Clint W. Murchison and Sid W. Richardson, Texas friends of Young, from the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, Young's former railroad. The stock had been held in trusteeship by the Chase National Bank of New York, and the Central contended that the bank had no right to appoint a proxy for voting the shares at the annual meeting.

Russia And India Oppose Weighing Thai Appeal Now

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 2 (AP)—The Soviet Union and India today opposed early Security Council debate on a Thailand appeal for peace observers to watch the war crisis in Southeast Asia. Both took the view it would hinder the Geneva negotiations on Indochina.

Diplomatic sources here reported the Soviet opposition. An authoritative source in New Delhi disclosed the stand of Prime Minister Nehru's government. The Soviet Union is a member of the Security Council; India is not.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. delegate who is president of the Security Council during June, was said to have been informed yesterday of the Soviet Union opposition to a council meeting this week. The Russians asked that the council be called into session next week in order for Acting Permanent Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin to obtain instructions from Moscow.

Lodge, however, had the approval of the majority of the council for the meeting and called it for tomorrow.

6,600 WE Workers Receive Pay Boost

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Western Electric Co. announced tonight a new one year wage agreement giving a five to seven cents an hour pay increase to 6,600 workers in 29 major cities.

A company spokesman said the new agreement is subject to ratification by members of the Workers Union, District 11 of the CIO Communications Workers of America. Workers covered in the new agreement are equipment distributors.

The union has estimated the present average hourly pay at $1.80.

Democrats Fail To Stop Probe Of Foundations

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Democratic subcommittee members, protesting that witnesses have given not facts but "sworn opinions," tried and failed today to suspend a House investigation of tax-exempt foundations.

The hearings, stormy since they started nearly a month ago, brought a gavel-pounding exchange today between Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) and Chairman Reece (R-Tenn), who charged that the Ohioan had "cast slurs at this chairman."

Rep. Pfost Starts Exchange

The exchange started with a motion by Rep. Pfost (D-Idaho) for an adjournment "until the whole committee has been thoroughly briefed as to the nature of this inquiry." She described it as "a very unsatisfactory use of my time and waste of the taxpayers' money."

She was supported by Hays but was defeated by the votes of Reece and Rep. Goodwin (R-Mass) and a proxy vote cast by Reece for the absent Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich).

Reece contended the hearings have followed "a very logical procedure" and are "entirely objective."

"I am not representing any cause, any side, and look on this inquiry not as an investigation of foundations but the activities of the foundations," she said.

Reece Loses His Temper

Replied Hays: "I believe you believe that's what it is—a study to get some facts—but up to now we've heard witnesses give us nothing but opinions—sworn opinions."

Then, referring to testimony from two educators given two weeks ago, Hays added "I don't want to spring a trap on anybody, but. . ."

Reece lost his temper and banged his gavel forcibly at that point, charging Hays with slurring him and declaring that "from now on this committee will be conducted by the rules."

DAV Cleared Of Any Fund Irregularities

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The House Veterans' Committee today cleared the Disabled American Veterans of any fund-raising irregularities but said a separate organization not directly under control of DAV national officers had made "unauthorized use of names of prominent persons" in some fund-raising campaigns.

The committee approved a report of a special subcommittee which was set up recently to investigate reports that the DAV had "violated their public trust by improper expenditure of funds."

The committee said the DAV's only fund-raising activity, the sale of miniature automobile license tags, "is well-managed, profitable, and renders a real service" to veterans and automobile owners.

Child Is Seriously Burned In Hospital Oxygen Tent Fire

KENOSHA, Wis., June 2 (AP)—Fire broke out in an oxygen tent in the children's ward of Kenosha Hospital today, seriously burning one young patient. Ten of 15 other children were quickly evacuated. The fire was confined to one large room.

The blaze originated in the crib in which 15-months-old Harry Gordon was undergoing treatment for bronchial pneumonia. The child was seared on the legs, side and face. None of the other youngsters in the third floor pediatrics ward was injured.

Doctors, nurses, police and firemen hastily evacuated the other children and the fire was confined to the one crib in which the oxygen tent was being used. The danger of the other patients was from sulphur dioxide fumes, authorities said.

Tito Welcomed To Greek Capital

ATHENS, Greece, June 2 (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia entered Athens today for a five day state visit expected to pave the way for a historic three nation Balkan military alliance.

King Paul I accompanied Tito into the Greek capital. Cannon fired two 21 gun salutes, planes zoomed in special formation and thousands cheered along the line of march.

Chief purpose of the visit is to promote the Greek-Yugoslav-Turkish friendship pact into a full-fledged military alliance. Press reports said Tito may delay his departure in order to hold three-way talks on the subject when Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes passes through Athens Monday on his return from the United States.

Massive French Air Blows Smash Vietminh Bases

HANOI, Indochina, June 2 (AP)—Massive air attacks today destroyed an entire string of rebel bases only 12 miles from Hanoi used as springboards for slashing the vital rail-highway link with the seaport city of Haiphong.

This was announced by the French high command, which said 30 fighters and 20 bombers blew up huge arms depots hidden by the Communist-led Vietminh in villages they occupied near the highway.

Rebel Attack Repulsed

Haiphong is the main port for receiving American military equipment for the Indochina War effort. Portions of the road and rail link with Hanoi are blown up almost every night by the rebels and repaired in daylight by French army engineers.

Last night Vietnamese troops beat off another attempt by the rebels to overwhelm the defense post of Chonoi near Hung Yen, 30 miles southeast of Hanoi. It was the fifth consecutive night attack on the post in the southeast region of the delta, where the French have been bolstering their forces.

French planes gave close support to the Vietnamese while arms, ammunition and food were dropped to the defenders.

Wounded Reds To Be Freed

A high command spokesman said otherwise the situation in the delta today was calm. Five Vietminh were reported killed and 18 captured in minor mopups.

The high command announced that in accordance with an agreement reached at Geneva, 575 rebel wounded and sick prisoners will be released within five days as a reciprocal measure for the freeing of 858 French Union wounded and 27 medical men from fallen Dien Bien Phu.

Navy Flies Vertical Rising Plane In Dirigible Hangar

MOFFETT FIELD, Calif., June 2 (AP)—An airplane took off vertically from the floor of a huge dirigible hangar and flew straight up today in the first public demonstration of a strange new aircraft fostered by the Navy.

With a veteran test pilot at the controls and lying on his back, the powerful craft swayed and maneuvered in the canyon-like building for about 12 minutes.

This craft is the Navy's Convair XFY1. This was its nineteenth flight. The others have been made privately.

The great hangar, which used to house Navy dirigibles, was chosen for the historic showing because of its enormous size, which gave the plane enough room to maneuver as well as facilities for anchoring safety leashes.

The XFY1 was designed for vertical takeoff and horizontal flying. Thus far it has not been put into horizontal position during flight. Gradually it will be freed from its leashes until horizontal takeoff and level flight are achieved.

Many of the plane's specifications are secret. Its rated speed is 500 m.p.h. It has two 16-foot propellers which revolve in opposite directions. The counter-rotation prevents the plane from spinning. It has no landing gear; only caster-like wheels at the rear of its wing-tips and rudder assembly. Its normal position aground is nose-up.

The plane was built with the idea of having a fighter which could take off and land on the deck of a cargo ship. An engine which develops three horsepower per pound of weight made the vertical flight idea feasible.

Three Boys Killed In Car Smashup

MITCHELLVILLE, Md., June 2 (AP)—Three Washington-area teenage boys were killed and two others were injured near here today when their car clipped a halted truck and then hurtled 300 feet off the new Washington-Annapolis Expressway, police reported.

Pvt. Lawrence Wheeler, of the Prince Georges County police accident investigation unit, gave the details of the accident. He said the late model convertible was "apparently traveling at a high rate of speed" when it left the road.

Wheeler said the car was going toward Annapolis when it collided with the rear of a stake body truck he said had stopped to make a U-turn near the Prince Georges-Anne Arundel County line. The convertible, he said, then careened off the right shoulder, down an embankment and through a grove of trees before stopping about 300 feet away from the point it left the expressway.

Wheeler identified the dead as:

Milton C. Lawson, 19, of Mt. Rainier, Md., driver of the car.

David Sidney Harris, 18, of Washington, who was thrown 35 feet from the demolished car.

Russia Insists Reds Help Police Indochina Truce

GENEVA, June 2 (AP)—Russia and Red China today insisted over Western opposition that Communist nations help police an Indochina armistice.

The clash over makeup of a commission to supervise a cease-fire plunged the Indochina parley into fresh deadlock.

Soviet Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov, backed by Red China's Chou En-lai, told the nine-party conference agreement would be hard to reach unless Communists were included on a supervisory commission.

Britain, France and the United States argued during a fruitless session that it was impossible for a Communist country to be neutral and therefore should not be included.

At the end of the closed door four hour meeting, one Western diplomat said "Nothing was accomplished." Another described the session as one of "tough bargaining but no progress." Informants gave this account:

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault insisted that the supervisory commission should be "authentically neutral and authentically international."

He declared a commission made up of only two Communist and two nonCommunist nations would be automatically condemned to frustration.

Russia previously had proposed that the policing organization be composed of representatives of India, Pakistan, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Bidault had been ready to ask the conference to hand responsibility for policing a cease-fire to neutral countries of Asia.

But the debate bogged down over the definition of a neutral nation and Bidault did not introduce the idea, supported by both the United States and Britain.

Democrats Fail To Stop Probe Of Foundations

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Democratic subcommittee members, protesting that witnesses have given not facts but "sworn opinions," tried and failed today to suspend a House investigation of tax-exempt foundations.

The hearings, stormy since they started nearly a month ago, brought a gavel-pounding exchange today between Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) and Chairman Reece (R-Tenn), who charged that the Ohioan had "cast slurs at this chairman."

Rep. Pfost Starts Exchange

The exchange started with a motion by Rep. Pfost (D-Idaho) for an adjournment "until the whole committee has been thoroughly briefed as to the nature of this inquiry." She described it as "a very unsatisfactory use of my time and waste of the taxpayers' money."

She was supported by Hays but was defeated by the votes of Reece and Rep. Goodwin (R-Mass) and a proxy vote cast by Reece for the absent Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich).

Reece contended the hearings have followed "a very logical procedure" and are "entirely objective."

"I am not representing any cause, any side, and look on this inquiry not as an investigation of foundations but the activities of the foundations," she said.

Reece Loses His Temper

Replied Hays: "I believe you believe that's what it is—a study to get some facts—but up to now we've heard witnesses give us nothing but opinions—sworn opinions."

Tuen, referring to testimony from two educators given two weeks ago, Hays added "I don't want to spring a trap on anybody, but. . ."

Reece lost his temper and banged his gavel forcibly at that point, charging Hays with slurring him and declaring that "from now on this committee will be conducted by the rules."

Child Is Seriously Burned In Hospital Oxygen Tent Fire

KENOSHA, Wis., June 2 (AP) — Fire broke out in an oxygen tent in the children's ward of Kenosha Hospital today, seriously burning one young patient. Ten of 15 other children were quickly evacuated. The fire was confined to one large room.

The blaze originated in the crib in which 15-months-old Harry Gordon was undergoing treatment for bronchial pneumonia. The child was seared on the legs, side and face. None of the other youngsters in the third floor pediatrics ward was injured.

Doctors, nurses, police and firemen hastily evacuated the other children and the fire was confined to the one crib in which the oxygen tent was being used. The danger of the other patients was from sulphur dioxide fumes, authorities said.

Massive French Air Blows Smash Vietminh Bases

HANOI, Indochina, June 2 (AP)—Massive air attacks today destroyed an entire string of rebel bases only 12 miles from Hanoi used as springboards for slashing the vital rail-highway link with the seaport city of Haiphong.

This was announced by the French high command, which said 30 fighters and 20 bombers blew up huge arms depots hidden by the Communist-led Vietminh in villages they occupied near the highway.

Rebel Attack Repulsed

Haiphong is the main port for receiving American military equipment for the Indochina War effort. Portions of the road and rail link with Hanoi are blown up almost every night by the rebels and repaired in daylight by French army engineers.

Last night Vietnamese troops beat off another attempt by the rebels to overwhelm the defense post of Chonoi near Hung Yen, 30 miles southeast of Hanoi. It was the fifth consecutive night attack on the post in the southeast region of the delta, where the French have been bolstering their forces.

French planes gave close support to the Vietnamese while arms, ammunition and food were dropped to the defenders.

Wounded Reds To Be Freed

A high command spokesman said otherwise the situation in the delta today was calm. Five Vietminh were reported killed and 18 captured in minor mopups.

The high command announced that in accordance with an agreement reached at Geneva, 575 rebel wounded and sick prisoners will be released within five days as a reciprocal measure for the freeing of 858 French Union wounded and 27 medical men from fallen Dien Bien Phu.

Fatal Explosion In Sub Probed

PORTSMOUTH, N.H., June 2 (AP)—Overhaul of the submarine Sirago continued today despite a pre-dawn explosion in her main ballast tank which claimed the lives of two civilian painters and seriously burned a sailor.

A Board of Inquiry was convened this afternoon by Rear Adm. Charles B. Momson, commandant of 1st Naval District. Named as senior member of the board was Capt. Charles A. Ferriter, USN, president of the 1st Naval District General Court-Martial Board.

The other two members include Comdr. George S. Watkins, USN, asst. medical officer at the Portsmouth base hospital, and Lt. (JG) Richard D. Leggat, USNR, member of the general court-martial board for the district.

Killed in the blast that swept through the heart of the sub as she lay in drydock were Joseph E. A. Rousseau, 40, of Portsmouth, and Raoul Senechel, 28, of Somersworth. The men were spraying the interior of the vessel's main ballast tank with a plastic substance when the blast occurred.

L. A. Official Reported Cool To Heading TVA

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower reportedly has explored the possibility of offering the chairmanship of the Tennessee Valley Authority to Samuel B. Morris, general manager and chief engineer of the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power.

A government source who asked not to be named said, however, that Morris has made it pretty plain to Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's top aide, that he would not be interested in the job.

The President is looking for a successor to Gordon R. Clapp as TVA chairman. Clapp's term expired on May 18 and Eisenhower did not reappoint him.

VFW Urges Red Ban

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars urged a House Judiciary subcommittee today to approve legislation outlawing the Communist party or other groups advocating violent overthrow of the government.

Missing Person Case Was Cinch

OMAHA, June 2 (AP)—Sgt. Leroy Bessler is one of the Omaha policemen assigned to the job of finding missing persons.

Recently, Sgt. Bessler opened a letter from Harold Bessler of Pontiac, Mich., asking for help in finding a brother he hadn't seen in 32 years.

"All I know," wrote Harold, "is that he is believed to be in Omaha and his name is Leroy Bessler."

That was an easy case for Sgt. Bessler and when brother Harold flew here for a reunion he brought along sister Mrs. M. C. Houghton of Detroit. Sgt. Bessler hadn't seen his sister in 32 years either.

Russia And India Oppose Weighing Thai Appeal Now

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 2 (AP)—The Soviet Union and India today opposed early Security Council debate on a Thailand appeal for peace observers to watch the war crisis in Southeast Asia. Both took the view it would hinder the Geneva negotiations on Indochina.

Diplomatic sources here reported the Soviet opposition. An authoritative source in New Delhi disclosed the stand of Prime Minister Nehru's government. The Soviet Union is a member of the Security Council; India is not.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. delegate who is president of the Security Council during June, was said to have been informed yesterday of the Soviet Union opposition to a council meeting this week. The Russians asked that the council be called into session next week in order for Acting Permanent Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin to obtain instructions from Moscow.

Lodge, however, had the approval of the majority of the council for the meeting and called it for tomorrow.

Tito Welcomed To Greek Capital

ATHENS, Greece, June 2 (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia entered Athens today for a five day state visit expected to pave the way for a historic three nation Balkan military alliance.

King Paul I accompanied Tito into the Greek capital. Cannon fired two 21 gun salutes, planes zoomed in special formation and thousands cheered along the line of march.

Chief purpose of the visit is to promote the Greek-Yugoslav-Turkish friendship pact into a full-fledged military alliance. Press reports said Tito may delay his departure in order to hold three-way talks on the subject when Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes passes through Athens Monday on his return from the United States.

King Paul boarded Tito's yacht shortly after its arrival at Piraeus, Athens' port.

Three Boys Killed In Car Smashup

MITCHELLVILLE, Md., June 2 (AP)—Three Washington-area teenage boys were killed and two others were injured near here today when their car clipped a halted truck and then hurtled 300 feet off the new Washington-Annapolis Expressway, police reported.

Pvt. Lawrence Wheeler, of the Prince Georges County police accident investigation unit, gave the details of the accident. He said the late model convertible was "apparently traveling at a high rate of speed" when it left the road.

Wheeler said the car was going toward Annapolis when it collided with the rear of a stake body truck he said had stopped to make a U-turn near the Prince Georges-Anne Arundel County line. The convertible, he said, then careened off the right shoulder, down an enbankment and through a grove of trees before stopping about 300 feet away from the point it left the expressway.

Wheeler identified the dead as:

Milton C. Lawson, 19, of Mt. Rainier, Md., driver of the car.

David Sidney Harris, 18, of Washington, who was thrown 35 feet from the demolished car.

Key Block Of 800,000 Votes Won By Young In NYC Fight

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Robert R. Young today won a key 800,000 votes in his battle for control of the New York Central Railroad system.

Election inspectors tallying proxies in Albany rejected a management challenge of the validity of the huge block of shares cast by supporters of Young.

At Albany, a spokesman for Young cheered the decision, declaring that for "all practical purposes" the election was "over and done with." But Central President William White promptly declared management will continue its legal fight to block the counting of the shares.

Meanwhile, the laborious count of votes went on in an Albany hotel room. Election inspectors have made no announcement other than today's statement on the challenged shares. The annual meeting, which started with a stormy session last Wednesday, will resume Tuesday noon at the office of the railroad's secretary in Albany. Whether the tally will have been completed by then was not known.

Young claimed at the meeting Wednesday that, with the 800,000 shares, his side had cast 3½ million votes—more than half of the 6,447,410 shares outstanding.

The controversial block of shares, the biggest outstanding, was purchased by Clint W. Murchison and Sid W. Richardson, Texas friends of Young, from the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, Young's former railroad. The stock had been held in trusteeship by the Chase National Bank of New York, and the Central contended that the bank had no right to appoint a proxy for voting the shares at the annual meeting.

6,600 WE Workers Receive Pay Boost

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Western Electric Co. announced tonight a new one year wage agreement giving a five to seven cents an hour pay increase to 6,600 workers in 29 major cities.

A company spokesman said the new agreement is subject to ratification by members of the Workers Union, District 11 of the CIO Communications Workers of America. Workers covered in the new agreement are equipment distributors.

The union has estimated the present average hourly pay at $1.80.

DAV Cleared Of Any Fund Irregularities

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The House Veterans' Committee today cleared the Disabled American Veterans of any fund-raising irregularities but said a separate organization not directly under control of DAV national officers had made "unauthorized use of names of prominent persons" in some fund-raising campaigns.

The committee approved a report of a special subcommittee which was set up recently to investigate reports that the DAV had "violated their public trust by improper expenditure of funds."

The committee said the DAV's only fund-raising activity, the sale of miniature automobile license tags, "is well-managed, profitable, and renders a real service" to veterans and automobile owners.

Navy Flies Vertical Rising Plane In Dirigible Hangar

MOFFETT FIELD, Calif., June 2 (AP)—An airplane took off vertically from the floor of a huge dirigible hangar and flew straight up today in the first public demonstration of a strange new aircraft fostered by the Navy.

With a veteran test pilot at the controls and lying on his back, the powerful craft swayed and maneuvered in the canyon-like building for about 12 minutes.

This craft is the Navy's Convair XFY1. This was its nineteenth flight. The others have been made privately.

The great hangar, which used to house Navy dirigibles, was chosen for the historic showing because of its enormous size, which gave the plane enough room to maneuver as well as facilities for anchoring safety leashes.

The XFY1 was designed for vertical takeoff and horizontal flying. Thus far it has not been put into horizontal position during flight. Gradually it will be freed from its leashes until horizontal takeoff and level flight are achieved.

Many of the plane's specifications are secret. Its rated speed is 500 m.p.h. It has two 16-foot propellers which revolve in opposite directions. The counter-rotation prevents the plane from spinning. It has no landing gear; only caster-like wheels at the rear of its wing-tips and rudder assembly. Its normal position aground is nose-up.

The plane was built with the idea of having a fighter which could take off and land on the deck of a cargo ship. An engine which develops three horsepower per pound of weight made the vertical flight idea feasible.

Ike Declines Comment On Oppenheimer Case

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower, pointing out that the case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer is not closed, declined today to comment on a special board's finding that the famous physicist is a security risk.

The President was asked at his news conference whether he had anything to say about the board's 2-1 verdict that Oppenheimer, while a "loyal citizen," should nevertheless be barred from the atomic secrets he helped discover.

Eisenhower pointed out that the Oppenheimer case is going through a quasi-judicial process set up by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Until they have finished that completely, the President said, he doesn't think he will have anything to say.

Oppenheimer took the same attidue in Princeton, N. J., where he heads the Institute for Advanced Study. Met by a reporter as he came to his office today, Oppenheimer said:

"I know you are here for a comment. I have said this thing is not properly adjudicated yet. I have told the public all about it before, and I have nothing more to say now."

Earlier the scientist's secretary, Mrs. Katherine Russell, said that Oppenheimer felt that since he had made public the board's ruling the next move was up the AEC.

Oppenheimer's attorneys have asked that the customary review by the AEC's Personnel Security Board be waived and that the commission itself give the board's findings its "immediate consideration."

Oppenheimer, a thin, chain-smoking man of 50, was in charge of the A-bomb development program at Los Alamos, N. M., in 1942. He probably carries as much atomic information in his head as any man alive.

Until he was suspended at Eisenhower's direction last Dec. 23, he was a member of the President's Science Advisory Committee, a consultant to the AEC and adviser to the State and Defense Departments and the National Security Council.

Former Marine Pilot South Dakota Victor

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., June 2 (AP)—Joe Foss, handsome ex-Marine pilot who downed 26 enemy planes over Guadalcanal during World War II, tonight appeared virtually certain to become South Dakota's sixth successive Republican governor since 1936.

With 1,756 of 1,962 precincts tabulated unofficially, Foss had 53,175, well over the combined total of his two opponents in the GOP primary Tuesday.

The Democrats in this strongly Republican state mustered a total vote of only about 29,000, or some 5,500 less than at a primary two years ago, when delegates to the National Democratic Convention were also named.

Costello Leads Irish

DUBLIN, Ireland, June 2 (AP)—Attorney John A. Costello, leader of the Fine Gael (United Ireland) party, was formally chosen tonight as the Irish Republic's new prime minister, succeeding New York-born Eamon De Valera.

Costello—backed by a four-party coalition—won 79-66 in the balloting in the New Dail (Parliament).

Port Authority Urged By Byrd

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP)—H. C. Byrd, Democratic candidate for the gubernatorial nomination tonight called for a State Port authority with adequate jurisdiction both within the limits of Baltimore City and elsewhere.

Byrd told a Towson audience all of the surveys which have been made concerning Baltimore's harbor recommend a single agency or authority to promote the harbor's advantages.

He noted that Philadelphia is now spending $400,000 a year to promote and advertise its port and that Hampton Roads is spending $350,000 every two years for promotion of its port.

He said the taxpayers of Baltimore have already contributed $25,000 for a survey and the taxpayers of Maryland have contributed a similar amount.

He said he would recommend appropriate legislation to carry out such development.

George P. Mahoney, Byrd's rival for the nomination, announced appointment of Philip Heller Sacks, Baltimore attorney, as chairman of his campaign finance committee.

"I know Mr. Mahoney will give the people of Maryland an efficient, businesslike government, responsive to the will of the people," he said. "I urge every independent Democrat to support his candidacy."

House Group Votes To Extend GI Bill

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The House Veterans Committee today approved a two-year extension of the Korean GI "Bill of Rights."

The committee gave its okay to a bill giving men who entered the armed forces after the start of hostilities in Korea up to four years after their discharge to apply for government educational and other benefits provided in the bill.

Chile President Forces His Cabinet To Resign

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 2 (AP)—President Gen. Carlos Ibanez forced the resignation of his entire Cabinet today in order to have a free hand in fighting inflation which has threatened to wreck the nation's economy.

The President asked for and got the resignations during an hour-long Cabinet meeting during which he made it clear efforts thus far to stop inflation had met with only mediocre success.

Hunger Strike Voted

SINGAPORE, June 2 (AP)—Five hundred Chinese high school students voted tonight to go on a hunger strike until they win exemption from Army registration in this British colony.

Senator Asked

McCarthy is serving his own purposes—and is not really concerned about getting quick action—in his frequent references to 130 Communists in vital defense plants.

McCarthy has called repeatedly for a quick end to the present hearings so he can start a full investigation of the 130.

Welch, in beseeching tones, asked Cohn to take action "with extreme suddenness."

"I'm in a hurry," he said, "I don't want the sun to go down without getting them out of the defense plants."

"Will you not," he asked Cohn, who was all but speechless under the elderly lawyer's torrent of words, "before the sun goes down give those names to the FBI so that the individuals may at least be put under surveillance?"

Cohn had an answer: He said it's not enough for the FBI to report the existence of subversives—the Defense Department can't force defense plants to fire suspected workers, and the plants themselves won't fire such employes until hearings have been held and the workers have incriminated themselves or refused to testify.

Symington Makes Motion

Cohn said at one point experience has shown that not much besides "double talk" results when the Defense Department gets information on which it should act.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo), a wealthy industrialist and secretary of the Air Force before he came a senator, declared it was "incredible" that Defense Secretary Wilson—former head of General Motors—wouldn't or couldn't get rid of known security risks in a hurry.

Symington made a formal motion that the names of the 130 be turned over to Wilson at once.

McCarthy blocked that, though. He is chairman of the regular Investigating subcommittee. He has the names. And he proposed instead that the regular group start hearings evenings and Saturdays while the special committee is holding sessions during the day.

Symington came back with the motion finally adopted—that the special committee recommend to the regular committee that the names be turned over to the Pentagon.

Welch had been waiting for a long time to cross-examine Cohn, and when the chance came the Boston lawyer dropped his courtly manner as if it had been a cloak and took after the usually brisk young Cohn like an irascible colonel chewing out a balky private.

Cohn "Sets Record Straight"

It was "silly," Welch maintained, to suggest—as Cohn did suggest—that these hearings would have been necessary even if there had been no G. David Schine on the subcommittee staff and if Cohn hadn't tried, in the first place, to get Schine a commission in the Army.

"Do you think," Welch demanded, "That you and I were destined by fate to sit across from each other in this room?"

"It's a little difficult for me to answer your question," Cohn replied, keeping his composure although his temper obviously was rising.

Welch wanted to know who gave Schine his orders when the young New Yorker was a subcommittee consultant. Cohn said over-all orders were given by McCarthy. Welch insisted on a more specific answer.

"Are you trying to tell me," he inquired, with heavy irony, "That everybody just romps around on his own?"

Before Cohn replied, Welch shot a couple of similar questions at him, and the witness insisted he was going to set the record straight so Welch could not "cast a reflection" on the subcommittee staff.

Cohn finally made his point: that staff members are hard-working, competent people who know what they're supposed to do and "don't need a taskmaster."

Shelley Wins Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif., June 2 (AP)—Actress Shelley Winters obtained a divorce today from Italian actor Vittorio Gassman after testifying that he told her many times he was "temperamentally unsuited for marriage."

Middies Receive Awards; Two Ousted For Marrying

ANNAPOLIS, June 2 (AP) — June Week reached a pre-graduation zenith today for 39 midshipmen who marched to the front of the brigade to reap rewards for demonstrating brain power and officer-like qualities.

But for two others the term-end festival went sour. The Navy ousted them for breaking one of the strickest rules of all—getting married before graduation.

John Dempsey Raiford, 24, of E. St. Louis, Ill., will be allowed to receive a certificate of graduation, instead of a diploma, at Friday's commencement. But then he will be discharged.

Raiford would have been the fourth Negro commissioned at Annapolis. The Academy said Secretary of the Navy Thomas authorized the certificate only "in view of special circumstances surrounding his marriage and annulment."

The middie reportedly wed before he entered the Academy, but later had the marriage voided. For that reason he contended the situation in violation of regulations never existed.

The penalty was more severe for John Peter Koonce, 22, of Laguna Beach, Calif. He was dismissed from the service today. An Academy spokesman said Koonce had signed papers last year indicating he was single, but under questioning later admitted he married at Jackson, N. C., in 1952.

Koonce is the son of Marine Col. Allen Clark Koonce and had been slated for a commission in the Marine Corps.

Maiden names of both wives involved were not divulged.

Ike Declines Comment On Oppenheimer Case

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower, pointing out that the case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer is not closed, declined today to comment on a special board's finding that the famous physicist is a security risk.

The President was asked at his news conference whether he had anything to say about the board's 2-1 verdict that Oppenheimer, while a "loyal citizen," should nevertheless be barred from the atomic secrets he helped discover.

Former Marine Pilot South Dakota Victor

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., June 2 (AP)—Joe Foss, handsome ex-Marine pilot who downed 26 enemy planes over Guadalcanal during World War II, tonight appeared virtually certain to become South Dakota's sixth successive Republican governor since 1936.

With 1,756 of 1,962 precincts tabulated unofficially, Foss had 53,175, well over the combined total of his two opponents in the GOP primary Tuesday.

The Democrats in this strongly Republican state mustered a total vote of only about 29,000, or some 5,500 less than at a primary two years ago, when delegates to the National Democratic Convention were also named.

Costello Leads Irish

DUBLIN, Ireland, June 2 (AP)—Attorney John A. Costello, leader of the Fine Gael (United Ireland) party, was formally chosen tonight as the Irish Republic's new prime minister, succeeding New York-born Eamon De Valera.

Costello—backed by a four-party coalition—won 79-66 in the balloting in the New Dail (Parliament).

Port Authority Urged By Byrd

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP)—H. C. Byrd, Democratic candidate for the gubernatorial nomination tonight called for a State Port authority with adequate jurisdiction both within the limits of Baltimore City and elsewhere.

Byrd told a Towson audience all of the surveys which have been made concerning Baltimore's harbor recommend a single agency or authority to promote the harbor's advantages.

He noted that Philadelphia is now spending $400,000 a year to promote and advertise its port and that Hampton Roads is spending $350,000 every two years for promotion of its port.

He said the taxpayers of Baltimore have already contributed $25,000 for a survey and the taxpayers of Maryland have contributed a similar amount.

He said he would recommend appropriate legislation to carry out such development.

George P. Mahoney, Byrd's rival for the nomination, announced appointment of Philip Heller Sacks, Baltimore attorney, as chairman of his campaign finance committee.

"I know Mr. Mahoney will give the people of Maryland an efficient, businesslike government, responsive to the will of the people," he said. "I urge every independent Democrat to support his candidacy."

House Group Votes To Extend GI Bill

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The House Veterans Committee today approved a two-year extension of the Korean GI "Bill of Rights."

The committee gave its okay to a bill giving men who entered the armed forces after the start of hostilities in Korea up to four years after their discharge to apply for government educational and other benefits provided in the bill.

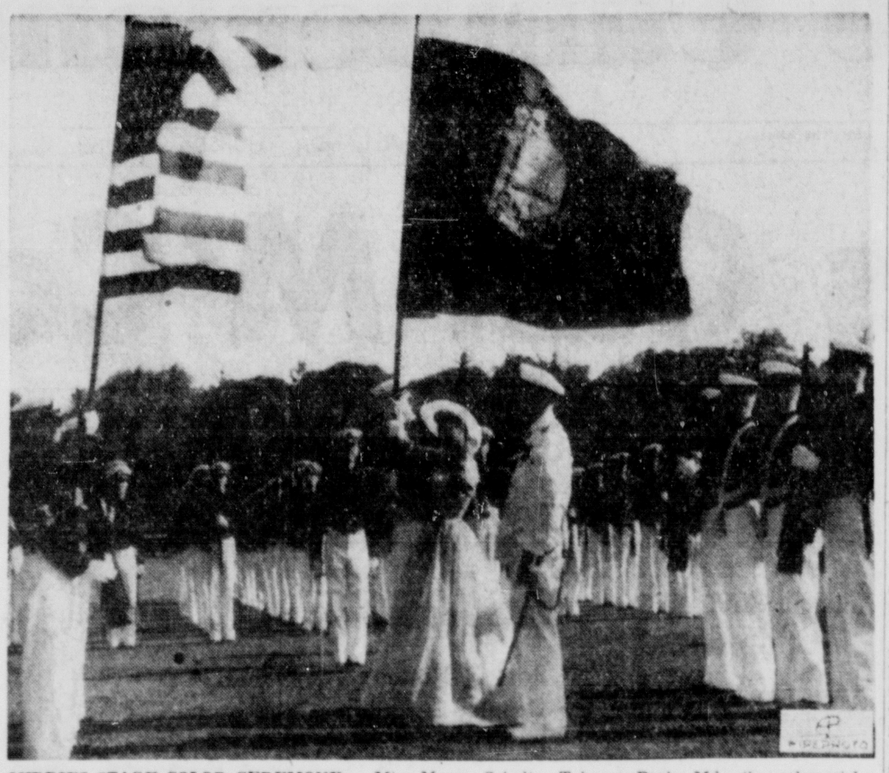

Chile President Forces His Cabinet To Resign

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 2 (AP)—President Gen. Carlos Ibanez forced the resignation of his entire Cabinet today in order to have a free hand in fighting inflation which has threatened to wreck the nation's economy.

The President asked for and got the resignations during an hour-long Cabinet meeting during which he made it clear efforts thus far to stop inflation had met with only mediocre success.

Hunger Strike Voted

SINGAPORE, June 2 (AP)—Five hundred Chinese high school students voted tonight to go on a hunger strike until they win exemption from Army registration in this British colony.

Senator Asked

McCarthy is serving his own purposes—and is not really concerned about getting quick action—in his frequent references to 130 Communists in vital defense plants.

McCarthy has called repeatedly for a quick end to the present hearings so he can start a full investigation of the 130.

Welch, in beseeching tones, asked Cohn to take action "with extreme suddenness."

"I'm in a hurry," he said. "I don't want the sun to go down without getting them out of the defense plants."

"Will you not," he asked Cohn, who was all but speechless under the elderly lawyer's torrent of words, "before the sun goes down give those names to the FBI so that the individuals may at least be put under surveillance?"

Cohn had an answer: He said it's not enough for the FBI to report the existence of subversives—the Defense Department can't force defense plants to fire suspected workers, and the plants themselves won't fire such employes until hearings have been held and the workers have incriminated themselves or refused to testify.

Symington Makes Motion

Cohn said at one point experience has shown that not much besides "double talk" results when the Defense Department gets information on which it should act.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo), a wealthy industrialist and secretary of the Air Force before he came a senator, declared it was "incredible" that Defense Secretary Wilson—former head of General Motors—wouldn't or couldn't get rid of known security risks in a hurry.

Symington made a formal motion that the names of the 130 be turned over to Wilson at once.

McCarthy blocked that, though. He is chairman of the regular Investigating subcommittee. He has the names. And he proposed instead that the regular group start hearings evenings and Saturdays while the special committee is holding sessions during the day.

Symington came back with the motion finally adopted—that the special committee recommend to the regular committee that the names be turned over to the Pentagon.

Welch had been waiting for a long time to cross-examine Cohn, and when the chance came the Boston lawyer dropped his courtly manner as if it had been a cloak and took after the usually brisk young Cohn like an irascible colonel chewing out a balky private.

Cohn "Sets Record Straight"

It was "silly," Welch maintained, to suggest—as Cohn did suggest—that these hearings would have been necessary even if there had been no G. David Schine on the subcommittee staff and if Cohn hadn't tried, in the first place, to get Schine a commission in the Army.

"Do you think," Welch demanded, "That you and I were destined by fate to sit across from each other in this room?"

"It's a little difficult for me to answer your question," Cohn replied, keeping his composure although his temper obviously was rising.

Welch wanted to know who gave Schine his orders when the young New Yorker was a subcommittee consultant. Cohn said over-all orders were given by McCarthy. Welch insisted on a more specific answer.

"Are you trying to tell me," he inquired, with heavy irony, "That everybody just romps around on his own?"

Before Cohn replied, Welch shot a couple of similar questions at him, and the witness insisted he was going to set the record straight so Welch could not "cast a reflection" on the subcommittee staff.

Cohn finally made his point: that staff members are hard-working, competent people who know what they're supposed to do and "don't need a taskmaster."

Shelley Wins Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif., June 2 (AP)—Actress Shelley Winters obtained a divorce today from Italian actor Vittorio Gassman after testifying that he told her many times he was "temperamentally unsuited for marriage."

Middies Receive Awards; Two Ousted For Marrying

ANNAPOLIS, June 2 (AP) — June Week reached a pre-graduation zenith today for 39 midshipmen who marched to the front of the brigade to reap rewards for demonstrating brain power and officer-like qualities.

But for two others the term-end festival went sour. The Navy ousted them for breaking one of the strickest rules of all—getting married before graduation.

John Dempsey Raiford, 24, of E. St. Louis, Ill., will be allowed to receive a certificate of graduation, instead of a diploma, at Friday's commencement. But then he will be discharged.

Raiford would have been the fourth Negro commissioned at Annapolis. The Academy said Secretary of the Navy Thomas authorized the certificate only "in view of special circumstances surrounding his marriage and annulment."

The middie reportedly wed before he entered the Academy, but later had the marriage voided. For that reason he contended the situation in violation of regulations never existed.

The penalty was more severe for John Peter Koonce, 22, of Laguna Beach, Calif. He was dismissed from the service today. An Academy spokesman said Koonce had signed papers last year indicating he was single, but under questioning later admitted he married at Jackson, N. C., in 1952.

Koonce is the son of Marine Col. Allen Clark Koonce and had been slated for a commission in the Marine Corps.

Maiden names of both wives involved were not divulged.

Legislators, SRC Again Defer Any Decision On Toll Highways

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP)—Legislative leaders and the State Roads Commission took up the question of toll highways again today, with any decision put off again until fall.

State Sen. George Della, president of the Senate, complained at one point it is something the commission has been kicking around since 1941.

"What is the position of the Roads Commission?" he asked Russell H. McCain, commission chairman. "How do you feel about it? How do the other two members feel about it?"

McCain declined to take a public stand, either for the commission or himself.

"We are not in a position to make concrete recommendations at this time," he said. "We will have some definite recommendations in the fall."

He agreed with Legislative Council members on an Oct. 1 deadline for the "yes or no" answer.

Replying to a question by Sen. Shehan (D-Talbot) and Del. Marshall (R-Mont), McCain assured the legislators that Maryland's 12-year, 568-million dollar highway overhaul program can be accomplished without imposing tolls.

He said he doubted imposing tolls would speed up the program any.

Estimates show tolls might provide as much as 50 million dollars in extra revenue during the life of the 12-year program, he said. This money might be used to cut down the 330 million in bonds which the State will have to issue to pay for the 12-year program, he suggested.

Or, as an alternative, some of it could be used to reduced the amount of bonds and the rest to provide a "cushion fund" for projects not foreseen when the 12-year plan was drawn up.

There just isn't any road Maryland can build as a completely self-liquidating toll road, McCain said.

There are 13 stretches which might be converted to toll roads and would probably produce enough revenue to pay part of their cost, he said.

He listed as prime possibilities the Washington-Annapolis expressway, the new Washington National Pike between Washington and Frederick, the Eastern Shore expressway from the Chesapeake Bay Bridge to the Delaware state line, and the proposed expressway from Baltimore to the northeast corner of Maryland.

Body Of Sailor Sought In Susquehanna River

CONOWINGO, Md., June 2 (AP)—Searchers were expected to make another attempt tonight or early tomorrow to locate the body of a 19-year-old sailor who disappeared in the Susquehanna River after a boat overturned.

A search early this morning failed to turn up any sign of Charles Laverne Wells or the boat which overturned late yesterday while he and two companions were in it.

The companions, William Franklin Callimore and Edward Eugene McKee, were both rescued.

State Police said the outboard motor on the boat quit and the three sailors tried to row the craft in the swift, water upstream from Conowingo Dam. They were unable to control it and threw out an anchor, causing the boat to overturn.

Briton Seeks Millions In Sunken Treasure

TOBERMORY, Scotland, June 2 (AP)—A wartime British frogman said today he will attempt to recover a Spanish galleon's treasure believed buried in the silt of Tobermory Bay.

One estimate places value of the prize at $68,700,000.

Lt. Cmdr. Lionel Kenneth Crabb has been given special leave by the Admiralty to head the expedition.

The sunken vessel is believed to be the Duque de Florencia, treasure ship of the Spanish Armada.

Bodies Of Two Boys Recovered From Creek

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP) — Bodies of two brothers, missing since they left their home Sunday to pick mulberries, were recovered from Rock Creek today.

The boys were Edward 4, and Joseph 8, sons of Mrs. Josephine Hodge, Negro, who has a family of 13.

Bakery Worker Gets Life In Love Triangle Slaying

HAGERSTOWN, Md., June 2 (AP)—James O. Guessford, 48-year-old bakery worker charged with slaying a Williamsport junk dealer in a love triangle was convicted of first degree murder today and sentenced to life in prison.

A jury of five women and seven men deliberated one hour 45 minutes at the close of the two-day trial. The verdict carried a recommendation "without capital punishment." Circuit Judge Joseph D. Mish immediately sentenced Guessford to spend the rest of his life in the State Penitentiary.

Guessford admitted from the witness stand that he shot 56-year-old John R. (Honest John) Stevens at the latter's home early on the morning of May 7. He said he did it because he was afraid Stevens would kill him.

Police said Stevens was cut down by a blast from a .12 gauge shotgun as he peered onto a darkened porch where the overhead lightbulb had been unscrewed.

Guessford, who had earlier pleaded innocent by reason of insanity, admitted today that he knew what he was doing. A psyciatrist also testified for the State that Guessford was sane.

"New Evidence" Reported On File In Grammer Case

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP) — New evidence was reported on file at Gov. McKeldin's office today in the case of G. Edward Grammer, former New York office manager scheduled to hang next week for the "near perfect" murder of his wife.

The governor has under consideration Grammer's plea for clemency. His case ran the full legal course to the U. S. Supreme Court, which refused to review it.

Aides to the governor confirmed today that additional papers had been sent to him but declined further comment. Grammer's attorney, former judge Joseph Sherbow, also refused to say anything about the move.

Gov. McKeldin was out of town and had not seen the additional information.

It followed a public appeal by Grammer last week for a mysterious taxi driver to "please come forward and identify yourself."

This was the driver, Grammer said, who took him to Pennsylvania Station in the early morning of Aug. 20, 1952, while his wife lay dead or dying in a crashed car at the foot of a Baltimore hill. Police found a pebble lodged beneath the accelerator and the State contended Grammer killed his wife and put her in the car before sending it downhill.

Warm, Dry Weather Boosts State Crops

COLLEGE PARK, Md., June 2 (AP)—Agricultural observers said today crops in Maryland and Delaware got a boost from last week's warmer, drier weather.

In some areas, however, there still was too much moisture to permit adequate field operations.

The crop report put out by state and federal agencies said main activities of the week included:

Ground preparation and planting of corn, soybeans, tobacco, tomatoes, sweetpotatoes, watermelons and cantaloupes; cultivation of corn and vegetable crops; spraying of fruits and harvest of asparagus, peas, spinach and strawberries.

Planting and replanting of corns was reported about 80 per cent complete with earliest fields up a foot. Barley and rye were rapidly maturing; wheat was blooming; potatoes began to bloom in the Pocomoke area.

Presidency Has Frustrations And Compensations, Ike Says

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower, now a third of the way around the presidential course, today told how it feels to hold down what must be the toughest job in the world.

His view: Frustrating, with a lot of inhibitions. The President used the word in the sense of "prohibitions." But, he said, It's still a source of inspiration.

The subject came up when it was pointed out at his news conference that he now has completed a third of his term. Would he like to say whether it has gone the way he thought it would?

Eisenhower grinned, and said he had mentioned before he didn't enter the position with any idea it was going to be a picnic.

But along with the frustration, he said, there was inspiration, from many quarters where you least expect it. Things that were done quietly, he said, but were highly pleasant and inspiring to the President.

Then he turned to an incident of a couple of weeks ago, when he was visited by 18-year-old Sandra Miskelly of Keene, N.H.

Without mentioning her name—he called her a little girl—Eisenhower said she had been knocked out of a visit two years earlier by an attack of polio. Later, he said, in her determination to be able to walk again, she had broken both her legs.

The President didn't mention another detail that came out at the time of her visit. While recovering, she kept up with her classes by telephone, and was graduated as valedictorian.

When you see courage like that, Eisenhower said, you don't feel very sorry for yourself.

After all the squabbling and bickering of the Army-McCarthy hearings, it was a relief to look in on a President who appeared relaxed and at ease.

Eisenhower got a laugh when he asked about a statement that the Democrats were riding on his coattails. That, he said, could be a very dangerous business because when you're riding a man's coattails you don't know where you're going.

One possible reason for his relaxed mood: At the start he had ruled out questions on the hottest issue hereabouts, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

But, even so, he was asked by a reporter if he thought McCarthy was riddling his program on Capitol Hill.

A pained look crossed Eisenhower's face, and there was a pronounced pause.

Next question, the President said, and the news conference, moved on.

Ike Selects Democrat For Golf Companion

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP) — President Eisenhower today selected a Southern Democrat—Sen. Smathers of Florida—for a golf companion at Burning Tree Country Club in nearby Maryland.

Asked whether the President had played golf with any Democrats before, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he had. He added the President likes to "spread around" his golf invitations.

The first United States presidential election returns to be broadcast by radio were those of the Harding-Cox campaign in 1920.

Despite increasing expenditures for education, some 632,000 children will be deprived of full-time schooling for lack of classrooms.

Garbage Collector Who Refuses To Install Telephone Under Fire

ANNAPOLIS, June 2 (AP)—A disgruntled taxpayer, one of Anne Arundel County's oldest citizens, complained yesterday that a garbage collector who receives more than $40,000 a year should at least install a telephone in his home "so we could give him the dickens once in a while."

Capt. Billy Nowell, editor and publisher of an Annapolis weekly, The Great Swamper, told the Board of County Commissioners that Walter Parks, garbage collector for the 7th District, refuses to have a 'phone put in.

"That is grossly unfair," Nowell complained. "After all, we pay that man a good wage to haul our garbage away and I feel we should be able to properly chastise him when he forgets to collect our refuse or bends our containers otherwise arouses our ire."

Commissioner George E. Frank agreed with Capt. Nowell, known locally as the "Sage of Shady Side."

"It is the inherent right of all of us to gripe occasionally," Frank said, "and I think it only fair for Mr. Parks to install a telephone."

Board President Ralph L. Lowman didn't agree. Recalling many phone calls he has received from unhappy taxpayers, Lowman said he thought Parks had the right idea.

"He'll rue the day he ever puts in a telephone," Lowman predicted.

NOTICE: If you have been instructed by your Car Dealer or Owner's Manual to use a "premium" (or "high-test") gasoline, get New High-Test Blue Sunoco, the premium quality gasoline still at regular gas price.

Regular-priced New Blue Sunoco wins miles-per-dollar test by as much as 14%

THE TEST: New Hi-Test Blue Sunoco was tested against 16 premium-priced gasolines at Indianapolis Track. Each day, 16 cars were fueled with $3 worth of gas and driven around the track 'til tanks ran dry. Miles each car went were accurately recorded. The fleet of cars was run on New Hi-Test Blue Sunoco and on all 16 premium-priced gasolines.

THE RESULTS: New Hi-Test Blue Sunoco—at regular gas price—beat them all! It gave up to 14.9% more miles per dollar (average: 10.4%) than premium-priced brands tested. Ask your Sunoco dealer for names of these brands. And test New Blue Sunoco in your car and discover for yourself the difference it makes. See your Sunoco dealer today.

Dien Bien Phu's Medical Officer Freed By Reds

HANOI, Indochina, June 2 (AP)—The doctor who headed the French medics attending the thousands of wounded all through the bloody battle of Dien Bien Phu returned yesterday to Hanoi with 26 of his men.

Maj. Paul Grauwin, chief medical officer of the forces captured by the Communist-led Vietminh at the fallen fortress, said being back here was "too good to be true."

"For 55 days, I never saw the sun," said the doctor "because I and all other medical personnel were constantly working in underground bunkers tending the wounded."

The 27 corpsmen were flown out by helicopter. The Vietminh command at Dien Bien Phu delayed their release yesterday because rebel authorities said the French colonel in charge of the evacuation mission wasn't properly accredited. All 27 reported they were "well treated" by their captors.

Smiling easily, the bespectacled doctor said he and two other physicians, assisted by the lone heroine of Dien Bien Phu, French nurse Lt. Genevieve de Galard Terraube, performed more than 300 emergency operations during the fierce fighting which led to the fall of the fortress May 7.

(The nurse, who had been trapped at Dien Bien Phu since March 28 and was released by the Vietminh last week, arrived today in Paris for a joyous reunion with her mother.)

The Vietminh released a total of 383 wounded French Union soldiers and permitted their evacuation by air.

Alcoholic Enforcement Unit Reports Arrests

ANNAPOLIS, June 2 (AP) — Two more arrests have been reported by Maryland's special Alcoholic Enforcement Unit in its crackdown on illegal whisky operations.

Robert N. Lucke, chief of the enforcement division, said two arrests were made over the weekend.

Thomas Edward Cambell, 82-year-old Pomonokey Negro, is being held under $500 bond in La Plata after arrest in his Charles County home yesterday by division agents and State Police. Lucke said Cambell had nine and a half gallons of whisky in the house. A hearing has been set for June 18 in La Plata. Others are under investigation, Lucke said.

Sidney Jones Slydell, 45, a Pocomoke City Negro, was arrested Saturday and was held in Snow Hill after Lucke said eight fifths of Virginia whisky were found in his possession. His hearing is set for June 5.

Guatemala Plot Arrests

GUATEMALA, June 2 (AP)—Newspapers reported continuing arrests today in the wake of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's declaration there is a widespread plot against his leftist government.

5,000 Priests Put Out Of Service By Chinese Reds In Four Years

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Figures compiled by a Catholic missionary priest indicate that the Chinese Communists have put 5,000 priests out of service in four years—through death, imprisonment or flight.

The Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Bauer, a Maryknoll missionary, is the author of a pamphlet called "The Systematic Destruction of The Catholic Church in China."

The National Catholic Welfare Conference is distributing the pamphlet to government officials, the United Nations and news agencies.

Father Bauer's figures, coupled in many instances with names, list 400 Chinese priests left in service last January out of 2,698 four years earlier. Of the remainder he said 99 are dead and the other 2,199 are scattered and living apart from their churches.

Father Bauer listed 3,015 as the number of foreign priests helping serve in China's Catholic population of 3,276,282 in January, 1950. Nuns of all nationalities totaled 7,644 at that time, he said.

For January, 1954, he totaled 172 foreign priests and 10 foreign brothers, as well as 85 foreign nuns. Out of this total, he said, 71 were in prison.

The drop in the number of Chinese priests was added to the decrease of 2,843 in the number of foreign priests, for a total of 5,141—the number of priests of all nationalities forced out from all causes.

Couple Indicted In Baby's Death

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Olney of Takoma Park, whose 11-week-old son died after being left unattended in their locked and unventilated car, were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury here yesterday on charges of involuntary manslaughter.

The couple moved to Takoma Park early in May from Tennessee and on May 24 drove to the National Institute of Health at Bethesda where Olney, 24, applied for a job.

They left their baby in the locked car on a parking lot at the Institute. Guards noticed the baby in the closed car, forced it open and called the parents. They took their infant son home and later to a hospital where he died.

Olney and his 23-year-old wife, Eudora Ruth, were arrested the next day by FBI agents since the incident occurred on federal property.

Olney said he had no idea it was so warm when they left the baby in the car.

Shepherdstown Elects Johnson

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W. Va., June 2 (AP)—Edward Johnson, automobile distributor running for mayor, and the entire People's Ticket swept to victory in Shepherdstown's biennial election yesterday.

The vote, described as very large, closely adhered to party lines as the Peoples Ticket candidates won the mayor and recorder's offices and all five council seats from the Citizens Ticket, composed mostly of incumbent officials.

Johnson polled 220 votes for mayor to 167 for the Rev. John W. Link, retired minister and member of the council seeking the town's top post.

Mayor George S. Hill, completing his second 2-year term, lost his bid for a council seat along with the other four council candidates on the Citizens Ticket.

A. T. Clay was elected recorder with 220 votes, to 149 for the Rev. E. Frank Shrader.

Councilmen elected were Cletus D. Lowe, C. S. Musser, Mrs. Gertrude Baechtel, M. M. Athey and Boyd Widmyer.

Porfirio, Zsa Zsa In N. J.

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Porfirio Rubirosa, accompanied by Zsa Zsa Gabor, disembarked from his plane shortly after noon today and commented to reporters:

"It is unfair to come out to meet us so early in the morning."

The actress and the estranged husband of heiress Barbara Hutton flew in from California. They said they intended to go to Paris, maybe tomorrow. After Paris, they will go back to California.

DEATHS AND FUNERAL NOTICES

WASHINGTON SERVICES

PIEDMONT — Services for Saul Washington, 66, of 1 Paxton Street, who died at his residence Saturday were held at the Walden Methodist Church, Tuesday.

Rev. Joseph Tisdale, pastor, was assisted by Rev. William R. Berry, pastor of the Piedmont First Baptist Church and Rev. Melvin Washington, a Methodist minister. Burial was in Thorn Rose Cemetery, Keyser.

Pallbearers included James Walker, Herman Thompson, Nathaniel Green, Luther Clay, Edward Twyman, Earl Allen, Marshall Taylor, James Coleman and Phillip Cole.

MRS. IRVING MEESE

WESTERNPORT — Mrs. Clara Viola Meese, 43, wife of Irving Meese, Akron, died Tuesday in Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, where she had been a patient a day.

Born at Shaft, she was a daughter of Clyde Plummer and the late Bettie (Winebrenner) Plummer. Mrs. Meese had resided in Lonaconing most of her life, having moved to Akron only three years ago.

Surviving, besides her husband and father, are three daughters, Mrs. Lawrence Austin Jr., and Misses Marion and Clare Meese, all of Akron; four brothers, William and George Plummer, both of Frostburg, and Louis and James Plummer, both of Cumberland and a sister, Mrs. Ervin Baker, Hancock.

The body is at the Boal Funeral Home where services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. Rev. C. H Goshorn, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Lonaconing, will officiate and interment will be in Oak Hill Cemetery, Lonaconing.

C. DONALD DAWSON

WESTERNPORT — Charles Donald Dawson, 54, son of Mrs. Julia Dawson, Maryland Avenue, and the late John E. Dawson, died Tuesday shortly after being admitted to a Baltimore hospital.

Employed on a farm near Baltimore for the past year, Mr Dawson suffered a heart attack yesterday while working in the field. A native of Piedmont, he was a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Westernport, and had attended St. Peter's School. Mr. Dawson had served an enlistment in the Navy in his younger years.

Surviving, besides his mother, are two brothers, Robert Dawson, Barton, and Eugene Dawson, Midland, and two sisters, Mrs. Anna R Hartman, Westernport, and Mrs. Mary G. Lewis, Piedmont.

The body is at the Boal Funeral Home. A requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow at 9 a. m. at St. Peter's Church and interment will be in the parish cemetery.

DROPPLEMAN SERVICE

KEYSER — The requiem mass for John Joseph Droppleman, Jr., 42, who died Sunday in the Potomac Valley Hospital, was celebrated yesterday morning in the Church of the Conception at Kitzmiller. Rev. Henry Stragisher, pastor, was celebrant. Burial was in Nethkin Hill Cemetery at Elk Garden.

Thank You INDEPENDENT Voters

There is an old axiom in politics that it is hard to defeat a man who has done nothing, but that the more one attempts to do, the more targets he opens up for attack.

The HANDWRITING IS ON THE WALL that the progress we have made the past four years is doomed, Cumberland will revert, unless we who want a good clean city ignore the insidious rumors and campaigns of lies and begin today to muster forces to assure success in the election June 15th.

Rev. Joseph Tisdale, pastor, was assisted by Rev. William R. Berry, pastor of the Piedmont First Baptist Church and Rev. Melvin Washington, a Methodist minister. Burial was in Thorn Rose Cemetery, Keyser.

Pallbearers included James Walker, Herman Thompson, Nathaniel Green, Luther Clay, Edward Twyman, Earl Allen, Marshall Taylor, James Coleman and Phillip Cole.

MRS. IRVING MEESE

WESTERNPORT — Mrs. Clara Viola Meese, 43, wife of Irving Meese, Akron, died Tuesday in Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, where she had been a patient a day.

Born at Shaft, she was a daughter of Clyde Plummer and the late Bettie (Winebrenner) Plummer. Mrs. Meese had resided in Lonaconing most of her life, having moved to Akron only three years ago.

Surviving, besides her husband and father, are three daughters, Mrs. Lawrence Austin Jr., and Misses Marion and Clare Meese, all of Akron; four brothers, William and George Plummer, both of Frostburg, and Louis and James Plummer, both of Cumberland and a sister, Mrs. Ervin Baker, Hancock.

The body is at the Boal Funeral Home where services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. Rev. C. H Goshorn, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Lonaconing, will officiate and interment will be in Oak Hill Cemetery, Lonaconing.

C. DONALD DAWSON

WESTERNPORT — Charles Donald Dawson, 54, son of Mrs. Julia Dawson, Maryland Avenue, and the late John E. Dawson, died Tuesday shortly after being admitted to a Baltimore hospital.

Employed on a farm near Baltimore for the past year, Mr. Dawson suffered a heart attack yesterday while working in the field. A native of Piedmont, he was a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Westernport, and had attended St. Peter's School. Mr. Dawson had served an enlistment in the Navy in his younger years.

Surviving, besides his mother, are two brothers, Robert Dawson, Barton, and Eugene Dawson, Midland, and two sisters, Mrs. Anna R Hartman, Westernport, and Mrs. Mary G. Lewis, Piedmont.

The body is at the Boal Funeral Home. A requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow at 9 a. m., at St. Peter's Church and interment will be in the parish cemetery.

DROPPLEMAN SERVICE

KEYSER — The requiem mass for John Joseph Droppleman, Jr., 42, who died Sunday in the Potomac Valley Hospital, was celebrated yesterday morning in the Church of the Conception at Kitzmiller. Rev. Henry Stragisher, pastor, was celebrant. Burial was in Nethkin Hill Cemetery at Elk Garden.

Pallbearers were Arnett Swisher, Varce Reed, Huber Norman, George Dick, Lee Temple and George Harding.

Honorary pallbearers were Earl Pritts, Chelsia Liller, Erving Stienela, Edward Cross, Ralph Calendrella, James Strickler, Wallace Close, Arnold Childers, John Mullens, Charles McIntyre, Paul Kalbrugh, Ray Rielli, Earl Pritts, Jack Foreman, Gerald Iman, John Fey and George Steiner.

FROSTBURG — Funeral services for Mrs. Sophia Mayer Lammert, who died Tuesday at her home, 106 Maple Street, will be held tomorrow, 2 p. m., at the residence with Rev. William J. Yingling, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church officiating. Burial will be in the Zion Evangelical and Reformed Cemetery, Mt. Pleasant Street.

WILLIAM S. LOWE

William Sylvanus Lowe, husband of Blanche (Wilderman) Lowe, died yesterday morning at his home, 148 North Mechanic Street.

Born in Manchester, England, a son of the late William R. and Clementine (Rawlingston) Lowe, he had been employed by the Celanese Corporation of America for 18 years. Mr. Lowe was a member of Cumberland Aerie 245, FO Eagles.

He came to the United States from England at the age of one year.

Mr. Lowe was affiliated with the textile business and was superintendent and manager of various mills throughout the United States including the Parker Hose Mill of Frostburg and Portsmouth, Va.

He also was manager of the Magnet Knitting Mills of Clinton, Tenn. Mr. Lowe owned and operated a confectionery and variety store at the corner of Market and Mechanic Streets and after the flood of 1936 went to work with the Celanese Corporation.

Surviving, besides his widow, are two sons, William Herbert Lowe, city; Richard S. Lowe, Denver, Colo.; a brother, Thomas H. Lowe, Concord, N. H.

The body is at the George Funeral Home where a service will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. with Rev. Leo Hewitt in charge. Burial will be in St. Michael's Cemetery, Frostburg.

MRS. J. HUBERT WADE

HAGERSTOWN — Mrs. Helen Elizabeth Wade, wife of Dr. J. Hubert Wade, died May 26 at her home in Boonsboro after an illness of nine weeks.

A native of Piedmont, W. Va., Mrs. Wade resided in Boonsboro more than 50 years. Her parents were the late John and Antelles Heck.

JOHN SYMONS

WESTERNPORT — John Symons, 73, of 120 Church Street, was found dead in bed yesterday about 1:15 p. m.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said death was due to natural causes. He was a retired employe of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company having retired five years ago after 25 years service with the company.

A native of Barton, he was a son of the late John Henry and Alice (Michael) Symons. He was a member of Star Council 37, Jr. OUAM, Barton and a social member of Black Hawk Tribe 131, Improved Order of Red Men, here.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Garland Paxton, Mrs. J. Milton Dick, Potomac Park near Cumberland; two sons, H. Emerson Symons, Cumberland, James L. Symons, Akron, Ohio.

Four sisters Mrs. Mary Small, Frostburg; Mrs. Perry Llewellyn, Mrs. Ruth Dye, Mrs. Reginold Kyles, Barton; two brothers, James Symons, here; Edgar Symons, Barton; eight grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The body is at Boal's Funeral Home where a service will be conducted Saturday at 1:30 p. m. with burial in Laurel Hill Cemetery, Moscow.

Former Governor Of Rotary Killed

Floyd Chalfont, Waynesboro, Pa., former governor of Rotary District No. 264, was killed in an auto accident last week in Illinois while en route to Seattle, Wash., where he had planned to attend the Rotary International Convention.

His wife was hospitalized with injuries sustained in the mishap. Mr. Chalfont had been elected governor of the district which includes Cumberland. Because of ill health he had resigned from the office. He was well known to Rotarians in this section.

CLIFFORD P. HUNT

FROSTBURG—A funeral service for Clifford P. Hunt, 70, who died Tuesday at his home, 109 West Main Street, will be conducted today at 4 p. m. in the Hafer Funeral Home here.

Rev. John B. Jones, pastor of First Methodist Church, will officiate and interment will be in Frostburg Memorial Park.

MRS. IRMA G. BURRELL

OAKLAND—Mrs. Irma Gertrude Burrell, 50, wife of the late Kempton Burrell, died in Garrett Memorial Hospital yesterday where she had been a patient for 10 days.

A native of Kitzmiller, she was born, March 21, 1904 and was a daughter of the late Charles and Sarah (Wilson) Hart.

Her husband, who was a state forester, died on February 21 of this year. She was a member of the Deer Park Assembly of God Church.

Surviving are three sons, Eugene Burrell, Sandy Point State Park; Charles Burrell, Mt. Lake Park; Andrew Burrell, with the U. S. Army in Camp Pickett, Va.

Thank You INDEPENDENT Voters

There is an old axiom in politics that it is hard to defeat a man who has done nothing, but that the more one attempts to do, the more targets he opens up for attack.

The HANDWRITING IS ON THE WALL that the progress we have made the past four years is doomed, Cumberland will revert, unless we who want a good clean city ignore the insidious rumors and campaigns of lies and begin today to muster forces to assure success in the election June 15th.

Motorist Fined After Alleged Race In Area

A Cumberland man, involved in an accident on State Route 28 one mile north of Fort Ashby, was fined Monday in Ridgeley on a charge of reckless driving in an alleged race with another motorist.

West Virginia State Police declared Alfred Lee George, 28, of this city, was racing another car when the accident occurred.

Trooper F. H. Tribett arrested George and the driver of the other car in the alleged race, William Paul Adams Jr., 31, of Wiley Ford, yesterday.

Trooper Tribett said the front end of the Adams car caught the rear bumper of the lead auto, operated by George, swerved out of control, hit a telephone pole, knocking out several guard posts, and finally overturned in a field.

The other car veered to the opposite side of the road, its frame badly twisted. George was fined $15.50 by Justice of the Peace C. J. Phillips in Ridgeley. Adams will be given a hearing this afternoon.

Mobile X-Ray Unit Visits Scheduled

Mineral County Tour Arranged

KEYSER — The Mineral County Health Department announced yesterday that an X-ray survey is scheduled for this county during the week of June 14. A mobile X-ray unit will be set up at Ridgeley, Wiley Ford, Fort Ashby, Keyser, Piedmont and Elk Garden.

Most of the stops will be brief, some of them for only a half day. Citizens are urged to take advantage of the unit's visit to the county and make the best possible use of its time.

This will be the first visit of the mobile unit to Mineral County in more than two years and future plans are uncertain. A feature of this year's visit is that an evening session is planned while the unit is in Keyser, probably on Friday, June 18. The unit also plans to operate in Keyser all day on Saturday, June 19.

All food handlers in public places are required to have an annual chest X-ray to qualify them for a foodhandlers permit.

The tentative schedule:

Fort Ashby, Tuesday, June 15, 9 a. m. to 12 noon; Wiley Ford, Tuesday, June 15, 2 to 4 p. m.: Ridgeley, Wednesday, June 16, 9 a. m. to noon; Piedmont, Wednesday, June 16, 2 to 4 p. m. and Thursday, June 17, from 9 a. m. to noon.

Keyser, Thursday, June 17, 2 to 4 p. m., Friday, June 18, hours 9 a. m. to 12 noon; 1 to 4 p. m., and 7 to 8 p. m.

The unit will continue in Keyser on Saturday from 9 a. m. to noon, and 1 to 4 p. m., and Elk Garden, Tuesday, June 22, from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 to 4 p. m.

St. Paul's To Start Matin Service Sunday

FROSTBURG—Effective Sunday, June 6, there will be a matin service at 8:30 a. m., in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Rev. William J. Yingling, pastor, announced that the service will be conducted during the summer months if sufficiently well attended.

Other services will be conducted at the usual time.

Mobile X-Ray Unit Visits Scheduled

Mineral County Tour Arranged

KEYSER — The Mineral County Health Department announced yesterday that an X-ray survey is scheduled for this county during the week of June 14. A mobile X-ray unit will be set up at Ridgeley, Wiley Ford, Fort Ashby, Keyser, Piedmont and Elk Garden.

Most of the stops will be brief, some of them for only a half day. Citizens are urged to take advantage of the unit's visit to the county and make the best possible use of its time.

This will be the first visit of the mobile unit to Mineral County in more than two years and future plans are uncertain. A feature of this year's visit is that an evening session is planned while the unit is in Keyser, probably on Friday, June 18. The unit also plans to operate in Keyser all day on Saturday, June 19.

All food handlers in public places are required to have an annual chest X-ray to qualify them for a foodhandlers permit.

The tentative schedule:

Fort Ashby, Tuesday, June 15, 9 a. m. to 12 noon; Wiley Ford, Tuesday, June 15, 2 to 4 p. m.; Ridgeley, Wednesday, June 16, 9 a. m. to noon; Piedmont, Wednesday, June 16, 2 to 4 p. m. and Thursday, June 17, from 9 a. m. to noon.

Keyser, Thursday, June 17, 2 to 4 p. m., Friday, June 18, hours 9 a. m. to 12 noon; 1 to 4 p. m., and 7 to 8 p. m.

The unit will continue in Keyser on Saturday from 9 a. m. to noon, and 1 to 4 p. m., and Elk Garden, Tuesday, June 22, from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 to 4 p. m.

St. Paul's To Start Matin Service Sunday

FROSTBURG—Effective Sunday, June 6, there will be a matin service at 8:30 a. m., in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Rev. William J. Yingling, pastor, announced that the service will be conducted during the summer months if sufficiently well attended.

Other services will be conducted at the usual time.

Women's Guild Arranges Tea

FROSTBURG — The Women's Guild of Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church met Tuesday evening in the recreation room of the church with Mrs. Marie Lewis, president, presiding. Mrs. Minnie Taylor led the devotions.

The program included a dialogue entitled "The Dimensions of Thankfulness," by Mrs. Ann Storm as guide, and Mrs. Marie Lewis as pilgrim. Mrs. Mary Settle reported on the regional conference of the Women's Guild.

Mrs. Annie Bockes and Mrs. Clara Walbert were selected as delegates to the conference to be held at Hood College in July. A silver tea will be a feature of the July meeting, with Mrs. Edith Brode chairman.

Twenty five members were present and hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Emma Rice, Mrs. Agnes Schneider, Mrs. Ann Storm and Mrs. Genevieve Lapp.

Somerville Heads Keyser Elks Lodge

KEYSER — John F. Somerville, Jr., president of Tiger Tractor Company, Keyser, has been elected to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Exalted Ruler Bruce W. Bradford of Keyser Elks Lodge. Somerville was elected treasurer of the lodge when it was instituted several weeks ago. He has assumed his new duties of exalted ruler.

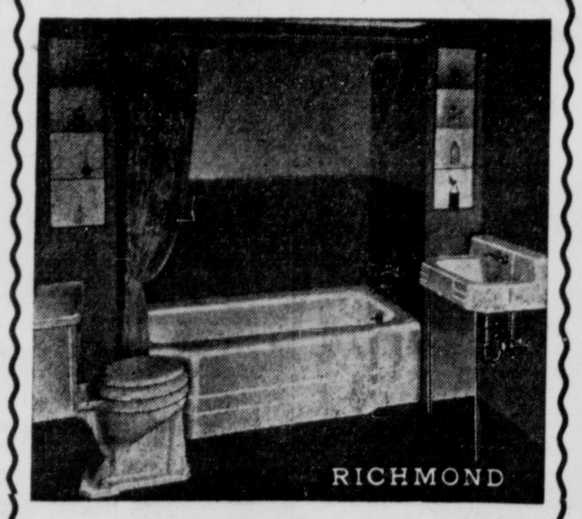

Chester J. Compton, who has been secretary of the lodge since its birth, tendered his resignation, due to pressing business. F. C. Boor, cashier of Farmers and Merchants Bank, will succeed him.

The successor to Somerville as treasurer, will be elected at the next lodge meeting.

Bible School Planned

WESTERNPORT — A Daily Vacation Bible School will be held at the St. James Episcopal Church from July 19 to 30. The school will be supervised by trained workers from the Claggett Center at Frederick.

Surplus Foodstuff From N. J. To Arrive In County Soon

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners were notified yesterday that the first shipment of surplus food from the federal government has been made to this county.

It consists of 32,580 pounds of shortening, which was shipped from Edgewater, N. J. and will arrive in Cumberland by freight car soon. The balance of the food is expected to be shipped in the near future so that distribution to needy families may be started.

Other items which have been alloted to the county includes dried milk, cheese, canned beef and gravy and butter. Lists of persons certified as eligible to receive the food are in the process of being made up. So far, the Associated Charities has taken applications from 284 families with 901 persons, the Salvation Army has listed 230 families of 1,240 individuals. The Welfare Board and Red Cross expected to have their lists compiled within a few days.

Search For Missing Pair Is Cancelled

City police Tuesday "cancelled" a search for Virginia O'Neal, 36, and her brother, Ray Haines, 29, both of Romney, who reportedly have been missing since May 2.

A check with State Police at Romney disclosed West Virginia authorities were not asked to locate the pair, daughter and son of Claude W. Haines of the Hampshire County community.

New Contract Is Approved For Kopper Firm Workers

A two-cent-an-hour increase, added vacation and paid holidays, plus a cost of living wage increase clause were among the new provisions in a contract signed between Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, and the Wood Preserving Division of the Koppers Company.

C. E. Stutzman said the contract will affect over 100 union employes at the Green Spring, W. Va., plant of the firm.

The pact will be in effect for two years with wage reopening negotiations available next June.

The contract will give the workmen six guaranteed paid holidays during a year. Previously, Stutzman said, the employes would not get the benefit of a paid holiday when it fell on Saturday or Sunday.

Three weeks vacation with pay will go to all employes with 15 or more years of service. This affects nearly 70 per cent of the tie preserving plant's personnel, Stutzman commented.

The two-cent an hour wage increase and the cost of living increase clause are other important provisions of the new pact.

J. H. Beade, superintendent of the Wood Preserving Division, represented the company while negotiations were handled for the union by Stutzman, Charles E. Bramble, president, and a committee of the union employes at the plant comprised of J. Clark Alexander, A. W. Keister, Ray Duckworth and Ray Chesshire.

Collins Is Injured In Freak Accident

Lloyd J. Collins, 56, of 157 Polk Street, sustained a leg laceration and a bruised hip early yesterday when he fell into an open manhole in the 100-block North Centre Street. He was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Authorities said the manhole cover had been removed. Police posted a guard until another lid was secured.

Fireworks Display Is Planned Here

The Recreation Department plans to sponsor a second annual fireworks display at Constitution Park July 4 but is seeking financial help for the project.

Robert E. Pence, director, said yesterday he believed such a display a public favorite since fireworks are banned except for a supervised effort such as the one held last year.

The 1953 display cost an estimated $1,000 and was witnessed by approximately 30,000 people in the park and at vantage points through the city.

Fisherman Nabbed

Albert Shaffer, 418 Williams Street, was given a suspended fine of $10 and costs yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court after he pleaded guilty to fishing in the Potomac River during closed season. Game Warden Theodore Thoerig made the arrest Saturday.

Showers Elected Commander Of Ridgeley Legion

Roland Showers, unopposed, was elected commander of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, Ridgeley, at a meeting Tuesday evening.

Retiring commander is K. Albert Wolfe. Other officers for the coming year are Avis Comer, vice commander; Archie Lough, finance officer; Raymond Hershberger, adjutant.

William Thompson, chaplain; Charles Day, sergeant-at-arms; Joseph Calhoun, Americanism officer; James Dittmer Jr., service officer; William Knieriem, child welfare; Roland Tabler, historian and Leroy Fleming, three-year trustee.

An installation of officers will be held June 15 with Tommy Jones, department adjutant of West Virginia, as installing officer.

During the Tuesday night meeting letters were read from Governor William C. Marland, Congressman Harley O. Staggers and Kelly-Mansfield Post 52, Piedmont.

The post went on record in favor of naming the new bridge to span the Potomac from Cumberland to Ridgeley after Sgt. William E. Shuck Jr., of Ridgeley, who received the Congressional Medal of Honor for paying the supreme sacrifice during the Korean conflict.

Iron Workers To Meet

Local 568, Iron Workers Union (AFL), will meet Saturday at 8 p. m. in Allegany Trades Council Hall.

Filtration Plans Delay Pool Use

The opening of the Pine Avenue swimming pool for Negroes of the community has been delayed until the City Recreation Department gets approval of its specifications for a new filtration plant there from the State Health Department.

City Recreation Director Robert F Pence said yesterday the plans were sent to the State Health Department a week ago and word on approval of the specifications is expected momentarily.

The Pine Avenue pool has been operated without a filtration system. The water has been changed in it weekly. However, last summer there were some complaints that the water became dirty near the end of the week.

Pence believes that the new filtration system will greatly improve the swimming facilities.

School Painting, Rewiring Planned

Now that the 1953-54 school year is almost over, Joseph T. Downey, supervisor of maintenance for Allegany County public schools, is mapping plans for certain improvements during the summer months.

Special attention is being focused on Beall High School in Frostburg and Pennsylvania Avenue School.

The County Board of Education will receive bids until 2:30 p. m. Friday, June 18, for the painting of the exterior of Beall High School. The board also will receive bids until 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, June 15, for rewiring and lighting the approximately 30 rooms of Penn Avenue Schools.

Bids were received last summer on the Penn Avenue rewiring job but the lack of needed materials and limited time caused the board to reject all bids. East Side School was rewired last summer.

W. Va. State Official Will Assist Veterans

C. C. Fleenor of the West Virginia Department of Veterans' Affairs, Martinsburg, will be in Ridgeley at the home of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, on June 17 from 2 to 4 p. m.

He will assist war veterans, their dependents or beneficiaries, with government benefits to which they may be entitled. Fleenor will also be in Fort Ashby on the same day at the VFW home from noon until 1:30 p. m.

Local 26 To Install Officers Saturday

Local 26, Rubber Workers Union (CIO), will hold a membership meeting Saturday at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall.

Business will include the installation of officers and a report on a number of grievances.

In the pursuance of studies of statistical quality control during the past five or six months, the Tri-State Society has tried to stress stated techniques and some of the theories behind them so they could be used as tools in the various applications in the respective plants.

"The application of statistical quality control is very much the same for each type of industry with the exception of its method of application," Robbins explained.

"In many types of manufacturing processes the machine is one of the greatest variables. In some industries, however, much depends on the worker's ability, added to a "know-how," and he is a paramount varying factor. A machine turns out parts in rapid succession. An inspector can readily sample from this production universe, make a few measurements and statistically analyze the quality trends. With these data vailable, he can make a decision as to what course should be following in adjusting the production robot. The areas to which the principles outlined for you can be applied are mainly materials, machines and ethods," Robbins concluded.

The National Society, formed in 1946, now has over 18,900 members and 86 sections mainly in the U. S. and including Hawaii, Mexico and Japan.

Lend-Lease Aid And A Red Heel

The Moscow newspaper Pravda seems to protest too much about the soundness of Russia's railroad system. The other day it devoted 50 per cent of its space to an article denying that railway transport would prove to be the "Achilles heel" of the Soviet Union in case of war.

It was, in fact, a weak spot in the last war, but its very weakness had advantages as long as Russian forces were retreating before the Nazis. If Russia had had a modern, well equipped system, with standard gauge tracks, during the early weeks of the Nazi invasion, the enemy could have brought up overpowering strength and taken Stalingrad by Christmas.

When Russian armies began to move westward, however, the lack of transport might well have been a hopeless handicap without American lend-lease aid. Locomotives were rushed to Russia through submarine-infested seas. Countless American-made trucks poured into the Soviet Union through Iran and Murmansk, to eke out the inadequate rail transport.

But Pravda ignores this fact. Rail transport is no Achilles heel, it pontificates: "It was on this Achilles heel that we marched to Berlin."

Well, it is hardly news that the present rulers of Russia are ungrateful. Ingratitude for past favors has always been a commonplace in foreign affairs — and, for that matter, in domestic politics. That Russia should deny this country credit for its aid and should feel mildly unfriendly would be normal enough. For her to spew hatred of the United States, to try to equate Americanism with Hitlerism, and to make the name of this country a reproach in all the byways of the world, that is more than any pro-Russian in Washington in those days could foresee.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Communists In Hollywood

Since April 1951, a two-phase program developed in Hollywood, which is probably the best example of cleansing an industry of a heavy Communist infiltration. This effort was initiated by certain members of motion picture management and by a group of self-appointed anti-Communists who believed that the problems of Hollywood could be solved without hatred, without vindictiveness, even with an anxiety to win back to constructive Americanism those who had wandered away.

The turnover among Communists, particularly among intellectuals and talented persons, has been enormous since 1939, but many who have left the party fear that one of the consequences of confession is ridicule and rejection, and sensitive people dread both reactions. The problem then was to find a formula for restoring those who were sincere in their conversion to usefulness in their professions, so that they could serve their country as ardently as they once served its enemy.

The Hollywood effort was a tremendous success because of its two-phase characteristic. The first phase is represented by opposition to the continued use of Communists in motion pictures, not because of the contents of the pictures they made, but because they had provided a huge treasury for the Communist party. The aim was to attack that treasury and that was accomplished. It was possible to say in 1953 that no known Communists were being employed in Hollywood in the motion picture industry.

The second phase was the effort to bring back to positive Americanism and to make effective in every way men and women who had once been Communists or who had been associated with Communist activities. This phase of the work has often been misunderstood. It gave the entirely erroneous impression that a group of self-appointed anti-Communists were "clearing" former Communists. No one can "clear" another person; it can only be done by the individual himself as an act of conscience. After the program got going, some persons set themselves up as "clearers" commercially. This did not seriously affect the program.

Talented and sensitive men and women were encouraged to move through that profoundly emotional period between breaking with the Communist party and making the break known to the world. Psychologically this is one of the most difficult tasks any person can face. It sometimes takes years of self-examination, of confession and contrition before that step can be taken. Anyone who has had experience with this problem knows this to be true. Of some 300 persons with which this group dealt, possibly only one is generally regarded as a backslider and nobody is sure about him.

The first break in this particular effort was when Roy Brewer of the IATSE ceased to be a labor leader. He went into management; he remained president of the Motion Picture Alliance, the most effective anti-Communist organization in Hollywood. Roy Brewer's value to the anti-Communist cause was the fact that his attitude was related to saving an industry, in which the members of his union worked, not only from Communist infiltration but from popular resistance, arising out of such infiltration, which meant loss of jobs. Most of the others in this activity had different reasons, strictly ideological reasons, but Brewer's was a position that management had to take seriously.

During the past few months, there is evidence that the Communists or Fifth Amendment witnesses are creeping back into Hollywood. Particular objections are being made to the picture, "Salt of the Earth," produced under the auspices of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers. Considerable excitement was aroused throughout the production of this picture, leading to charges and defenses, especially as to some persons who participated in the making of this picture. There was resistance to the picture being shown. Now it is being shown.

The problem that the anti-Communists feel that they face is that somehow the Communist treasury in Hollywood will be restored. Even those who are opposed to Senator McCarthy realize that one of the effects of the Stevens-McCarthy hearing has been to lessen the activities of congressional committees so that this phase of anti-Communist activity is at a standstill and the Communists are taking advantage of it wherever they can, particularly in Hollywood. When there is little fear of congressional investigations and exposures, the Communists usually enjoy a field day. They work all the time.

A Look Out The Back Door At Geneva

Strategic Balance Of Free World And Russia At Stake

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The gravity of the present turning point in world affairs can be simply measured. Apologetic yet quite serious talk about a "preventive showdown" with the Soviet bloc is beginning to be heard in high quarters.

Thus far, those who venture to use the ugly word, "preventive," are only a small minority. Furthermore, they do not positively advocate a preventive policy, with its grim, inherent risk of major war. They just say that this policy can no longer be ruled out.

The fact remains that the word that was tabu and the idea that was tabu are not quite tabu now. This change is the clearest symptom of the deep uneasiness that reigns among those who know the true posture of affairs. There are two interacting causes of this uneasiness.

The first cause, obviously, is Indochina. What is really at stake in Indochina, if you get right down to rockbottom, is the strategic balance between the free world and the Soviet empire. This strategic balance has been precariously maintained for eight years. Maintaining the balance was the real purpose of the decision to go into the Korean War.

But what was saved in Korea is now in even greater danger in Indochina. If Indochina is allowed to fall, the breakdown in the strategic balance will be total and disastrous.

The second cause of the present uneasiness, which the administration has sedulously concealed, is also a basic change in the relative situations of the Soviet and Western halves of the world. It is the new trend of the weapons balance.

Hitherto, the dominant feature of the weapons balance has been the supremacy of American air-atomic striking power. The Soviet Union might be stronger in every other arm of war. But the really decisive arm was held by the United States. So long as that was the situation, there was a kind of crude balance of weapons as between the contestants in the world struggle.

But the Soviets have now upset all the Pentagon's calculations by bringing out long range jet-bombers two years earlier than was estimated. This means that within 18 months to two years, the Kremlin will have decisive air-atomic striking power of its own, plus the freedom our government does not have, to use that power at will and by surprise.

Simultaneously, the hydrogen bomb has changed all the estimates of long range guided missile development. The Soviets, who are ahead in this field, may well come out with an intercontinental missile with hydrogen warhead before this ultimate weapons can be produced in America.

The weapons balance must therefore be regarded as turning against us. Each tendency makes the other immeasurably more dangerous and alarming.

This is because the weapons balance and the strategic balance interact in a way that has been wittily and astutely described by George F. Kennan, who still possesses one of the most penetrating minds in America, eevn if the administration does not choose to use it.

Kennan uses the simile of a poker game in the wild and wooly days of the West. In such a game, after all, there were two quite different elements. There were the cards on the table. And there were the six-shooters on the hips of the players. If the distribution of aces and kings did not seem abnormal, the cards decided the outcome of the game. But if the cards went too wrong, the six-shooters came out. And the six-shooters decided the outcome.

In Kennan's simile, of course, the cards stand for the strategic balance and the six-shooters for the weapons balance. If a reasonable strategic balance can be maintained, in other words, there will be much less reason to worry about the weapons balance. But if the strategic balance is going to collapse, as it is in danger of doing, the adverse trend in the weapons balance acquires really desperate meaning.

Added together, the strategic balance and the weapons balance crudely constitute the world power between the Soviet and free halves of the world. History teaches—and the rule has no known exception—that a decisively unfavorable turn of the total power balance always leaves only two choices open to the nation or alliance on the losing end. Those choices are surrender or a war of despair.

Since the administration has steadfastly refused to take the country into its confidence, this may sound the very stuff of nightmare. But facts do not cease to be hard facts because they are not publicly admitted. False optimism is no cure for vast upsets in the world balance of power. Which in turn explains why the formerly unmentionable is being mentioned and the formerly unthinkable is being thought about by some of those in the small group to whom the hard facts are truthfully communicated.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Our scientific expedition into South America discovered coffee was the perfect pay crop. Nothing attacks it but human beings.

The bean and our good neighborly relations were thoroughly strained. Governor Dewey advised New Yorkers to drink milk. But not to get the egg before the nog.

The Brazilian ambassador drove up in a four-wheeled huff. He accused Dewey of plotting against the pace and security of Brazil's all-night coffee plantations.

The governor had no more intentions of doing that than you have of kissing a porcupine. He was making a bid for the Guernsey and Alderney vote of upper New York State.

For 52 years the Avon Comedy Four has been treading on hazardous linoleum. Smith drinks his coffee out of the saucer. When Dale asks him why he doesn't drink out of the cup Smith says, "The spoon gets into my eye."

If they can get television time the governor and the ambassador may stage a quizzatory panel. We regret to state that some investigator has clipped the photograph of the signing of the Declaration down to just Ben Franklin and Button Gwinnett.

We would like to take the ambassador aside for a quick rummage through his portfolio. Back in 1934 didn't we see pictures of 'em burning the surplus coffee crop in locomotives? Now we cannot even afford to boil it in lunch wagons.

In case of a parliamentary standoff at the Geneva kaffeeklatch we offer an alternate plan. How about half-coffee and half-milk? Is that solution too weak?

In the high priced interim we assure the ambassador we are not plotting against the South American security or dances.

But Americans are proud and stubborn. We will never stand for a habit breaking us.

Let Brazil and Albany meet each other half-way. How about Yonkers?

Cortisone Is Latest Remedy In Severe Shingles Cases

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Herpes Zoster (shingles) is more painful than serious. It rarely, if ever, leads to death but may be disabling, especially in the elderly. These persons are in pain not only during the active stage of the disease but when a residual neuralgia persists.

Cortisone is the latest remedy. This hormone usually is reserved for the more severe forms of herpes and is not recommended for the ordinary attack in which pain is easily controlled with simple measures. Dr. M. L. Gelfand of New York gave cortisone to five patients and reported dramatic relief in four within 24 to 36 hours. The hormone held the skin eruption in abeyance until healing took place during the ensuing three weeks. In one instance pain returned a week after treatment was discontinued but when cortisone was administered again distress subsided. There were no complications and, best of all, none in the series developed residual neuralgia.

We cannot draw too many conclusions from five cases but cortisone will prove an excellent adjunct if it does no more than prevent complications in severe cases. In addition, the patient often feels so well while taking treatment he may be able to continue his usual work.

Banthine also is reported to be of value in shingles. This ulcer remedy has a "blocking" effect on the nerves. In one instance the substance abolished pain within 30 minutes; and in two, distress and rash disappeared within seven days.

The majority of older remedies relieved pain but had little influence upon the disease. The list includes vitamin B, procaine, codein, aspirin, ethyl chloride spray, and protamide. Aureomycin, chloromycetin, smallpox or flu vaccines, and the injection of blood from a convalescent patient were aimed directly at the causative virus. Each has been followed by starting results in isolated cases but none has ever worked consistently. Dr. Edward Oliver of Chicago has used intravenous injections of sodium iodide for many years, and is pleased with the results. This product may cause reactions, however, unless given properly. Furthermore, spontaneous healing occurs so often it is difficult to know when a particular treatment deserves the credit.

Herpes zoster is traceable to a virus related to the viruses causing polio and chicken pox. Lesions develop along the course of a single nerve and rarely attack both sides at once. The nerves between the ribs are favored and the next in line are the facial nerve and nerves in abdomen, arms, and legs.

Diagnosis may escape detection until the typical lesions appear; these small water blisters rupture and become crusted within 36 to 48 hours. Healing may be expected within a few weeks unless neuralgia intervenes. One attack confers everlasting immunity, as a rule.

If allergy is responsible, shrimp is as good a culprit as any. But examination is in order because other agents can cause allergy and other conditions can cause puffiness of the eyelids.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Arlene Francis—my co-panelist on "What's My Line?"—has shown me an anguished note she received from one of her radio fans. "I'm an insurance man," it began, "My wife collects recipes she hears over your morning program, and has gotten into the habit of filing them in my Prospect File. Please, Miss Francis, cut out this recipe business! I've just wasted the whole week searching all over Philadelphia for a Mr. Prunewhip!"

"I have a pal," confides Myron Cohen, "who's always telling people his wife is the salt of the earth—and he's been trying to shake her for years!"

A young lady eyed her suitor with obvious disfavor. "Didn't you tell me," she asked him coldly, "that your mother once was chased by a gorilla?" "I did," he declared, "and it's true, too." "I believe you," said the girl. "I also believe that he caught her!"

Rebuff Of Sen. McCarthy Spy System Also Put Congressman Judd On Spot

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON. — Congressman Walter Judd of Minnesota isn't advertising it, but the White House-Justice Department rebuff of McCarthy for proclaiming his own personal spy system inside the government also put Mr. Judd on the spot.

For the gentleman from Minnesota, who prides himself on being one of Eisenhower's close friends and original boosters, proposed a similar espionage system for himself while traveling through the Far East.

Meeting with American diplomats and personnel in Bangkok, Thailand, Congressman Judd said in brief:

"I know many of you may feel lost out here. If you do feel as if you're neglected and forgotten, just write me. Let me know your problems."

One diplomat immediately spoke. "Wouldn't that be disloyal?" He asked. "Wouldn't that be going over the State Department's head?"

Judd replied that there were some good congressmen and some indiscreet ones. He admitted that some congressmen might not be the ones to write to.

"But you can write to me," he said, "and count on me to be discreet."

Prediction for November

A possible portent of things to come in the November elections turned up in California last week when Sen. Tom Kuchel, Republican, put out a smear sheet attacking Congressman Sam Yorty, Democrat, as a Red. Yorty is opposing Kuchel in the California Senate race which has its initial warm-up in the primaries next week.

These primaries are nationally important. They will show, in the second largest state in the Union both populationwise and geographically, whether Ike has really lost ground or not. For Californians are in the habit of deciding November elections in June by nominating favorite candidates on both Republican and Democratic tickets.

The Republican National Committee in Washington has made no secret of two things: 1, that it regards the California primary as most important; 2, that it plans to use the McCarthy technique in the coming campaign whether Joe is an active speaker or not. An expensive film on "Twenty Years of Treason" featuring Harry Dexter White has already been prepared for wide GOP circulation.

Democrats claim, therefore, that the "Yorty-is-a-Red" circular distributed by Senator Kuchel is significant.

No Red He

In this case, Yorty is a long way from being a Red. Moreover, he caught the Kuchel sheet early and has issued an effective reply.

It happens that the congressman has a letter from J. Edgar Hoover thanking him for his fight against communism. Also Kuchel made the mistake of using a picture of himself and Thomas Pitts, president of the California AFL, without Pitts' permission, thus making it appear that Kuchel has AFL endorsement, the exact opposite of the case.

Finally Yorty has been praised by none other than the Hearst newspapers for "his outspoken attitude on Reds and fellow travelers."

So, with the fireworks starting this early, it looks as if it would be a hot summer—and not merely in California.

California Merry-Go-Round

Here's more on the hot and important primary showdown in the Golden Bear state: Jimmy Roosevelt is almost certain to win despite his marital troubles. A Republican legislature had gerrymandered his district before they knew he was going to run, and had lumped as many Democratic votes as possible in it, so as to make other districts safer for Republicans. . . . Also, the blast by Democratic Chairman Steve Mitchell boomeranged in Jimmy's favor. . . Hardest campaigning candidate in California is George E. Johnson, running for state treasurer as a Democrat. He has to campaign hard because so many people get him mixed up with Gus Johnson, his Republican opponent. George's slogan is: "The name's the same, but not the candidate."

California labor, which usually lines up for the Democrats, this time is split. L. A. Teamster Boss Le Haney, who is close to GOP Mayor Roulson of Los Angeles, led a bolt to Governor "Goody" Knight, and the AFL has now officially endorsed him. . . . But about two-thirds of the rank and file AFL members will possibly bolt their bosses and vote Democratic. . . . Governor Knight made one slip which isn't going to help him in certain quarters, especially in view of the Supreme Court segregation decision. Asked how he stood on FEPC, Knight told a Stanford University audience: "I'll tell you what I told the Teamsters when they asked me the same question. How would you like to have a Negro riding and sleeping in the same truck with you?"

One development reminiscent of the New York harness-track scandals is the charge that California race-track interests ponied up $35,000 for Knight's campaign. The governor hasn't answered. . . . Citizens for Eisenhower, believe it or not, asked support from George Arnold though he's a Democratic candidate for Congress from L.A. . . . Phidel Hall of Riverside, Calif., has offered one DeSoto car to anyone who will tell him one constructive thing that Republican John Phillips has done in Congress. So far nobody has won a free car. . . . State Senator Jack Tenny, sometimes called the Joe McCarthy of California, and chairman of the California Un-American Activities Committee, has written a four-page letter to voters about Jews. It seems he isn't happy that they have voted against him.

Thoughts Of A Ukrainian

By Bob Considine

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Lewis Futala, a Detroit mechanic, was in a veterinarian school in the Ukraine in 1941 when the Nazis rolled through on the way to the gates of Moscow. He was still there three years later, fighting them from the underground, when the Red army swept back in waves. He remained in the underground. Like most Ukrainians, Futala regarded neither inundation by arms a liberation.

I talked to the four-times-wounded Futala at the 60th anniversary meeting of the Ukrainian National Association, a fraternal benefit organization meeting currently in Washington. The Association was formed at Shamokin, Pa., on George Washington's birthday, 1894, to raise the lot of the average Ukrainian immigrant who had found America's mines and company town tyranny hardly less tolerable than the land whence he fled.

(The association began with 439 members and $220 in assets. Today it has more than 70,000 members and better than $15,000,000 in the kitty.)

"You lived under both Hitler and Stalin, which was worse?" I asked the neat, quiet-spoken young Futala, who is a delegate to the association meeting.

He shrugged. "The only difference was how you died if you stood for an independent Ukraine," he said, partly through interpreter Joseph Lesawyer, a New York real estate man of Ukrainian extraction who served with General Patton.

"The Nazis shot you in a public square and strung you up for several days for the people to see," Futala continued. "The Russians shot you behind a wall. It was a question of whether you preferred to be shot publicly or privately."

"In the event of a World War III, and an American army invasion of the Ukraine, would there be mass desertions . . . would Ukrainians leave the Soviet Union in droves and aid us?" I asked.

I expected an explosive "yes!" but Futala, a man who passed through a bitter mill, thought for a time before he answered. And when he did he spoke slowly.

"If the American army announced as it came into the country that it endosed the independence aims of the Ukrainian people it would have a chance of 100 per cent desertion from the Soviet Union," he said. "But there would have to be deeds to back up the words . . . conclusive deeds.

"Many people remember that the Nazis promised to support our freedom when we declared it in 1951," he said, and his eyes mirrored memories of his hard days. "But then they butchered us. Many people remember, too, that when the Reds were coming closer to retaking us they also pledged we'd be independent. But you see what has happened to us.

"Many people also would remember that when we tried to fight the Reds from the underground we were defeated by American arms, given to them under lend-lease. With those arms our leaders were executed, and at the point of American-made guns our old men were marched off to serve as unarmed cannon fodder for the further advances against the Nazis. And we who remained had always been partly sustained by the knowledge that across the ocean lay a wonderful land that stood for freedom and an end to all such things. This I now know to be true, but some back home would wonder until properly reassured."

Futala was still at it in 1947 when his underground leader gave the order to escape to the American zone in Germany to prove that anti-Communist activities actually did exist in the Ukraine, and that Communist suppression of human rights was despicable.

In the past week the Kremlin directed that all the U.S.S.R. celebrate what Pravda Moscow called the 300th anniversary of the "reunification" of the Ukraine with Great Russia. It was a most unusual salute to a presumably safely enslaved state. And many were the allusions to the "common blood."

Such phrases can always be counted upon to make a Ukrainian's blood boil. He is limitlessly proud of not being Russian. He prides himself in being a part of a country—currently captive, to be sure—that has 45,000,000 people, is a bit larger than France and twice as large as Italy, and is more richly endowed by nature than both.

There will remain a sharp hunger for freedom from Russia no matter how long the rising of the Ukrainians is delayed, I was assured on all sides at the Washington meeting—sometimes by second generation, well-to-do, Ukrainian-Americans.

The Voice of America has been getting through pretty well to the Ukrainian people, one delegate reported. He said it confines itself mainly to straight news and excerpts from the columns and commentaries of U. S. pundits. He complained that it fails to tell the brave listener (it is a criminal offense to listen) that the U. S. is completely in sympathy with the Ukrainians' traditional search for freedom.

"The Voice gives us no blood," he said with simple eloquence.

Presence of Emperor Haile Selassie as a guest in these United States has again launched (just as we feared) that old controversy over whether that African country is Abyssinia or Ethiopia.

See where that Navy blimp clocked over 200 hours aloft in an endurance record flight. Nice way to spend a week's vacation.

There are so many centennials of this and that being celebrated in 1954, Zadok Dumkopf has come to conclusion that everything important must have happened just 100 years ago.

Lend-Lease Aid And A Red Heel

The Moscow newspaper Pravda seems to protest too much about the soundness of Russia's railroad system. The other day it devoted 50 per cent of its space to an article denying that railway transport would prove to be the "Achilles heel" of the Soviet Union in case of war.

It was, in fact, a weak spot in the last war, but its very weakness had advantages as long as Russian forces were retreating before the Nazis. If Russia had had a modern, well equipped system, with standard gauge tracks, during the early weeks of the Nazi invasion, the enemy could have brought up overpowering strength and taken Stalingrad by Christmas.

When Russian armies began to move westward, however, the lack of transport might well have been a hopeless handicap without American lend-lease aid. Locomotives were rushed to Russia through submarine-infested seas. Countless American-made trucks poured into the Soviet Union through Iran and Murmansk, to eke out the inadequate rail transport.

But Pravda ignores this fact. Rail transport is no Achilles heel, it pontificates: "It was on this Achilles heel that we marched to Berlin."

Well, it is hardly news that the present rulers of Russia are ungrateful. Ingratitude for past favors has always been a commonplace in foreign affairs — and, for that matter, in domestic politics. That Russia should deny this country credit for its aid and should feel mildly unfriendly would be normal enough. For her to spew hatred of the United States, to try to equate Americanism with Hitlerism, and to make the name of this country a reproach in all the byways of the world, that is more than any pro-Russian in Washington in those days could foresee.

These Days

Communists In Hollywood

Since April 1951, a two-phase program developed in Hollywood, which is probably the best example of cleansing an industry of a heavy Communist infiltration. This effort was initiated by certain members of motion picture management, and by a group of self-appointed anti-Communists who believed that the problems of Hollywood could be solved without hatred, without vindictiveness, even with an anxiety to win back to constructive Americanism those who had wandered away.

The turnover among Communists, particularly among intellectuals and talented persons, has been enormous since 1939, but many who have left the party fear that one of the consequences of confession is ridicule and rejection, and sensitive people dread both reactions. The problem then was to find a formula for restoring those who were sincere in their conversion to usefulness in their professions, so that they could serve their country as ardently as they once served its enemy.

The Hollywood effort was a tremendous success because of its two-phase characteristic. The first phase is represented by opposition to the continued use of Communists in motion pictures, not because of the contents of the pictures they made, but because they had provided a huge treasury for the Communist party. The aim was to attack that treasury and that was accomplished. It was possible to say in 1953 that no known Communists were being employed in Hollywood in the motion picture industry.

The second phase was the effort to bring back to positive Americanism and to make effective in every way men and women who had once been Communists or who had been associated with Communist activities. This phase of the work has often been misunderstood. It gave the entirely erroneous impression that a group of self-appointed anti-Communists were "clearing" former Communists. No one can "clear" another person; it can only be done by the individual himself as an act of conscience. After the program got going, some persons set themselves up as "clearers" commercially. This did not seriously affect the program.

Talented and sensitive men and women were encouraged to move through that profoundly emotional period between breaking with the Communist party and making the break known to the world. Psychologically this is one of the most difficult tasks any person can face. It sometimes takes years of self-examination, of confession and contrition before that step can be taken. Anyone who has had experience with this problem knows this to be true. Of some 300 persons with which this group dealt, possibly only one is generally regarded as a backslider and nobody is sure about him.

The first break in this particular effort was when Roy Brewer of the IATSE ceased to be a labor leader. He went into management; he remained president of the Motion Picture Alliance, the most effective anti-Communist organization in Hollywood. Roy Brewer's value to the anti-Communist cause was the fact that his attitude was related to saving an industry, in which the members of his union worked, not only from Communist infiltration but from popular resistance, arising out of such infiltration, which meant loss of jobs. Most of the others in this activity had different reasons, strictly ideological reasons, but Brewer's was a position that management had to take seriously.

During the past few months, there is evidence that the Communists or Fifth Amendment witnesses are creeping back into Hollywood. Particular objections are being made to the picture, "Salt of the Earth," produced under the auspices of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers. Considerable excitement was aroused throughout the production of this picture, leading to charges and defenses, especially as to some persons who participated in the making of this picture. There was resistance to the picture being shown. Now it is being shown.

The problem that the anti-Communists feel that they face is that somehow the Communist treasury in Hollywood will be restored. Even those who are opposed to Senator McCarthy realize that one of the effects of the Stevens-McCarthy hearing has been to lessen the activities of congressional committees so that this phase of anti-Communist activity is at a standstill and the Communists are taking advantage of it wherever they can, particularly in Hollywood. When there is little fear of congressional investigations and exposures, the Communists usually enjoy a field day. They work all the time.

A Look Out The Back Door At Geneva

Strategic Balance Of Free World And Russia At Stake

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The gravity of the present turning point in world affairs can be simply measured. Apologetic yet quite serious talk about a "preventive showdown" with the Soviet bloc is beginning to be heard in high quarters.

Thus far, those who venture to use the ugly word, "preventive," are only a small minority. Furthermore, they do not positively advocate a preventive policy, with its grim, inherent risk of major war. They just say that this policy can no longer be ruled out.

The fact remains that the word that was tabu and the idea that was tabu are not quite tabu now. This change is the clearest symptom of the deep uneasiness that reigns among those who know the true posture of affairs. There are two interacting causes of this uneasiness.

The first cause, obviously, is Indochina. What is really at stake in Indochina, if you get right down to rockbottom, is the strategic balance between the free world and the Soviet empire. This strategic balance has been precariously maintained for eight years. Maintaining the balance was the real purpose of the decision to go into the Korean War.

But what was saved in Korea is now in even greater danger in Indochina. If Indochina is allowed to fall, the breakdown in the strategic balance will be total and disastrous.

The second cause of the present uneasiness, which the administration has seduiously concealed, is also a basic change in the relative situations of the Soviet and Western halves of the world. It is the new trend of the weapons balance.

Hitherto, the dominant feature of the weapons balance has been the supremacy of American air-atomic striking power. The Soviet Union might be stronger in every other arm of war. But the really decisive arm was held by the United States. So long as that was the situation, there was a kind of crude balance of weapons as between the contestants in the world struggle.

But the Soviets have now upset all the Pentagon's calculations by bringing out long range jet-bombers two years earlier than was estimated. This means that within 18 months to two years, the Kremlin will have decisive air-atomic striking power of its own, plus the freedom our government does not have, to use that power at will and by surprise.

Simultaneously, the hydrogen bomb has changed all the estimates of long range guided missile development. The Soviets, who are ahead in this field, may well come out with an intercontinental missile with hydrogen warhead before this ultimate weapons can be produced in America.

The weapons balance must therefore be regarded as turning against us. Each tendency makes the other immeasurably more dangerous and alarming.

This is because the weapons balance and the strategic balance interact in a way that has been wittily and astutely described by George F. Kennan, who still possesses one of the most penetrating minds in America, eevn if the administration does not choose to use it.

Kennan uses the simile of a poker game in the wild and wooly days of the West. In such a game, after all, there were two quite different elements. There were the cards on the table. And there were the six-shooters on the hips of the players. If the distribution of aces and kings did not seem abnormal, the cards decided the outcome of the game. But if the cards went too wrong, the six-shooters came out. And the six-shooters decided the outcome.

In Kennan's simile, of course, the cards stand for the strategic balance and the six-shooters for the weapons balance. If a reasonable strategic balance can be maintained, in other words, there will be much less reason to worry about the weapons balance. But if the strategic balance is going to collapse, as it is in danger of doing, the adverse trend in the weapons balance acquires really desperate meaning.

Added together, the strategic balance and the weapons balance crudely constitute the world power between the Soviet and free halves of the world. History teaches—and the rule has no known exception—that a decisively unfavorable turn of the total power balance always leaves only two choices open to the nation or alliance on the losing end. Those choices are surrender or a war of despair.

Since the administration has steadfastly refused to take the country into its confidence, this may sound the very stuff of nightmare. But facts do not cease to be hard facts because they are not publicly admitted. False optimism is no cure for vast upsets in the world balance of power. Which in turn explains why the formerly unmentionable is being mentioned and the formerly unthinkable is being thought about by some of those in the small group to whom the hard facts are truthfully communicated.

Puzzle no more. The answer is, no. Some persons have extra ribs but this anomaly is not limited to either sex.

SHRIMPS AND PUFFINESS

T. Y. writes: I went to work in a shrimp factory and since then my eyelids have been swollen. Could this be allergy to shrimp?

REPLY

If allergy is responsible, shrimp is as good a culprit as any. But examination is in order because other agents can cause allergy and other conditions can cause puffiness of the eyelids.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Arlene Francis—my co-panelist on "What's My Line?"—has shown me an anguished note she received from one of her radio fans. "I'm an insurance man," it began, "My wife collects recipes she hears over your morning program, and has gotten into the habit of filing them in my Prospect File. Please, Miss Francis, cut out this recipe business! I've just wasted the whole week searching all over Philadelphia for a Mr. Prunewhip!"

"I have a pal," confides Myron Cohen, "who's always telling people his wife is the salt of the earth—and he's been trying to shake her for years!"

A young lady eyed her suitor with obvious disfavor. "Didn't you tell me," she asked him coldly, "that your mother once was chased by a gorilla?" "I did," he declared, "and it's true, too." "I believe you," said the girl. "I also believe that he caught her!"

Rebuff Of Sen. McCarthy Spy System Also Put Congressman Judd On Spot

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON. — Congressman Walter Judd of Minnesota isn't advertising it, but the White House-Justice Department rebuff of McCarthy for proclaiming his own personal spy system inside the government also put Mr. Judd on the spot.

For the gentleman from Minnesota, who prides himself on being one of Eisenhower's close friends and original boosters, proposed a similar espionage system for himself while traveling through the Far East.

Meeting with American diplomats and personnel in Bangkok, Thailand, Congressman Judd said in brief:

"I know many of you may feel lost out here. If you do feel as if you're neglected and forgotten, just write me. Let me know your problems."

One diplomat immediately spoke. "Wouldn't that be disloyal?" He asked. "Wouldn't that be going over the State Department's head?"

Judd replied that there were some good congressmen and some indiscreet ones. He admitted that some congressmen might not be the ones to write to.

"But you can write to me," he said, "and count on me to be discreet."

Prediction for November

A possible portent of things to come in the November elections turned up in California last week when Sen. Tom Kuchel, Republican, put out a smear sheet attacking Congressman Sam Yorty, Democrat, as a Red. Yorty is opposing Kuchel in the California Senate race which has its initial warm-up in the primaries next week.

These primaries are nationally important. They will show, in the second largest state in the Union both populationwise and geographically, whether Ike has really lost ground or not. For Californians are in the habit of deciding November elections in June by nominating favorite candidates on both Republican and Democratic tickets.

The Republican National Committee in Washington has made no secret of two things: 1, that it regards the California primary as most important; 2, that it plans to use the McCarthy technique in the coming campaign whether Joe is an active speaker or not. An expensive film on "Twenty Years of Treason" featuring Harry Dexter White has already been prepared for wide GOP circulation.

Democrats claim, therefore, that the "Yorty-is-a-Red" circular distributed by Senator Kuchel is significant.

No Red He

In this case, Yorty is a long way from being a Red. Moreover, he caught the Kuchel sheet early and has issued an effective reply.

It happens that the congressman has a letter from J. Edgar Hoover thanking him for his fight against communism. Also Kuchel made the mistake of using a picture of himself and Thomas Pitts, president of the California AFL, without Pitts' permission, thus making it appear that Kuchel has AFL endorsement, the exact opposite of the case.

Finally Yorty has been praised by none other than the Hearst newspapers for "his outspoken attitude on Reds and fellow travelers."

So, with the fireworks starting this early, it looks as if it would be a hot summer—and not merely in California.

California Merry-Go-Round

Here's more on the hot and important primary showdown in the Golden Bear state: Jimmy Roosevelt is almost certain to win despite his marital troubles. A Republican legislature had gerrymandered his district before they knew he was going to run, and had lumped as many Democratic votes as possible in it, so as to make other districts safer for Republicans. . . . Also, the blast by Democratic Chairman Steve Mitchell boomeranged in Jimmy's favor. . . . Hardest campaigning candidate in California is George E. Johnson, running for state treasurer as a Democrat. He has to campaign hard because so many people get him mixed up with Gus Johnson, his Republican opponent. George's slogan is: "The name's the same, but not the candidate."

California labor, which usually lines up for the Democrats, this time is split. L. A. Teamster Boss Le Haney, who is close to GOP Mayor Roulson of Los Angeles, led a bolt to Governor "Goody" Knight, and the AFL has now officially endorsed him. . . . But about two-thirds of the rank and file AFL members will possibly bolt their bosses and vote Democratic. . . . Governor Knight made one slip which isn't going to help him in certain quarters, especially in view of the Supreme Court segregation decision. Asked how he stood on FEPC, Knight told a Stanford University audience: "I'll tell you what I told the Teamsters when they asked me the same question. How would you like to have a Negro riding and sleeping in the same truck with you?"

One development reminiscent of the New York harness-track scandals is the charge that California race-track interests ponied up $35,000 for Knight's campaign. The governor hasn't answered. . . . Citizens for Eisenhower, believe it or not, asked support from George Arnold though he's a Democratic candidate for Congress from L.A. . . . Phidel Hall of Riverside, Calif., has offered one DeSoto car to anyone who will tell him one constructive thing that Republican John Phillips has done in Congress. So far nobody has won a free car. . . . State Senator Jack Tenny, sometimes called the Joe McCarthy of California, and chairman of the California Un-American Activities Committee, has written a four-page letter to voters about Jews. It seems he isn't happy that they have voted against him.

Thoughts Of A Ukrainian

By Bob Considine

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Lewis Futala, a Detroit mechanic, was in a veterinarian school in the Ukraine in 1941 when the Nazis rolled through on the way to the gates of Moscow. He was still there three years later, fighting them from the underground, when the Red army swept back in waves. He remained in the underground. Like most Ukrainians, Futala regarded neither inundation by arms a liberation.

I talked to the four-times-wounded Futala at the 60th anniversary meeting of the Ukrainian National Association, a fraternal benefit organization meeting currently in Washington. The Association was formed at Shamokin, Pa., on George Washington's birthday, 1894, to raise the lot of the average Ukrainian immigrant who had found America's mines and company town tyranny hardly less tolerable than the land whence he fled.

(The association began with 439 members and $220 in assets. Today it has more than 70,000 members and better than $15,000,000 in the kitty.)

"You lived under both Hitler and Stalin, which was worse?" I asked the neat, quiet-spoken young Futala, who is a delegate to the association meeting.

He shrugged. "The only difference was how you died if you stood for an independent Ukraine," he said, partly through interpreter Joseph Lesawyer, a New York real estate man of Ukrainian extraction who served with General Patton.

"The Nazis shot you in a public square and strung you up for several days for the people to see," Futala continued. "The Russians shot you behind a wall. It was a question of whether you preferred to be shot publicly or privately."

"In the event of a World War III, and an American army invasion of the Ukraine, would there be mass desertions . . . would Ukrainians leave the Soviet Union in droves and aid us?" I asked.

I expected an explosive "yes!" but Futala, a man who passed through a bitter mill, thought for a time before he answered. And when he did he spoke slowly.

"If the American army announced as it came into the country that it endosed the independence aims of the Ukrainian people it would have a chance of 100 per cent desertion from the Soviet Union," he said. "But there would have to be deeds to back up the words . . . conclusive deeds.

"Many people remember that the Nazis promised to support our freedom when we declared it in 1951," he said, and his eyes mirrored memories of his hard days. "But then they butchered us. Many people remember, too, that when the Reds were coming closer to retaking us they also pledged we'd be independent. But you see what has happened to us.

"Many people also would remember that when we tried to fight the Reds from the underground we were defeated by American arms, given to them under lend-lease. With those arms our leaders were executed, and at the point of American-made guns our old men were marched off to serve as unarmed cannon fodder for the further advances against the Nazis. And we who remained had always been partly sustained by the knowledge that across the ocean lay a wonderful land that stood for freedom and an end to all such things. This I now know to be true, but some back home would wonder until properly reassured."

Futala was still at it in 1947 when his underground leader gave the order to escape to the American zone in Germany to prove that anti-Communist activities actually did exist in the Ukraine, and that Communist suppression of human rights was despicable.

In the past week the Kremlin directed that all the U.S.S.R. celebrate what Pravda Moscow called the 300th anniversary of the "reunification" of the Ukraine with Great Russia. It was a most unusual salute to a presumably safely enslaved state. And many were the allusions to the "common blood."

Such phrases can always be counted upon to make a Ukrainian's blood boil. He is limitlessly proud of not being Russian. He prides himself in being a part of a country—currently captive, to be sure—that has 45,000,000 people, is a bit larger than France and twice as large as Italy, and is more richly endowed by nature than both.

There will remain a sharp hunger for freedom from Russia no matter how long the rising of the Ukrainians is delayed, I was assured on all sides at the Washington meeting—sometimes by second generation, well-to-do, Ukrainian-Americans.

The Voice of America has been getting through pretty well to the Ukrainian people, one delegate reported. He said it confines itself mainly to straight news and excerpts from the columns and commentaries of U. S. pundits. He complained that it fails to tell the brave listener (it is a criminal offense to listen) that the U. S. is completely in sympathy with the Ukrainians' traditional search for freedom.

"The Voice gives us no blood," he said with simple eloquence.

Presence of Emperor Haile Selassie as a guest in these United States has again launched (just as we feared) that old controversy over whether that African country is Abyssinia or Ethiopia.

See where that Navy blimp clocked over 200 hours aloft in an endurance record flight. Nice way to spend a week's vacation.

There are so many centennials of this and that being celebrated in 1954, Zadok Dumkopf has come to conclusion that everything important must have happened just 100 years ago.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 2—(INS)—Fred MacMurray and June Haver will have to be separated come July because Fred goes to Wyoming on location to play Lewis in "Blue Horizon," the Pine-Thomas version of the Lewis and Clark Expedition.

In a loquacious mood, the junior Bill—Thomas, that is—met me at Chasen's and said that he and Bill Pine had just that day signed Fred.

"We have Charlton Heston for Clark," Bill said, "and our story is ready to go—in fact, it's going!"

Peggy Ann Garner, now 21 years old (believe it or not) replaces ailing Maggie McNamara in "Black Widow" which Nunnally Johnson will write, direct and produce for 20th.

This should be a shot in the arm for Peggy's screen career although she's been doing well in TV for several years. It's a coincidence that Peggy's latest stage appearance on the road was "The Moon Is Blue" which starred the little McNamara girl on both stage and screen.

This is the movie which is bringing Ginger Rogers back from Europe and which Van Heflin and Gene Tierney play top roles.

After many years as a leading lady, Ann Dvorak seemed to have dropped off the face of the earth, until the other day when I received a letter from her saying:

"For two years I have been working on a vast project, concentrating every ounce of my energy on a show for TV titled 'This Is God's Country', which is designed to show America to Americans—and the world. It will tell the story of our great industries and natural wealth—to mention just a few of the subjects covered are the stories of anaconda Copper, Plymouth Cordage, Heinz, the pickle king, and many more.

"I have spent $200,000 to date. I am doing it alone.

"To keep my project going I'm producing two commercial TV shows, 'Song And Story' and 'Anna McKim, M. D'. The latter having the backing of the American Medical Association. Everything earned by these shows will go toward finishing 'This Is God's Country'."

Good luck, Ann.

Abbe Lane, bombastic singer-wife of Xavier Cugat, has plenty to celebrate when Cugie and Company open Friday night at Ciro's. In addition to a big turnout for the opening, Abbe has just signed a contract for two pictures with Sam Katzman at Columbia.

She'll play the daughter of a gangster of the roarin' 20's in "The Chicago Story" and later she'll be featured in "Ten Nights In A Harem."

This will all happen after Abbe and Cugie and the band fulfill an eleven weeks engagement in Europe opening in Barcelona, Spain, July 23.

Well, I've heard of inducements held out to actors to make certain pictures, but Anthony Quinn has received the all-time tops. So eager are Ponti-De Laurentis to get Tony for their next, they've offered him a bonus of a medieval castle in Italy if he accepts!

Poor Tony. He wants that castle sooo much, but he's signed on the dotted line to report within two weeks for "The Number One," the bullfighter story, for Bud Boettinger in Mexico City.

There's a slim chance, however, that if Quinn can contact Boettinger he might talk him into postponing the bull fight picture to a later date.

I was happy to be the first to print that Suzan Ball had been declared well enough by her doctor to play in "Chief Crazy Horse"—well enough, in fact, to go on location.

Now I am told that John Lund has the other top male role opposite Suzan. John will be seen as the white trapper who falls in love with the Indian girl—but she prefers Victor Mature in the story, and John loses her.

This marks John's return to Universal-International, his first since he did "Just Across The Street" with Ann Sheridan.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Nat King Cole has completed an album of spirituals, with his mother accompanying him at the organ. proceeds from the sale of the records will go to the Greenfield Baptist Church in Chicago, of which Nat's father, Reverend E. J. Cole, is the pastor.

Herm Saunders, well-liked pianist in Hollywood, has been named public relations head of Mark VII Productions and will handle all special promotion for Jack Webb, an od Army buddy. For six years Herm has had the trio at the Bantam Cock.

The best thing that ever happened to Travis Kleefeld is Dinah Shore, who is sponsoring his singing career under the name of Tony Travis. Kleefeld, who did the nightclub circuit for quite a while, has settled down and is devoted to just one girl—Cleo Moore.

Ursula Thiess is back in town after spending a short honeymoon on location with Robert Taylor. Bob will follow tomorrow.

Pat O'Brien will M. C. the Saints and Sinners dinner, which honors popular Los Angeles District Attorney Ernie Roll as "Man of the Year."

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Wherever you go, your manners are on view . . . and that includes your beach behavior!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Not every woman can be strikingly beautiful or talented in the arts, but every woman can, and should, recognize and practice the social graces. Charming manners are an invaluable asset.

Attending the major social event of the year, or simply passing the time of day with a few friends, your speech and actions are observed . . . and remembered. The occasion may be as casual as spending a few hours at a pool or the beach.

So ask yourself this question now: Will I be proud of my beach behavior this summer?

A Checklist

I don't mean that you shouldn't turn a capful of water on a sunbather who refuses to touch toe to water . . . that's play, not necessarily bad manners. (You'll have to judge the reaction for yourself!) But check these points:

Do you spend your time preening instead of playing? Sun time is fun time and should be enjoyed. Of course you want to be beautiful when you're playing mermaid, but not to the extent of combing your hair seconds after you've just combed it, or lying with reflectors all around to tan every tiny inch of you. These are poses, and true charm is never a pose.

Are you a good sport? You don't have to go running every time someone yells "Last one in!" But what's the fun of a day at the beach if you're determined not to go near the water? Your curls will air; your swimsuit will look just as fetching wet as dry; and your escort will tag you as a girl worth asking out again. Men don't like a stubborn stay-behind, you know!

Is your beach attire appropriate? You can wear the most daring of swimsuits if your figure can take it, but why affect a startling costume otherwise? Comment isn't necessarily compliment, it may be behind-the-back talk. No charming, attractive woman depends upon the extreme to make her presence known.

Another Check

How's your voice — loud or ladylike? Some girls seem to believe that when out-of-doors they must speak so that the whole out-of-doors can hear. Your voice carries even more in the open air than indoors so hold it to a pitch and tone pleasant to your immediate companions, and inaudible to the party yards away on the beach.

All of these little test questions are matters of good breeding applicable to every woman. Your manners go with you here, there and everywhere. Aware or unaware of it you're on view. I hope the view is charming in all respects.

YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE

You can achieve an appealing, resonant, sonorous voice—one that can be a vibrant attribute to charm and success—by reading the new booklet, YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE, which gives complete instructions on how to overcome such wearisome speaking qualities as tonelessness, dullness, and lack of proper modulation. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c in coin, plus stamped self-addressed envelope.

Man Guilty Of Passing Fraudulent $10 Check

Ervin P. Savage of Friendsville was found guilty in Trial Magistrates Court Saturday of taking money by false pretenses from Eddie Thorpe also of Friendsville by means of a fraudulent $10 check.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason suspended a six-months House of Correction sentence on condition Savage repay the money by June 5 and be of general good behavior. He was put on probation for two years.

Do FALSE TEETH Rock, Slide or Slip?

FASTEETH, an improved powder to be sprinkled on upper or lower plates, holds false teeth more firmly in place. Do not slide, slip or rock. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. FASTEETH is alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Virginia Avenue's Eddie Miller Wins City Marbles Crown

Wins Coveted Asbury Park Resort Trip

First School Winner Since 1934; National Finals Begin June 20

Little light-haired Eddie Miller won the Cumberland area marbles crown for Virginia Avenue School yesterday in the Cumberland Times-News sponsored finals at Gephart School Playground. The youngster thus became the first representative of his school to win the Cumberland title since 1934 when present City Clerk Wallace Ullery was the Virginia Avenue victor.

Eddie wins the coveted trip to the National Marbles Tournament finals June 20 at Asbury Park, N. J., an all-expenses paid excursion to participate with youngsters all over the country for the national mibs title.

The Virginia Avenue lad defeated Bobby Rosenmarkle of Mt. Royal School in straight games in the finals of the tournament yesterday, winning 7-2, 7-2 and 7-1.

Miller had captured the League No. 2 round robin-title in a playoff with David Clem of Johnson Heights and Gary Barncord of Corriganville after all three lads had ended regular league play in a tie for first place.

The 22 area schoolboy winners were divided into four leagues with Don Van Meter of Allegany winning in League No. 1, Bobby Rosenmerkle in League No. 3 and Norman Merrill of Penn Avenue, League No. 4.

In the semi finals Rosenmerkle defeated Merrill, 7-3, 1-7, 7-5 and 7-5 while Miller was returned the victor over Van Meter, 7-2, 7-2, 4-7 and 7-2.

The two finalists were awarded baseballs used by Robert M. "Lefty" Grove when he was pitching for the Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics many years ago. Grove autographed each ball and inscribed the date and score of the game on the baseballs. The two runners-up also received autographed baseballs from Grove who was a spectator at yesterday's finals.

Each school champ was given a "Marbles Champion" T-shirt and four movie tickets prior to the beginning of the Cumberland finals which were begun Tuesday but were interrupted by rain and completed yesterday.

Runners-up in the four leagues received two movie tickets. They were Terry Bolinger, Centre Street and James Boyland, SS. Peter and Paul, in League No. 1; David Clem and Gary Barncord in League No. 2; Allen Snyder, Ridgeley, James Beck, LaSalle and Danny Callis, Fort Hill, in League No. 3; and Charles Tingler, Wiley Ford, Robert Page, Carver and Frankie Williamson, Gephart, in League No. 4.

Other school finalists were Tommy Simpson, St. Mary's; Wally Harshberger, LaVale; Don Hillegas, West Side; Paul Burger, Cresaptown; Robert Imes, St. Patrick's; Clifton Turner, John Humbird; Donny Humbertson, Columbia Street; and Bruce Smith, East Side.

Ring referees were Augustine Diaz, Dr. Boyd A. Mertens, William E. Kelly and Patrick A. Tierney. James E. Day was chief scorekeeper and J. William Hunt was tournament director. The rings were prepared by the City Recreation Department.

Smith's Homer Beats Yankees In 10th, 8-7

Newhouser Is Victor Over Johnny Sain

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) — Al Smith homered into the left field seats in the 10th inning tonight for the winning run as the league leading Cleveland Indians overcame a seven run first inning deficit and whipped the New York Yankees 8-7.

The Indians fought back to within a single run after four innings but had to go until the ninth to get a tie. Bobby Avila smashed Johnny Sain's second pitch of the night high into the left field stands to even the score.

Sain had just taken over from Allie Reynolds at the start of the ninth. He also was the victim of Smith's drive in the 10th as he lost his second game.

After the first inning spree the Yankees were held hitless through nine innings by five Cleveland pitchers who followed starter Early Wynn.

Hal Newhouser, who took over at the start of the eighth, was the winner, his second triumph of his comeback and his 202nd of his major league career.

Carter Kayoes Charley Riley

Wins By Knockout In Second Round

ST. LOUIS, June 2 (AP)—Former lightweight champion Jimmy Carter of New York floored veteran Charley Riley of St. Louis twice in the second round of their scheduled 10-round bout tonight, the last time for a knockout.

Carter weighed 137 pounds and Riley 133½.

Carter, who originally was slated to fight Paddy DeMarco in an attempt to regain the lightweight crown in San Francisco tonight, fired three jarring rights before landing a fourth on chillin' Charley's jaw which sent him sprawling for an 8-count.

Riley no sooner got to his feet than Carter planted another right to the jaw. Riley toppled backward. The small crowd rose to its feet with the realization the fight was over.

The knockout came 2:39 in the second round of the televised match at the St. Louis Arena.

Carter, in the first round, carefully felt out the 31-year-old Riley, who has made it a habit of meeting champions but who left no doubt tonight that he was on the downhill grade.

In the opening round, Carter lashed out several times with a leading left which jarred Riley as he kept trying to move in. In the next round, however, after a cautious few seconds Carter took command, showing some of the stuff that twice has carried him to the lightweight championship.

Attendance at the fight was 1,576 with gross receipts of $2,279.50.

Appeal Is Denied

NEW YORK, June 2 (INS) — New York State Racing Commissioner George Monaghan tonight rejected an appeal by Harness Driver Wayne "Curly" Smart of Delaware, Ohio, for a reduction of his one-year suspension from tracks in New York State.

The last time the Chicago White Sox won the American League pennant was in 1919.

Red Sox Defeat Chicago 5 To 2

BOSTON, June 2 (AP)—Fine clutch pitching by Frank Sullivan and reliever Ellis Kinder stemmed Chicago's late inning comeback bids tonight as Boston defeated the White Sox 5-2.

When Chico Carrasquel led off Chicago's eighth with his sixth home run into the left field screen on a 0-1 pitch and Sullivan worked the count to 3-1 on Nellie Fox, Kinder came on to save the rangy kid's second victory of the season.

Jackie Jensen's two-run triple was the feature blow of a four run first inning that got Boston underway but it took a lot of pitching and brilliant defensive play to hand Chicago its third loss in its last 12 games.

Fort Hill Winds Up City Series With Allegany Today

Fort Hill Sentinels, deadlocked with LaSalle for the lead in the city championship race, face Allegany's Campers in an important game today at Campobello at 4 o'clock.

The Sentinels won the series opener from Allegany, 6-5, and a sweep of the series wound put Fort Hill in the lead with a 3-1 record. Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's tossers are now tied with LaSalle in the city race, each school owning 2-1 records.

After today's game only one city contest remains on the boards. That's the Allegany at LaSalle tilt on June 7.

Allegany has lost two and won none in the city race.

Never Say Die Second U. S. Horse To Win Epsom Derby

33 To 1 Longshot In Stunning Upset

EPSOM, England, June 2 (AP) — Never Say Die, a 33-1 longshot from Kentucky, scored a stunning upset victory today in the Epsom Derby to become the first American-bred colt to win England's great 3-year-old classic since 1881.

The magnificent chestnut owned by Robert Sterling Clark of New York and Upperville, Va., navigated sharp Tattenham Corner like it was a simple gallop on the Downs, hit the head of the stretch full tilt and romped home a two-length winner. Clark is in New York and didn't see the race.

Never Say Die is only the second American-bred to win the English Derby since it was first raced in 1780. Pierre Lorrillard's Iroquois came across the Atlantic to win it 73 years ago.

A huge Epsom Downs throng of 250,000, including Queen Elizabeth, roared as the American colt drove to the lead under Jockey Lester Piggott with less than a quarter of a mile remaining. Never Say Die took the lead from Darius, and finished a strong, decisive winner.

Darius, a 7-1 choice, finished third, beaten a neck by another 33-1 shot, Arabian Night. Elopement was fourth in the field of 22 3-year-olds.

Time for the mile and one half derby was 2:35 4-5, compared with the race record of 2:33 4-5, made in 1936 by Mahmoud. All starters carried 126 pounds.

Brings Up Rear

ANNAPOLIS, June 2 (AP) — Dick Olson was Navy's football captain last fall but he'll graduate with another title—anchor man—this Friday.

Olson, 22-year-old Ohioan, wound up at the foot of his class of 854 midshipment academically.

Nats Beat Detroit

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Washington shelled Steve Gromek for six runs in the first four innings and coasted to a 7-2 victory over Detroit tonight behind the six-hit pitching of rookie Dean Stone. Pete Runnels pounded a three-run homer, his first at Griffith Stadium, in the third inning.

Eddie Yost of the Senators played his 700th consecutive game, the longest streak of appearances since the late Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees set his record. Yost has played steadily since July 5, 1949.

Gehrig played in 2,130 successive games.

Whitney Martin's Sports Trail

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—A lot of folks, peering intently through dark glasses, see nothing but gloomy days ahead for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Here Memorial Day has come and gone, and instead of being in first place in the National League, and improving their lead by the day, the Bums as of Monday were staring at the napes of the necks of the Milwaukee Braves, with the Giants and Phils snapping belligerently at their heels.

Well, it might be well to note that after the Memorial Day twin bills a year ago Brooklyn had the tremendous lead of one-half game over the Braves, with the Cardinals only two and one-half games behind.

And it also might be noted Brooklyn was leading by exactly the same margin on June 30, 1953, and by July 15 had increased the margin to one and one-half games.

This is interesting in view of the fact Brooklyn won the pennant by 13 games. From July 15 to July 31 it increased its margin to eight games.

That it has held up as well as it has to date is quite remarkable considering it was without the services of Roy Campanella for a considerable period.

His fortitude has no limit. We recall during the World Series last fall his hand—the one which he eventually had operated on not long ago—was puffed to the size of a sugar-cured ham, and he had difficulty holding a bat. He nevertheless put everything he had into a swing when a home run would mean the ball game, and he got his home run.

Getting back to the current National League race, two teams—the Reds and the Cubs—have made it a different race from last year.

Last year at this time five teams could be said to be in the running. The Giants, in fifth place, were six and one-half games out of the lead, but the sixth and seventh place clubs, the same Reds and Cubs, were tied 2½ games back.

It is the improved stature of these teams which has added a greater element of uncertainty to the race this year.

We doubt the Dodgers will win this year by as big a margin as last year, but we wouldn't want to bet against their winning.

Each school champ was given a "Marbles Champion" T-shirt and four movie tickets prior to the beginning of the Cumberland finals which were begun Tuesday but were interrupted by rain and completed yesterday.

Runners-up in the four leagues received two movie tickets. They were Terry Bolinger, Centre Street and James Boyland, SS. Peter and Paul, in League No. 1; David Clem and Gary Barncord in League No. 2; Allen Snyder, Ridgeley, James Beck, LaSalle and Danny Callis, Fort Hill, in League No. 3; and Charles Tingler, Wiley Ford, Robert Page, Carver and Frankie Williamson, Gephart, in League No. 4.

Other school finalists were Tommy Simpson, St. Mary's; Wally Harshberger, LaVale; Don Hillegas, West Side; Paul Burger, Cresaptown; Robert Imes, St. Patrick's; Clifton Turner, John Humbird; Donny Humbertson, Columbia Street; and Bruce Smith, East Side.

Ring referees were Augustine Diaz, Dr. Boyd A. Mertens, William E. Kelly and Patrick A. Tierney. James E. Day was chief scorekeeper and J. William Hunt was tournament director. The rings were prepared by the City Recreation Department.

Smith's Homer Beats Yankees In 10th, 8-7

Newhouser Is Victor Over Johnny Sain

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) — Al Smith homered into the left field seats in the 10th inning tonight for the winning run as the league leading Cleveland Indians overcame a seven run first inning deficit and whipped the New York Yankees 8-7.

The Indians fought back to within a single run after four innings but had to go until the ninth to get a tie. Bobby Avila smashed Johnny Sain's second pitch of the night high into the left field stands to even the score.

Sain had just taken over from Allie Reynolds at the start of the ninth. He also was the victim of Smith's drive in the 10th as he lost his second game.

After the first inning spree the Yankees were held hitless through nine innings by five Cleveland pitchers who followed starter Early Wynn.

Hal Newhouser, who took over at the start of the eighth, was the winner, his second triumph of his comeback and his 202nd of his major league career.

Carter Kayoes Charley Riley

Wins By Knockout In Second Round

ST. LOUIS, June 2 (AP)—Former lightweight champion Jimmy Carter of New York floored veteran Charley Riley of St. Louis twice in the second round of their scheduled 10-round bout tonight, the last time for a knockout.

Carter weighed 137 pounds and Riley 133½.

Carter, who originally was slated to fight Paddy DeMarco in an attempt to regain the lightweight crown in San Francisco tonight, fired three jarring rights before landing a fourth on chillin' Charley's jaw which sent him sprawling for an 8-count.

Riley no sooner got to his feet than Carter planted another right to the jaw. Riley toppled backward. The small crowd rose to its feet with the realization the fight was over.

The knockout came 2:39 in the second round of the televised match at the St. Louis Arena.

Carter, in the first round, carefully felt out the 31-year-old Riley, who has made it a habit of meeting champions but who left no doubt tonight that he was on the downhill grade.

In the opening round, Carter lashed out several times with a leading left which jarred Riley as he kept trying to move in. In the next round, however, after a cautious few seconds Carter took command, showing some of the stuff that twice has carried him to the lightweight championship.

Attendance at the fight was 1,576 with gross receipts of $2,279.50.

Appeal Is Denied

NEW YORK, June 2 (INS) — New York State Racing Commissioner George Monaghan tonight rejected an appeal by Harness Driver Wayne "Curly" Smart of Delaware, Ohio, for a reduction of his one-year suspension from tracks in New York State.

The last time the Chicago White Sox won the American League pennant was in 1919.

Red Sox Defeat Chicago 5 To 2

BOSTON, June 2 (AP)—Fine clutch pitching by Frank Sullivan and reliever Ellis Kinder stemmed Chicago's late inning comeback bids tonight as Boston defeated the White Sox 5-2.

When Chico Carrasquel led off Chicago's eighth with his sixth home run into the left field screen on a 0-1 pitch and Sullivan worked the count to 3-1 on Nellie Fox, Kinder came on to save the rangy kid's second victory of the season.

Jackie Jensen's two-run triple was the feature blow of a four run first inning that got Boston underway but it took a lot of pitching and brilliant defensive play to hand Chicago its third loss in its last 12 games.

Fort Hill Winds Up City Series With Allegany Today

Fort Hill Sentinels, deadlocked with LaSalle for the lead in the city championship race, face Allegany's Campers in an important game today at Campobello at 4 o'clock.

The Sentinels won the series opener from Allegany, 6-5, and a sweep of the series wound put Fort Hill in the lead with a 3-1 record. Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's tossers are now tied with LaSalle in the city race, each school owning 2-1 records.

After today's game only one city contest remains on the boards. That's the Allegany at LaSalle tilt on June 7.

Allegany has lost two and won none in the city race.

Never Say Die Second U. S. Horse To Win Epsom Derby

33 To 1 Longshot In Stunning Upset

EPSOM, England, June 2 (AP) — Never Say Die, a 33-1 longshot from Kentucky, scored a stunning upset victory today in the Epsom Derby to become the first American-bred colt to win England's great 3-year-old classic since 1881.

The magnificent chestnut owned by Robert Sterling Clark of New York and Upperville, Va., navigated sharp Tattenham Corner like it was a simple gallop on the Downs, hit the head of the stretch full tilt and romped home a two-length winner. Clark is in New York and didn't see the race.

Never Say Die is only the second American-bred to win the English Derby since it was first raced in 1780. Pierre Lorrillard's Iroquois came across the Atlantic to win it 73 years ago.

A huge Epsom Downs throng of 250,000, including Queen Elizabeth, roared as the American colt drove to the lead under Jockey Lester Piggott with less than a quarter of a mile remaining. Never Say Die took the lead from Darius, and finished a strong, decisive winner.

Darius, a 7-1 choice, finished third, beaten a neck by another 33-1 shot, Arabian Night. Elopement was fourth in the field of 22 3-year-olds.

Time for the mile and one half derby was 2:35 4-5, compared with the race record of 2:33 4-5, made in 1936 by Mahmoud. All starters carried 126 pounds.

Brings Up Rear

ANNAPOLIS, June 2 (AP) — Dick Olson was Navy's football captain last fall but he'll graduate with another title—anchor man—this Friday.

Olson, 22-year-old Ohioan, wound up at the foot of his class of 854 midshipment academically.

Nats Beat Detroit

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Washington shelled Steve Gromek for six runs in the first four innings and coasted to a 7-2 victory over Detroit tonight behind the six-hit pitching of rookie Dean Stone. Pete Runnels pounded a three-run homer, his first at Griffith Stadium, in the third inning.

Eddie Yost of the Senators played his 700th consecutive game, the longest streak of appearances since the late Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees set his record. Yost has played steadily since July 5, 1949.

Gehrig played in 2,130 successive games.

Whitney Martin's Sports Trail

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—A lot of folks, peering intently through dark glasses, see nothing but gloomy days ahead for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Here Memorial Day has come and gone, and instead of being in first place in the National League, and improving their lead by the day, the Bums as of Monday were staring at the napes of the necks of the Milwaukee Braves, with the Giants and Phils snapping belligerently at their heels.

Well, it might be well to note that after the Memorial Day twin bills a year ago Brooklyn had the tremendous lead of one-half game over the Braves, with the Cardinals only two and one-half games behind.

And it also might be noted Brooklyn was leading by exactly the same margin on June 30, 1953, and by July 15 had increased the margin to one and one-half games.

This is interesting in view of the fact Brooklyn won the pennant by 13 games. From July 15 to July 31 it increased its margin to eight games.

That it has held up as well as it has to date is quite remarkable considering it was without the services of Roy Campanella for a considerable period.

His fortitude has no limit. We recall during the World Series last fall his hand—the one which he eventually had operated on not long ago—was puffed to the size of a sugar-cured ham, and he had difficulty holding a bat. He nevertheless put everything he had into a swing when a home run would mean the ball game, and he got his home run.

Getting back to the current National League race, two teams—the Reds and the Cubs—have made it a different race from last year.

Last year at this time five teams could be said to be in the running. The Giants, in fifth place, were six and one-half games out of the lead, but the sixth and seventh place clubs, the same Reds and Cubs, were tied 2½ games back.

It is the improved stature of these teams which has added a greater element of uncertainty to the race this year.

We doubt the Dodgers will win this year by as big a margin as last year, but we wouldn't want to bet against their winning.

Ft. Hill, Valley Score Wins, Hyndman Forfeits To LaSalle

Markley Wins 5th Decision For Sentinels

Cavanaughmen Defeat Flintstone, 8 To 5; Beall Loses, 7 To 6

Fort Hill High's Sentinels scored early and often, then withstood a late Flintstone surge to defeat Coach Stoney Jackson's charges, 8-5, yesterday at Fort Hill in a Bi-State Conference engagement. It was Fort Hill's sixth straight victory.

Meanwhile the league-leading LaSalle Explorers won over Hyndman High's nine via forfeit when the latter team failed to field a full team at Penn Avenue field for the conference game. Hyndman had graduation exercises last Wednesday and most of the team's players were unavailable for yesterday's important game.

Unable To Agree On Date

LaSalle authorities said the school officials were unable to agree on a new date for the game and Hyndman forfeited the tilt giving LaSalle its eighth straight win.

At Barton Valley High's Black Knights came up with four runs in the fifth inning to defeat Beall High's defending co-champions 7-6. It was the Knights fifth win of the season and broke a seven game losing streak for Coach John Meyers' tossers.

Fort Hill trailing LaSalle by a half-game came up with four runs in the fourth inning and two more in the fifth to salt the Flintstone contest away. Until the seventh when Flintstone scored three times the only runs the visitors had garnered against Jesse Markley's hurling were two home runs by Dwight Morris, Flintstone left fielder. Flintstone collected five singles in scoring a futile three tallies in the seventh against Markley who went the route to register his fifth victory for Coach Bobby Cavanaugh's Sentinels.

Ronnie Rice Is Injured

John Wilson pitched the Knights to their victory over Beall and collected three hits to lead his team at the plate. Clark hit a circuit clout for Beall in the third and when the Mountaineers threatened in the seventh Jim Wilson came on to pitch to the final batter, getting him to ground out to end the game.

One of Wilson's three bingles was a double but the deciding blow was Todd Cuthbertson's three-bagger with the bases loaded for Valley when the Knights pushed over their game-winning four runs in the fifth.

Green had three singles for Beall. Ronnie Rice, Beall's starting hurler, was cut on the face below the eye in a play at the plate and left the game in the third inning. Lloyd was the losing pitcher. The lineups:

Hogan, Snead Pass Western Open Tourney

Field Of 131 Seeks $15,000 In Prizes

CINCINNATI, June 2 (AP)—The top men of big time golf will get a chance here during the next four days to win a tournament without either of the twin threats of Ben Hogan and Sam Snead hanging over them.

A field of 131 is scheduled to tee off tomorrow at the Kenwood Country Club in the $15,000 Western Open. The 72-hole event will run through Sunday.

Snead and Hogan didn't enter but virtually all other top pros will be on hand to try their luck over a 6,800 yard, par 71, layout at Kenwood.

Kenwood has two 18 hole courses and the tournament will use nine holes of each in order to provide the best test of golf. It appeared to be in perfect shape, recent rains having helped the rough to grow and to improve the fairways and greens.

But his competition will include such expert shotmakers as Walter Burkemo of Detroit, the 1953 national PGA champion; Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C.; Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N.C., last week's winner of the Colonial Invitational; Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y., Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex.; Doug Ford of Yonkers, N. Y.; Ed (Porky) Oliver of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y.; Marty Furgol of Sherman Oaks, Calif.; Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., the 1953 amateur champion now turned pro, and Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., a former National Open champion.

Oliver, Palmer, Furgol and Mangrum also are former winners of the Western.

Leaders To Clash In Little League

Two of the three teams tied for first place in the Pen Mar Baseball Little League will clash today at LaVale when the LaVale Maroons host the Ellerslie nine at 6 p. m. Both teams, along with Hyndman, have identical 3-1 records.

Yesterday Barrelville moved within a half game of the leaders with a 5-4 decision over the LaVale Orioles at Barrelville. An error on a pop fly with two out enabled the winners to score in the bottom of the seventh of an overtime game.

Ronald Emerick and Leroy Morris each had three-baggers for Barrelville while John Graham collected two hits for LaVale. The score:

Amvets Stop Schute's 5-4

Sport Shoppe, Old Germans Victorious

The Cumberland Amvets rallied for two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning at Campobello yesterday to hand the league-leading Schute's Roofers their first defeat in the City Softball League, 5-4.

The loss snapped an eight-game Schute's winning skein and was the sixth triumph in nine games for the Amvets.

Jimmy Collins opened the winning frame for the Amvets with a walk, moved to second on Esposito's sacrifice. After Jim Fradiska was passed Clay Ingram and Geatz came through with successive singles to drive in the tying and winning runs.

Ingram and Geatz each had two hits for the winners while Norman Sell banged out a three-bagger. Koelker had two hits for Schute's and Ray Taylor a double.

In other games yesterday the Old Germans blasted the South End team 19-1 for their seventh win at Taylor Field. Bill Scott pitched five-hit ball for the triumph. Marshall Barbe had two singles and a double, Bob Mattingley a home run and two singles, Bill Bratt a homerun and Mike Birmingham a circuit clout for the winners.

At Stitcher Field the Sport Shoppe tossers rallied for seven runs in the fifth inning to turn back Narrows Esso, 12-10. Bobby Christ and Chuck Eirich had two safeties apiece and Luke Whitacre a triple for the winners. Dick Morgan and Leo Rhodes had two hits each for Esso. The scores:

MCALESTER, Okla., June 2 (AP)—Prison gates opened on a bright new world today for a convicted Negro burglar whose behind-the-walls baseball feats landed him an early parole and a chance at the big leagues, thanks to the New York Yankees.

Billy Joe Moore, 24-year-old first baseman from Clinton, Okla., was on his way to Grand Forks, N. D., in the Northern League with a new suit of clothes—paid for by the Yankees—and a $250-a-month contract in his pocket.

Moore's incredible change of fortune was engineered by New York scouts Joe McDermott and Tom Greenwade, who spotted centerfielder Mickey Mantle; the Oklahoma Pardon and Parole Board; his prison coaches and Warden Jerome J. The 24-year-old, 6-foot-2, 220-pound slugger, committed to prison for burglary in 1948, was still blinking in amazement when he left for his shot at the big time.

His prison athletic record was so phenomenal in boxing, football and basketball as well as baseball, Yankee scouts promoted a tryout that ended here yesterday.

In 67 games in 1952, Moore slugged 46 homers and hit .390. His output in 40 games last year was 20 homers and a .389 average, and this year he clouted 11 home runs in 22 games and was going at a .405 clip.

Montia Kennedy Back To Richmond

RICHMOND, Va., June 2 (AP)—Montia (Monte) Kennedy, the sometimes brilliant but often erratic southpaw who spent parts of eight seasons with the New York Giants, is coming back to the city in which he got hhis start in professional baseball.

Harry C. Seibold, president of the International League Richmond Virginians, said today Kennedy, a 32-year-old native of nearby Amelia, Va., had been optioned to the Virginians by the Giants by way of their Minneapolis farm club in the American Association.

Kennedy has been suffering with an ailing left arm this spring and has pitched only six innings.

Ft. Hill, Valley Score Wins, Hyndman Forfeits To LaSalle

Markley Wins 5th Decision For Sentinels

Cavanaughmen Defeat Flintstone, 8 To 5; Beall Loses, 7 To 6

Fort Hill High's Sentinels scored early and often, then withstood a late Flintstone surge to defeat Coach Stoney Jackson's charges, 8-5, yesterday at Fort Hill in a Bi-State Conference engagement. It was Fort Hill's sixth straight victory.

Meanwhile the league-leading LaSalle Explorers won over Hyndman High's nine via forfeit when the latter team failed to field a full team at Penn Avenue field for the conference game. Hyndman had graduation exercises last Wednesday and most of the team's players were unavailable for yesterday's important game.

Unable To Agree On Date

LaSalle authorities said the school officials were unable to agree on a new date for the game and Hyndman forfeited the tilt giving LaSalle its eighth straight win.

At Barton Valley High's Black Knights came up with four runs in the fifth inning to defeat Beall High's defending co-champions 7-6. It was the Knights fifth win of the season and broke a seven game losing streak for Coach John Meyers' tossers.

Fort Hill trailing LaSalle by a half-game came up with four runs in the fourth inning and two more in the fifth to salt the Flintstone contest away. Until the seventh when Flintstone scored three times the only runs the visitors had garnered against Jesse Markley's hurling were two home runs by Dwight Morris, Flintstone left fielder. Flintstone collected five singles in scoring a futile three tallies in the seventh against Markley who went the route to register his fifth victory for Coach Bobby Cavanaugh's Sentinels.

Ronnie Rice Is Injured

John Wilson pitched the Knights to their victory over Beall and collected three hits to lead his team at the plate. Clark hit a circuit clout for Beall in the third and when the Mountaineers threatened in the seventh Jim Wilson came on to pitch to the final batter, getting him to ground out to end the game.

One of Wilson's three bingles was a double but the deciding blow was Todd Cuthbertson's three-bagger with the bases loaded for Valley when the Knights pushed over their game-winning four runs in the fifth.

Green had three singles for Beall.

Ronnie Rice, Beall's starting hurler, was cut on the face below the eye in a play at the plate and left the game in the third inning. Lloyd was the losing pitcher. The lineups:

Hogan, Snead Pass Western Open Tourney

Field Of 131 Seeks $15,000 In Prizes

CINCINNATI, June 2 (AP)—The top men of big time golf will get a chance here during the next four days to win a tournament without either of the twin threats of Ben Hogan and Sam Snead hanging over them.

A field of 131 is scheduled to tee off tomorrow at the Kenwood Country Club in the $15,000 Western Open. The 72-hole event will run through Sunday.

Snead and Hogan didn't enter but virtually all other top pros will be on hand to try their luck over a 6,800 yard, par 71, layout at Kenwood.

Kenwood has two 18 hole courses and the tournament will use nine holes of each in order to provide the best test of golf. It appeared to be in perfect shape, recent rains having helped the rough to grow and to improve the fairways and greens.

But his competition will include such expert shotmakers as Walter Burkemo of Detroit, the 1953 national PGA champion; Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C.; Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N.C., last week's winner of the Colonial Invitational; Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y., Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex.; Doug Ford of Yonkers, N. Y.; Ed (Porky) Oliver of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y.; Marty Furgol of Sherman Oaks, Calif.; Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., the 1953 amateur champion now turned pro, and Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., a former National Open champion.

Oliver, Palmer, Furgol and Mangrum also are former winners of the Western.

Leaders To Clash In Little League

Two of the three teams tied for first place in the Pen Mar Baseball Little League will clash today at LaVale when the LaVale Maroons host the Ellerslie nine at 6 p. m. Both teams, along with Hyndman, have identical 3-1 records.

Yesterday Barrelville moved within a half game of the leaders with a 5-4 decision over the LaVale Orioles at Barrelville. An error on a pop fly with two out enabled the winners to score in the bottom of the seventh of an overtime game.

Ronald Emerick and Leroy Morris each had three-baggers for Barrelville while John Graham collected two hits for LaVale. The score:

Yankees Help Negro Player Gain Parole

Billy Joe Moore Is Placed At Grand Forks

MCALESTER, Okla., June 2 (AP)—Prison gates opened on a bright new world today for a convicted Negro burglar whose behind-the-walls baseball feats landed him an early parole and a chance at the big leagues, thanks to the New York Yankees.

Billy Joe Moore, 24-year-old first baseman from Clinton, Okla., was on his way to Grand Forks, N. D., in the Northern League with a new suit of clothes—paid for by the Yankees—and a $250-a-month contract in his pocket.

Moore's incredible change of fortune was engineered by New York scouts Joe McDermott and Tom Greenwade, who spotted centerfielder Mickey Mantle; the Oklahoma Pardon and Parole Board; his prison coaches and Warden Jerome J. Folks Complaining Orioles' Games Keep Them Awake At Night

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP) — It's nice to have the Baltimore Orioles back in the major leagues, but their night baseball games are keeping folks awake.

City Council has been asked to install a 11 p.m. curfew so residents of the stadium area can get more sleep.

Two resolutions asking for the curfew were submitted by Councilwoman Anna M. Arthur and were referred to committee for hearing.

She blamed part of the noise on policemen blowing their whistles directing traffic and the rest on noisy fans leaving the games.

Mrs. Arthur noted that a recent double header with Chicago didn't end until 1:15 a.m. She said the noise of departing fans continued until 2 a.m.

Native Dancer Named For Monmouth 'Cap

OCEANPORT, N. J., June 2 (INS)—Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Native Dancer, whose racing future has been a big question, was nominated today for the $50,000 Monmouth Handicap at Monmouth Park July 24.

The great grey champion, currently sidelined at Belmont Park with lameness in his right foreleg, had been withdrawn from the Suburban Handicap at Belmont last Memorial Day.

Since then, the racing world has been guessing as to whether Native Dancer, winner of 20 out of 21 starts in his brilliant career, will ever race again.

Sweden's Davis Cup Stars Are Winners

STOCKHOLM, June 2 (AP)—Sweden's top Davis Cup players today defeated U. S. tennis veterans Art Larsen and Hal Burrows in the first half of a warmup match before the Swedes' clash with Italy in the European zone quarter finals of the Davis Cup tournament here June 10-12.

Sweden's number one player, Sven Davidson, defeated Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., 7-5, 6-4, and Sweden's number two man, Lennart Bergelin, outplayed Burrows of Charlottesville, Va., 6-1, 6-2.

Bauer Replaces Tom Henrich As Clutch Player

Becomes New Yankees "Old Reliable" Hitter

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) — They used to call Tommy Henrich "old reliable" when he drove in the important runs for the New York Yankees. Tommy is gone now but the Yankees may have another "reliable" in Hank Bauer.

The husky, 6-foot 32-year-old is growing into the big guy of the club little by little. He's coming through when the clutch play is needed. Yesterday, for instance, he drove in four runs with a three-run homer and a single. Some days it's a hit, other days it's a sparkling catch.

It was this same Bauer who, three weeks ago, was confused with someone else when a report out of Washington said he was listed by House committee investigating athletes allegedly coddled by the military services.

This was denied by the Yankee ball club and probably by a lot of ex-marines who had done what Sgt. Bauer told them to when they were together in the islands.

Hank Bauer, out of East St. Louis, Ill., enlisted in the United States Marines in January 19, 1942.

"I took my boot in San Diego and then volunteered for the raider battalion. I made it and we trained at Camp Pendleton. Then I went overseas."

This meant New Hebrides, Feb. 9, 1943.

Hank said, "I was a gunner, a platoon sergeant. I had charge of 12 machine guns. It was Marine Raider Battalion, Sixth Div. We were in four invasions. New Georgia, Okinawa, Guam and Emirau."

"Which was the roughest?" Hank was asked.

"Okinawa. There were more Japs there, there was more artillery, it was closer to their homeland and they fought harder."

Two R. C. Games Today

The B.P.O. Elks will play the Knights of Columbus at Allegany Field and the Cumberland Outdoor Club will meet the F. O. Eagles at Stitcher Field in Rocking Chair Softball League games scheduled for today.

Cancel Tournament

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) — The New York World-Telegram and Sun has discontinued its hole-in-one golf tournament after 20 years because it has grown too big.

More than 6,000 eligible "acers" are registered and last August 1,461 golfers participated, spreading the competition over seven days at three sites.

Hopkins Golf Trophy Battle Starts Monday

TORONTO, June 2 (AP)—A couple of hot United States golfers will lead an American team into Toronto Monday to meet the top seven Canadian professionals in an international golf tournament for the Hopkins Trophy.

Heading the invading contingent will be Dave Douglas, current Canadian Open champion, and Walter Burkemo, who won the PGA Tournament in the U.S. last year. They will be bolstered by Ed (Porky) Oliver, Lew Worsham, Chandler Harper and two other top U.S. golfers.

Allman Will Play Against Pro Lions

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., June 2 (AP)—Fullback Tommy Allman, West Virginia's leading ground gainer on the 1953 football squad, will play with the college All-Star team against the Detroit Lions on Aug. 13 in Chicago.

Allman, who was one of the three captains of the 1953 Mountaineers, said he had accepted an invitation to play with the college team.

Allman, who has been signed to play pro football with the Green Bay Packers, gained 478 yards in 80 carries with the Mountaineer team last year, for an average of 5.97 yards.

Hogan And Wife Fly To New York

FORT WORTH, Texas June 2 (AP)—Ben Hogan and his wife left Fort Worth today by airplane for New York and Summitt, N. J., where he is scheduled to play his National Golf Day round Saturday.

Although feeling much improved, Hogan still is showing effects of the virus infection that knocked him out of the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament last week and put him in bed for four days.

Cliff Hafer Wins 3rd Flight Title

Cliff Hafer defeated John Moberly 2 up yesterday to win the third flight championship in the Cumberland Country Club's men's spring golf handicap tournament.

In other matches played yesterday Bill George downed Mort Peskin Jr., 4 and 3 in a first flight match and Phil Jenkins topped John Topper 5 and 4 in a championship flight contest.

The Cumberland Country Club will sponsor the annual National Golf Day tournament again this year as golfers all over the country try to beat Ben Hogan. National Golf Day is Sunday, June 6, and CCC golfers have from today through Sunday to post their scores.

Charles Reported In Top Condition

Ez Hopes To Scale 188 For Fight On June 17

MONTICELLO, N. Y., June 2 (AP)—Ezzard Charles weighed in at 198 pounds today, about 10 more then he expects to scale on June 17 when he meets heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano for the title.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello of the State Athletic Commission weighed the ex-champion after giving Charles a thorough examination.

"It will be no trouble for Charles to take off 10 pounds, especially now with hot weather here," said Dr. Nardiello. "I wouldn't want him to come in under 188 and I don't think he will. He's in wonderful condition."

Charles relaxed at camp and did not box. He will resume ring work tomorrow.

Dr. Nardiello then visited Marciano at his camp 10 miles away. Marciano weighed 190 and expects to tip the beam at 185 for the fight.

"Rocky is in terrific condition," said the doctor. "He could go tonight."

Seixas, Trabert Are Easy Victors

COPENHAGEN, June 2 (AP)—Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert, top U.S. tennis players, tonight trounced Denmark's teen-age hopes, Soeren Hoejberg and Joergen Ulrich.

Seixas beat Ulrich, 6-0, 6-4 and Trabert defeated Hoejberg 6-0, 6-0. In the doubles Seixas and Trabert defeated Hoejberg and Ulrich, 6-1, 6-1.

Sixth Annual Frostburg Eagles Sportsmanship Award Friday

Beall Athlete Gets Eagles' Award Friday

Jones, Carter, Holmes, Brenneman And Smith Named As Candidates

Five Beall High School athletes, namely, Jack Jones, Joseph Carter, Pinkney Holmes, Ronald Brenneman and James Smith, have been nominated for the sixth annual Sportsmanship Award offered by Frostburg Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

The winner of the award will be announced at Beall High School commencement exercises Friday night and he will be presented a gold wrist watch.

Jack Jones played soccer in his sophomore, junior and senior years, was a member of the wrestling team for two seasons and participated in track and field in 1953 and 1954.

Joseph Carter played on the soccer team in his senior year, was on the basketball squad in his junior and senior years and is a member of Beall's current baseball team.

Pinkney Holmes played on the football team three seasons, co-captained the squad in 1953, was on the basketball team two years and served as co-captain in his senior year and participated in track and field in his junior and senior years.

Ronald Brenneman was the winner of the George's Creek Sportsmanship Award in his senior year, played on the football team three years and was a member of the basketball team in his junior and senior years.

James Smith played on the basketball team in his junior and senior years, was a member of the soccer team in 1953 and was named to the second All-WMI Soccer League team last fall.

1953 — Paul Thompson. 1952 — Enordo Arnone. 1951—Glen Workman. 1950—John Matese. 1949—William Dawson and Darrell Stevens.

Folks Complaining Orioles' Games Keep Them Awake At Night

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP) — It's nice to have the Baltimore Orioles back in the major leagues, but their night baseball games are keeping folks awake.

City Council has been asked to install a 11 p.m. curfew so residents of the stadium area can get more sleep.

Two resolutions asking for the curfew were submitted by Councilwoman Anna M. Arthur and were referred to committee for hearing.

She blamed part of the noise on policemen blowing their whistles directing traffic and the rest on noisy fans leaving the games.

Mrs. Arthur noted that a recent double header with Chicago didn't end until 1:15 a.m. She said the noise of departing fans continued until 2 a.m.

Native Dancer Named For Monmouth 'Cap

OCEANPORT, N. J., June 2 (INS)—Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Native Dancer, whose racing future has been a big question, was nominated today for the $50,000 Monmouth Handicap at Monmouth Park July 24.

The great grey champion, currently sidelined at Belmont Park with lameness in his right foreleg, had been withdrawn from the Suburban Handicap at Belmont last Memorial Day.

Since then, the racing world has been guessing as to whether Native Dancer, winner of 20 out of 21 starts in his brilliant career, will ever race again.

Sweden's Davis Cup Stars Are Winners

STOCKHOLM, June 2 (AP)—Sweden's top Davis Cup players today defeated U. S. tennis veterans Art Larsen and Hal Burrows in the first half of a warmup match before the Swedes' clash with Italy in the European zone quarter finals of the Davis Cup tournament here June 10-12.

Sweden's number one player, Sven Davidson, defeated Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., 7-5, 6-4, and Sweden's number two man, Lennart Bergelin, outplayed Burrows of Charlottesville, Va., 6-1, 6-2.

Bauer Replaces Tom Henrich As Clutch Player

Becomes New Yankees "Old Reliable" Hitter

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) — They used to call Tommy Henrich "old reliable" when he drove in the important runs for the New York Yankees. Tommy is gone now but the Yankees may have another "reliable" in Hank Bauer.

The husky, 6-foot 32-year-old is growing into the big guy of the club little by little. He's coming through when the clutch play is needed. Yesterday, for instance, he drove in four runs with a three-run homer and a single. Some days it's a hit, other days it's a sparkling catch.

It was this same Bauer who, three weeks ago, was confused with someone else when a report out of Washington said he was listed by House committee investigating athletes allegedly coddled by the military services.

This was denied by the Yankee ball club and probably by a lot of ex-marines who had done what Sgt. Bauer told them to when they were together in the islands.

Hank Bauer, out of East St. Louis, Ill., enlisted in the United States Marines in January 19, 1942.

"I took my boot in San Diego and then volunteered for the raider battalion. I made it and we trained at Camp Pendleton. Then I went overseas."

This meant New Hebrides, Feb. 9, 1943.

Hank said, "I was a gunner, a platoon sergeant. I had charge of 12 machine guns. It was Marine Raider Battalion, Sixth Div. We were in four invasions. New Georgia, Okinawa, Guam and Emirau."

"Which was the roughest?" Hank was asked.

"Okinawa. There were more Japs there, there was more artillery, it was closer to their homeland and they fought harder."

Two R. C. Games Today

The B.P.O. Elks will play the Knights of Columbus at Allegany Field and the Cumberland Outdoor Club will meet the F. O. Eagles at Stitcher Field in Rocking Chair Softball League games scheduled for today.

Cancel Tournament

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) — The New York World-Telegram and Sun has discontinued its hole-in-one golf tournament after 20 years because it has grown too big.

More than 6,000 eligible "acers" are registered and last August 1,461 golfers participated, spreading the competition over seven days at three sites.

Hopkins Golf Trophy Battle Starts Monday

TORONTO, June 2 (AP)—A couple of hot United States golfers will lead an American team into Toronto Monday to meet the top seven Canadian professionals in an international golf tournament for the Hopkins Trophy.

Heading the invading contingent will be Dave Douglas, current Canadian Open champion, and Walter Burkemo, who won the PGA Tournament in the U.S. last year. They will be bolstered by Ed (Porky) Oliver, Lew Worsham, Chandler Harper and two other top U.S. golfers.

Allman Will Play Against Pro Lions

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., June 2 (AP)—Fullback Tommy Allman, West Virginia's leading ground gainer on the 1953 football squad, will play with the college All-Star team against the Detroit Lions on Aug. 13 in Chicago.

Allman, who was one of the three captains of the 1953 Mountaineers, said he had accepted an invitation to play with the college team.

Allman, who has been signed to play pro football with the Green Bay Packers, gained 478 yards in 80 carries with the Mountaineer team last year, for an average of 5.97 yards.

Hogan And Wife Fly To New York

FORT WORTH, Texas June 2 (AP)—Ben Hogan and his wife left Fort Worth today by airplane for New York and Summitt, N. J., where he is scheduled to play his National Golf Day round Saturday.

Although feeling much improved, Hogan still is showing effects of the virus infection that knocked him out of the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament last week and put him in bed for four days.

Game Reset Friday

Cliff Hafer Wins 3rd Flight Title

Cliff Hafer defeated John Moberly 2 up yesterday to win the third flight championship in the Cumberland Country Club's men's spring golf handicap tournament.

In other matches played yesterday Bill George downed Mort Peskin Jr., 4 and 3 in a first flight match and Phil Jenkins topped John Topper 5 and 4 in a championship flight contest.

The Cumberland Country Club will sponsor the annual National Golf Day tournament again this year as golfers all over the country try to beat Ben Hogan. National Golf Day is Sunday, June 6, and CCC golfers have from today through Sunday to post their scores.

Charles Reported In Top Condition

Ez Hopes To Scale 188 For Fight On June 17

MONTICELLO, N. Y., June 2 (AP)—Ezzard Charles weighed in at 198 pounds today, about 10 more then he expects to scale on June 17 when he meets heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano for the title.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello of the State Athletic Commission weighed the ex-champion after giving Charles a thorough examination.

"It will be no trouble for Charles to take off 10 pounds, especially now with hot weather here," said Dr. Nardiello. "I wouldn't want him to come in under 188 and I don't think he will. He's in wonderful condition."

Charles relaxed at camp and did not box. He will resume ring work tomorrow.

Dr. Nardiello then visited Marciano at his camp 10 miles away. Marciano weighed 190 and expects to tip the beam at 185 for the fight.

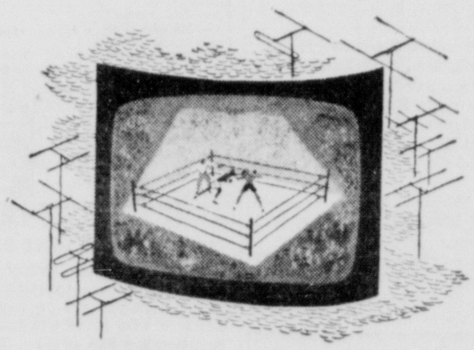

"Rocky is in terrific condition," said the doctor. "He could go tonight."

Seixas, Trabert Are Easy Victors

COPENHAGEN, June 2 (AP)—Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert, top U.S. tennis players, tonight trounced Denmark's teen-age hopes, Soeren Hoejberg and Joergen Ulrich.

Seixas beat Ulrich, 6-0, 6-4 and Trabert defeated Hoejberg 6-0, 6-0. In the doubles Seixas and Trabert defeated Hoejberg and Ulrich, 6-1, 6-1.

Radio And Television

Theater Television

It has always been my view that theater television — that is, TV that you have to go to a theater to see and pay an admission to get in — is a contradiction in terms. The whole essence of the revolution in entertainment wrought by TV is that it brings it into your homes. When you do go out of an evening, it is not to see television.

John Crosby

However, there are some events that, too expensive for home television or for one reason or another, are forbidden to home TV, and in these fields, theater TV is having a modest success. Theater Network Television, for instance, has signed a three-year contract with the Metropolitan Opera to broadcast the Met's opening nights. TNT hopes to pipe this into 100 theaters (a wildly optimistic figure) in some 57 cities. They'll be charity affairs in each city and this will help boost attendance.

No one knows how well this will do. TNT televised "Carmen" from the Met, more or less as an experiment, in 1952 to about 70,000 people in 32 theaters. If you want to see the Met opening, theater TV will be the only way to do it — short of going to the Met itself. Years ago, Met openings were carried on home television but now the cost of cancelling three and a half hours of commercial television is prohibitive. Nathan L. Halpern, president of TNT estimates it would cost half a million dollars to televise opening nights for home audiences.

Opera lovers will be properly horrified at the effect of theater television on Met openings. Next fall the Met will depart from all tradition by presenting, not just one opera, but scenes from its most popular operas. The program will open with the prologue to "Pagliacci," followed by the first act of "La Boheme" and act two of "The Barber Of Seville," with three scenes from "Aida" as the finale. This potpourri will permit the use of as many stars as the Met can load on its stage. Seems to me it'll be more ilke the Ed Sullivan show than an opera — but that's the way things are going to be.

Opera is the only form of entertainment that TNT has monkeyed with. With the competition of home TV, all other types of entertainment are pretty impractical (although Halpern still talks wistfully about some day putting on huge variety shows or musical extravaganzas with a lot of name stars.)

Four or five years ago, Halpern predicted that one day theater TV would carry Broadway plays to theaters all over the country. That has not come to pass yet but Halpern thinks that eventually it will. Right now Broadway producers are asking much too much money under the reasonable assumption that once televised their own box office would be dead. There aren't enough theaters equipped for theater TV to meet these demands but some day — maybe this year, maybe next year — there will be. (One of the enthusiasts for theater TV is Lawrence Langner, director of the Theater Guild.)

The mainstay for TNT, as for its competitor, Box Office Television, is sports. Sporting events have the element of actuality, the attraction of who's-going-to-win. TNT has theater-televised 11 championship fights, all major outdoor fights. TNT's first fight between Ezzard Charles and Jersey Joe Walcott in 1949 almost caused a riot at the Fox Theater in Brooklyn. The theater seats 4,300 and 5,000 persons squeezed in and another 5,000 were turned away. Business isn't that brisk any more but it's still pretty good for fights. TNT's next fight will be the Marciano-Charles fight in June which it hopes to put into 67 cities. (New York and New England will be blacked out to protect the gate.)

TNT carried college football for a couple of years but dropped it because Halpern feels there is too much competition from free home television. The only football team which will pull a decent crowd into a theater is Notre Dame whose fans are in a class by themselves.

TNT also has a lively sideline in closed circuit telecasts — it calls them Tele-Sessions — of business or government meetings. Dodge Motors, for instance, held a coast-to-coast dealer's meeting via Tele-Session. The Frank H. Lee Company showed all its salesmen its fall hat line on color television. And in 1952 volunteer workers in cities scattered around the country took a course in civil defense training via Tele-Session.

BEATING THE BEST PLAY

YOUR defensive ability does not get a chance to show at its best unless you are up against a declarer who gives the hand the best possible line of play. In that situation, if you are in a tournament, you may require all of your skill to keep from getting a bad score in comparison with the results at other tables.

	♠ 9 2 ♥ 10 9 5 4 ♦ A K 5 3 ♣ K 9 5

Bidding of this duplicate deal varied a bit at the various tables, most of them furnishing this same spade game contract. The early play was the same, too, with the heart K winning, the Q being ruffed, three top trumps being used and then a diamond being led to the A. Most of the declarers then played for an even division of diamonds, laying down the K and leading a third round, which the Q won. When the suit didn't divide 3-3 in the defenders' hands, the declarer had no way to get rid of a club, so lost two tricks in that suit to be down one.

Two other declarers gave the hand sounder play. After taking the sixth trick with the diamond A, they realized that the chances of an even break in the suit were less than even, but that there was a 50-50 chance to find the Q favorably located; if this didn't develop, there would still be a chance of an even division. So those declarers next led a low diamond toward the J. When East won with the Q, the J was established. One East then returned the heart J to be ruffed by the spade 6. The diamond J was scored then and a club led toward the K. West won with the A and sent back the heart A to be ruffed by the last trump. The club 6 to the K and the diamond A then finished the hand.

At the other table where South essayed this play, East beat it. After winning with the diamond Q, he returned a club to the A and the next club from West removed the K from dummy. That made it impossible for South to score with the diamond J and then return to the dummy to use the A. This declarer therefore had to lose a second club trick to be set.

Theater Network Television, for instance, has signed a three-year contract with the Metropolitan Opera to broadcast the Met's opening nights. TNT hopes to pipe this into 100 theaters (a wildly optimistic figure) in some 57 cities. They'll be charity affairs in each city and this will help boost attendance.

No one knows how well this will do. TNT televised "Carmen" from the Met, more or less as an experiment, in 1952 to about 70,000 people in 32 theaters. If you want to see the Met opening, theater TV will be the only way to do it — short of going to the Met itself. Years ago, Met openings were carried on home television but now the cost of cancelling three and a half hours of commercial television is prohibitive. Nathan L. Halpern, president of TNT estimates it would cost half a million dollars to televise opening nights for home audiences.

Opera lovers will be properly horrified at the effect of theater television on Met openings. Next fall the Met will depart from all tradition by presenting, not just one opera, but scenes from its most popular operas. The program will open with the prologue to "Pagliacci," followed by the first act of "La Boheme" and act two of "The Barber Of Seville," with three scenes from "Aida" as the finale. This potpourri will permit the use of as many stars as the Met can load on its stage. Seems to me it'll be more ilke the Ed Sullivan show than an opera — but that's the way things are going to be.

Opera is the only form of entertainment that TNT has monkeyed with. With the competition of home TV, all other types of entertainment are pretty impractical (although Halpern still talks wistfully about some day putting on huge variety shows or musical extravaganzas with a lot of name stars.)

Four or five years ago, Halpern predicted that one day theater TV would carry Broadway plays to theaters all over the country. That has not come to pass yet but Halpern thinks that eventually it will. Right now Broadway producers are asking much too much money under the reasonable assumption that once televised their own box office would be dead. There aren't enough theaters equipped for theater TV to meet these demands but some day — maybe this year, maybe next year — there will be. (One of the enthusiasts for theater TV is Lawrence Langner, director of the Theater Guild.)

The mainstay for TNT, as for its competitor, Box Office Television, is sports. Sporting events have the element of actuality, the attraction of who's-going-to-win. TNT has theater-televised 11 championship fights, all major outdoor fights. TNT's first fight between Ezzard Charles and Jersey Joe Walcott in 1949 almost caused a riot at the Fox Theater in Brooklyn. The theater seats 4,300 and 5,000 persons squeezed in and another 5,000 were turned away. Business isn't that brisk any more but it's still pretty good for fights. TNT's next fight will be the Marciano-Charles fight in June which it hopes to put into 67 cities. (New York and New England will be blacked out to protect the gate.)

TNT carried college football for a couple of years but dropped it because Halpern feels there is too much competition from free home television. The only football team which will pull a decent crowd into a theater is Notre Dame whose fans are in a class by themselves.

TNT also has a lively sideline in closed circuit telecasts — it calls them Tele-Sessions — of business or government meetings. Dodge Motors, for instance, held a coast-to-coast dealer's meeting via Tele-Session. The Frank H. Lee Company showed all its salesmen its fall hat line on color television. And in 1952 volunteer workers in cities scattered around the country took a course in civil defense training via Tele-Session.

BEATING THE BEST PLAY

YOUR defensive ability does not get a chance to show at its best unless you are up against a declarer who gives the hand the best possible line of play. In that situation, if you are in a tournament, you may require all of your skill to keep from getting a bad score in comparison with the results at other tables.

	♠ 9 2 ♥ 10 9 5 4 ♦ A K 5 3 ♣ K 9 5
♠ 10 8 ♥ A K Q 7 ♦ 10 2 ♣ A Q 10 4 2	N W E S	♠ J 5 3 ♥ J 8 3 2 ♦ Q 9 7 6 ♣ J 7
	♠ A K Q 7 6 4 ♥ 6 ♦ J 8 4 ♣ 8 6 3

(Dealer: West. North-South vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	Pass	Pass	1 ♠
2 ♥	Pass	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	3 ♦	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♠

Bidding of this duplicate deal varied a bit at the various tables, most of them furnishing this same spade game contract. The early play was the same, too, with the heart K winning, the Q being ruffed, three top trumps being used and then a diamond being led to the A. Most of the declarers then played for an even division of diamonds, laying down the K and leading a third round, which the Q won. When the suit didn't divide 3-3 in the defenders' hands, the declarer had no way to get rid of a club, so lost two tricks in that suit to be down one.

Two other declarers gave the hand sounder play. After taking the sixth trick with the diamond A, they realized that the chances of an even break in the suit were less than even, but that there was a 50-50 chance to find the Q favorably located; if this didn't develop, there would still be a chance of an even division. So those declarers next led a low diamond toward the J. When East won with the Q, the J was established. One East then returned the heart J to be ruffed by the spade 6. The diamond J was scored then and a club led toward the K. West won with the A and sent back the heart A to be ruffed by the last trump. The club 6 to the K and the diamond A then finished the hand.

At the other table where South essayed this play, East beat it. After winning with the diamond Q, he returned a club to the A and the next club from West removed the K from dummy. That made it impossible for South to score with the diamond J and then return to the dummy to use the A. This declarer therefore had to lose a second club trick to be set.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ K J 8 6 ♥ J 8 6 5 4 ♦ Q ♣ Q 10 4
♠ 10 7 ♥ Q ♦ A J 10 7 6 5 4 3 ♣ 9 8	N W E S	♠ 5 2 ♥ A 10 7 ♦ K 9 8 ♣ A J 7 6 2
	♠ A Q 9 4 3 ♥ K 9 3 2 ♦ 2 ♣ K 5 3

What is the best defense against South's 4-Spades if the club Q is not played on the lead of the 9?

Card of Thanks

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to all who aided and comforted us in our recent sad bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, William H. Shepherd. Especially do we thank the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes, those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral and the ministers, Rev. Roscoe Hall and Rev. Elliott, for their comforting words.

MRS. NELLIE H. SHEPHERD
and FAMILY

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all who were so kind to us in our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved father, John Britton. Especially do we wish to thank the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes and Mass Cards, Father L. P. Landrigan, and those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

Card of Thanks

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to all who aided and comforted us in our recent sad bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, William H. Shepherd. Especially do we thank the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes, those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral and the ministers, Rev. Roscoe Hall and Rev. Elliott, for their comforting words.

MRS. NELLIE H. SHEPHERD
and FAMILY

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all who were so kind to us in our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved father, John Britton. Especially do we wish to thank the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes and Mass Cards, Father L. P. Landrigan, and those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

Jerald Slider Wins Regional Broiler Contest

Young Slider defeated seven Garrett County boys Saturday in a contest held at the Mason Glotfelty garage in Oakland. The Garrett contestants were Ronald Glass and Gary Frantz, both of Accident; John and Jean Beachy, both of Swanton; Robert Murphy of Friendsville; Forest Jacobs of Grantsville and Carl Paugh of Oakland.

Regional champions have been designated in four other sections of Maryland. The state contest will be held September 15.

Aircrafts Dominate Stock Market As Average Drops

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) — The Stock Market retreated today despite a higher start and the maintenance of several strong areas in the list through most of the session.

Aircrafts were higher throughout the day with considerable activity but lost a lot of their vim before the close. The non-ferrous metals were up but they didn't do anything outstanding.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 10 cents at $125.60. It was up 20 cents yesterday and reached the highest level since Oct. 25, 1929.

The industrial component of the average today lost 30 cents while the railroads were down 60 cents and the utilities remained unchanged.

The list was composed of 1,177 issues, 23 more than yesterday. There were 377 gainers and 516 losers, and 91 stocks touched new high marks for this year and 6 dipped to new lows.

As an illustration of how the aircrafts dominated the market, seven out of the ten most active issues were in that division.

Boeing topped the list up 5/8 at 43 7/8 on 49,600 shares. It was second yesterday. Packard was second today off 1/8 at 4 1/8. It was first yesterday.

And then came Grumman aircraft off 1/8 at 29 5/8. Lockheed off 1/8 at 35 1/8. Glenn Martin off 1/4 at 22 7/8, and North American Aviation up 1/8 at 34 5/8.

Aircrafts Dominate Stock Market As Average Drops

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) — The Stock Market retreated today despite a higher start and the maintenance of several strong areas in the list through most of the session.

Aircrafts were higher throughout the day with considerable activity but lost a lot of their vim before the close. The non-ferrous metals were up but they didn't do anything outstanding.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 10 cents at $125.60. It was up 20 cents yesterday and reached the highest level since Oct. 25, 1929.

The industrial component of the average today lost 30 cents while the railroads were down 60 cents and the utilities remained unchanged.

The list was composed of 1,177 issues, 23 more than yesterday. There were 377 gainers and 516 losers, and 91 stocks touched new high marks for this year and 6 dipped to new lows.

As an illustration of how the aircrafts dominated the market, seven out of the ten most active issues were in that division.

Oliver Bruce Jr., Former Judge, Dies At Home

Was Active As County Democrat

Oliver H. Bruce Jr., 224 Fayette Street, a former associate judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit and long regarded as a student of the law and as a man with many humane qualities, died at 7:30 p. m. yesterday at his home. He was 66.

Judge Bruce had been in ill health for several months.

Judge Bruce had long been a leading figure in Democratic politics and prior to becoming judge had been chairman of the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee.

Native Of Westernport

He was born in Westernport August 13, 1888, a son of the late Oliver H. and Martha (North) Bruce. He received his primary education in that community, where his father served as principal of the high school for 48 years.

Judge Bruce was married to the former Margaret L. Kavanaugh on July 6, 1913. Surviving are two sons, Lt. Col. Oliver H. Bruce, Washington; and James K. Bruce, with the Overseas Navigation Corporation of New York.

A brother, Norris Bruce, Westernport; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Dellinger, Westernport; Mrs. J. M. Davis, Piedmont, W. Va., also survive.

Before being admitted to the bar, he was employed for two years, (1905-1906) in a clerical capacity by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and later by the Western Maryland Railway Company.

He was a former president of the Allegany County Bar Association. Judge Bruce also served for a number of years as a trial magistrate in Cumberland, having been appointed to that position in 1939.

Prior to that, he had practiced law in this county after serving as a justice of the peace in the Cumberland Police Court from 1917 to 1927.

He began his career as a lawyer after being graduated from Dickinson College's School of Law, and was admitted to the bar in 1910.

Held Many Offices

He was associated with late James A. McHenry and David J. Lewis when he began his practice. Later he was in the firm of Fuller Barnard and Bruce, and his last association was with the late Richard S. Bell.

In 1914 he was a member of the House of Delegates and in 1932 he was a presidential elector from the Sixth Maryland District.

On September 10, 1948 he was named by Gov. William Preston Lane Jr. to succeed Chief Judge William A. Huster on the bench of Circuit Court.

Judge Bruce also served two years (1951-1953) as a member of the Allegany County Board of License Commissioners. He was a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church and of the Holy Name Society of the church.

He was a member of Chief Justice Taney Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus and of Council 586, K of C; of lodge 63, BPO Elks, and was the second oldest past exalted ruler of that organization, having served in that office from 1916 to 1917.

Judge Bruce belonged to the Loyal Order of Moose, Tonkaway Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, the American, state and county bar associations.

The body is at the George Funeral Home where members of Lodge 63, BPO Elks will conduct a ritualistic service tomorrow at 7:30 p. m.

Quality Control Group Affiliates With U. S. Body

Industry Society Names Committees

The Tri-State Quality Control Society recently had its first official meeting since becoming affiliated with the American Society for Quality Control as a sub-section of the Pittsburgh section of the society.

A feature of the meeting was the presentation by R. Finley Thompson, manager of the Amcelle plant, of certificates to members who attended the 10-week intermediate class in statistical quality control.

The Tri-State Quality Control was formed last October 1 with 48 members, representing the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, the Amcelle plant of Celanese Corporation of America, and the Queen City Brewing Company.

Major activity since then has been a 16-week course in basic statistical quality control conducted in two-hour weekly session by H. E. Robbins, 628 Washington Street, of Celanese's Technical Department. This was followed by a 10-week intermediate course in statistical quality control.

Robbins, who is chairman of the society, has appointed four committees. John Bond, chairman; Harold Sherwood, Robert Williams and John Baggett were named to a nominating committee to endorse officers for the new year starting July 1.

Other committees included finance, Garlitz Barclay, chairman; Robert Moses and James Hines;

Former Cumberland Attorney Mentioned In Post Article

An anecdote concerning John T. Fey, former Cumberland attorney, is related in a Saturday Evening Post article on George Washington University, where Fey is dean of the Law School.

The article, written by Thomas Drake Durrance and titled "Dr. Marvin's Genius Factory," comments on the high percentage of government workers who attend classes at the Washington institution.

Once, says Durrance, Fey invited a high-ranking federal expert to lecture on corporate tax distribution. The lecturer recognized so many of the members of his audience that he started off his lecture by addressing them as "my colleagues from the Bureau of Internal Revenue."

Fey, who formerly served as attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and later as a member of the Allegany County delegation to the Maryland House of Delegates, has been at the university for the past four years.

Four Schools To Graduate 414 Tonight

Fort Hill Class Largest On List

The four schools have a total of 414 candidates for graduation.

Largest of the four classes is at Fort Hill High School, where 251 are listed as candidates for graduation. Speaker at the Fort Hill commencement will be Charles E. Metzger, director of community service at Temple University in Philadelphia.

Next largest is the Bruce High School class of 86 at Westernport. Harold Caldwell Kessinger, a municipal judge in Ridgewood, N. J., the past seven years, will address the graduates at Westernport.

Herbert Harrison, a native of Brooklyn, who has spent most of his life in upstate New York, will be the speaker at Mt. Savage High School where 61 are scheduled for graduation.

Carver High School will graduate 16 seniors tonight. The speaker there will be Dr. Richard I. McKinney, head of the Department of Philosophy at Morgan State College in Baltimore.

Dr. Adam Baer Is Renamed To Examiner Board

Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg chiropractor, has been notified of his reappointment to the Maryland State Board of Chiropractic Examiners for a three-year term by Governor McKeldin.

Baer, who was first appointed to the board in 1950 by Gov. McKeldin, has served as secretary-treasurer of the board for the past three years. His appointment is effective June 1.

He has practiced in Frostburg for 18 years since he was graduated from the National College of Chiropractic in Chicago in 1935. Dr. Baer served his internship at Chicago Health Clinic before coming to Frostburg.

He is a native of Hagerstown and was graduated from Hagerstown High School and attended Eastern Mennonite College. He formerly held the office of state chairman of the Chiropractic Research Foundation and is a past president of the Western Maryland Chiropractic Association.

Dr. Baer was a member of the Maryland State Social Hygiene Committee and also served as social hygiene chairman of Allegany County for the Congress of Parents and Teachers. He is a member of the Frostburg Rotary Club and of the Cumberland National Dinner Club.

Dr. Baer said the Maryland State Chiropractic Association submits five names to the governor for appointment to the examiners board, four of whom are elected at the state convention, and the incumbent. The board includes three members, one named every year for three-year periods.

Dr. Baer's companions on the board are Dr. Kermit Smith, Silver Spring, president of the board and Dr. Lewis Tawney Sr., Baltimore.

Dr. Baer lives at 111 Frost Avenue in Frostburg with his wife and three children.

He received notification of his appointment from State Senator Robert B. Kimble.

Jaycees Discuss City Problems With Candidates

Six Nominees Asked Questions

The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce entertained some of the candidates for city office last night at the regular Jaycee dinner meeting.

Invitations had been extended to all successful primary candidates to be guests at the dinner and participate in a round-table discussion period on campaign issues and civic problems.

George L. Carney, president, welcomed the guests, Mayoral Candidates Roy W. Eves and Lucile W. Roeder, and Council Candidates William H. Buchholtz, John J. Long, George Tederick and F. Allan Weatherholt.

E. William Lowery served as moderator for the discussion. Among the questions which were asked and discussed were the overhead bridge, sewage disposal and sewage treatment, augmenting the city's water supply, industrial promotion, off-street parking and general city development.

The questions were directed to a particular candidate in most instances and then the other candidates were invited to comment.

The moderator and Carney thanked the candidates who attended and invited them to return again.

Roland Hebb, of Hagerstown, a candidate for national vice president of Jaycees, was also a guest and spoke to the membership.

Trophies were presented to the three winners of the teen-age Road-e-o to George L. Hast, and Roger Reynolds of Fort Hill High School and James A. Sisk of Allegany High School.

James W. Hines, chairman of the Road-e o committee, made the presentations and told the Jaycees that both the first and second place winners will compete in the state driving contest in Baltimore, and not only the first-place winner, as previously announced.

BULLETIN

A 14-year-old boy died early this morning of injuries sustained in a fall over a cliff along the Westbound Hump of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

He was William Largent, son of Mrs. Evelyn R. Buell of 200 Thomas Street. The boy died about 12:02 a. m. in Memorial Hospital.

The accident occurred about 11 p. m. and the boy was brought from the scene by police and firemen, and was taken to the hospital.

Railroad officials used the light from a shifter engine, and firemen used their portable light plant to find their way to the boy.

Rescuers were hampered by the steep slope nearby, covered with underbrush. The boy was reported to have plunged approximately 30 feet.

City Tax Bills To Be Mailed In September

City Tax Collector George E. Davis said that since county and state tax bills were mailed out near the end of May he has received about 100 telephone calls from residents asking why they have not received their city tax bills.

The new City Council, which will take office July 1, will have until August 25 to establish the budget and set the tax rate for the year. Once that rate is set the bills will be prepared and mailed.

Ursuline Honor Students

These three girls were awarded honors for outstanding work at Ursuline Academy at the school's annual commencement last night. Miss Anna Marie Dressman (center) carried off top honors in a class of 22. Miss Margaret Louise Spioch (right) was second, and Miss Madeline Walters won the four-year deportment and effort award.

Anna Dressman Leads Ursuline Senior Class

22 Graduates Get Diplomas

Anna Marie Dressman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dressman of LaVale, received first honors in a class of 22 girls graduated last night from Ursuline Academy.

Rev. Guy Golden, O.F.M. Cap., was the speaker at the commencement exercises held in St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church.

Second honors went to Margaret Louise Spioch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Spioch, 507 Patterson Avenue. Madeline Walters received an award for having the highest average in deportment and effort for her four years in high school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Walters of Frostburg.

Those in the upper fourth of the class were Anna Marie Dressman, Margaret Louise Spioch, Sheila Kitzmiller, Madeline Walters, Carolyn Stitcher and Judith Ann Minke.

Others in the class were Patricia Murphy, Leone Saeli, Mary Louise Dressman, Mary Monahan, Eloise Brookman, Ruth Ann Rohman, Frances Deffenbaugh, Norma Jean Soethe, Ann Carder, Ann Condry, Willalea Keifer, Kathryn Kolb, Eileen Bucklew, Mary Ellen Miltenberger, Joann Knight and Dolores Moore.

Rev. Marius Elsener, O.F.M. Cap., pastor, presented the diplomas and awards and was officiant at solemn benediction. Rev. Fanon of Baltimore was deacon and Rev. Kenan Cowley, O.F.M. Cap. subdeacon. Rev. John Lapinsli, O.F.M. Cap., was master of ceremonies.

The morning of graduation a solemn high mass was celebrated for the graduates. Father Marius was celebrant, Father Guy, deacon, Rev. Diego Jose Padraja, O.F.M. Cap., subdeacon, and Father Kenan, master of ceremonies. After the mass the graduates were guests of the faculty at a breakfast in the parish hall.

Engineers To Meet

Local 37-B, Operating Engineers Union (AFL), will meet Saturday at 8 o'clock in Dairy Workers Hall, according to Harry L. Hickle, business agent.

Marilyn Kreider Wins VFW Statewide Essay Contest

Miss Marilyn Kreider, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett B. Kreider, 214 Schley Street, yesterday was named winner of the 19th annual essay contest for high school students sponsored by the Department of Maryland, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary.

Miss Kreider, a senior at Allegany High School, will be presented a $35 cash award and a silver medal at the state VFW Auxiliary encampment in Baltimore June 26.

Second honors went to Miss Edith Lowery of Stevensville High School, Stevensville, and third place to Miss Peggy Ann Frith of Allegany High School.

Contestants wrote on the subject "Build Through Citizenship." Finalists for the state contest were selected from a field of 15 entries.

Miss Kreider, who won over a field of six other contestants for the state title, is a native of Ottawa, Ohio, and a former resident of Michigan.

She came here with her parents five years ago, and entered the eighth grade at Allegany, where her father is a shorthand and typing instructor.

Miss Kreider is editor-in-chief of the school paper, the Alcohi Mirror, and is feature editor of this year's edition of Allegewi, the student annual. She was named "student editor of the year" for Maryland during the current scholastic term.

Winner of the Allegany County "I Speak for Democracy" speech contest, she also was presented a Freedoms Foundation Award this year for her work on the student publications. She is president of Choral Club, vice president of the Allegany Chapter of Tri-Hi-Y, and has consistently led her class.

She plans to enter the University of Maryland next fall to study counselling and personnel work.

Other contestants in the state competition were Miss Rose Marie Barnes of Fort Hill High School, Miss Helen Layman of St. Michael's High at Royal Oak, Miss Evelyn Mortimer, Surrattsville High, Clinton, and Miss Trudi Truitt, Stevensville High.

Mrs. Lillian D. Zimmerman of Cumberland, state essay chairman, was in charge of the contest. Judges were Winfield H. Adam, general secretary of Central YMCA; Raymond Benton, of the faculty of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and Bernard E. Sitter of The Cumberland News.

Deaf School Construction Gets Start

ROMNEY, W. Va., June 2 (AP)—West Virginia's Schools for the Deaf and Blind broke ground for a new $400,000 dormitory here today as a sidelight of the schools' annual commencement programs.

The smiling deaf students gathered around a small plot squared off with twine for the ceremony they could not hear. "This is a very happy occasion in your life and mine." Were the words spoken and spelled out in sign language by Romney Supt. Hugo F. Schunoff.

Also taking turns with the ribboned shovel were Charles A. Williamson of Charleston, commencement speaker and president of the state board of education. Mrs. Thelma B. Loudin of Fairmont, a board member and Romney Mayor David Shear. Mrs. Elizabeth Seaton, 88, of Romney, who came here as a deaf student in 1875 and whose husband was a teacher at the Romney Schools for 42 years, also was present.

The ground-breaking ceremony was held after the morning commencement for eight deaf students and preceding a similar afternoon program for four blind graduates.

Official Figures Change Primary Vote Slightly

Four Candidates' Totals Changed

Results of Tuesday's city primary election were made official yesterday with the canvass by City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery with only minor change in the vote of four of the 19 candidates.

The official totals:

FOR MAYOR:
Lucile W. Roeder	3,298
Roy W. Eves	3,177
A. Lee Marple	595
French Sensabaugh	513
FOR COUNCIL:
William V. Keegan	3,836
William H. Buchholtz	3,336
William J. Edwards	3,230
John J. Long	2,890
George H. Tederick	2,136
Keith T. Sisk	1,785
F. Allan Weatherholt	1,607
Ward N. Hauger Jr.	1,509
Philip E. Keller	1,170
Frank J. Davis	1,016
Joseph H. Griffin	979
Stanley E. Zorick	953
Charles W. Hensell	481
George O. Butts	396
William B. Lewis	264

In the mayoral race the only change between the unofficial and official tabulation was in the vote for Marple. He lost 20 votes from his unofficial total of 615. In Ward 3, Precinct 1 (L-Z), Marple received only 29 instead of 39 as originally reported. In Ward 6, Precinct 4, his total was 23, not 33 as unofficially tabulated.

In the council race, figures for Davis, Edwards and Zorick were changed. Davis got only 68 instead of 78 in Ward 6, Precinct 4, bringing his total down to 1,016.

Edwards' total vote was not changed but the votes he got in two precincts cancelled each other. In Ward 5, Precinct 2 (A-K), his vote was 110 instead of 100 but in 5-2 (L-Z) he got 109 instead of 119.

Home Agent Gets Permission For New Kitchen

Permission for the installation of an up-to-date kitchen on the third floor of the Court House was granted this week to Miss Joanne W. Reitz, Allegany County home demonstration agent.

Approval of the action came from the County Board of Commissioners after the board had heard Miss Reitz and three women who are active in homemaker clubs, Mrs. H. R. Aldridge, Mrs. John S. Cook and Mrs. L. H. Shafferman.

Miss Reitz explained that she has an unexpended balance of $670.82 in her budget for the year which ends June 30. If not spent this month the balance will revert to the state, which appropriated the money.

The home demonstration agent told the commission it will cost about $550 for the installation of four wall cabinets, two base cabinets, one base cabinet sink, one wall filler, one formica top with sink boards and fixtures and one light unit for wall cabinets.

The commissioners referred to County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman a written request from Ross Shaw for the removal of weeds from the main section of Oldtown.

Renewal of the $500 bond of Palmer W. Howsare of Flintstone, constable-at-large, was approved by the commissioners.

Company Receives Sewage Commitment

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company on Monday acknowledged the receipt of a resolution passed by the Mayor and Council concerning a sewage disposal plant.

The resolution pointed out that the city will proceed with the construction of the plant upon assurance from the company of its intention to locate a plant near Cumberland.

The Weather

The weather got rather warm yesterday during the course of the afternoon although it was not quite as unpredictable as Tuesday's. The forecast for today is partly cloudy and warm with scattered showers this evening. The high temperature yesterday was 77 degrees; the low 63 degrees and at 8:15 p. m. the mercury registered 69 degrees. Humidity at 6 p. m. was 55 per cent.

Gets Beer License

Gladys M. Bloss has been issued a beer license by the Allegany County Board of License Commissioners for premises on Oldtown Road.

Mahoney To Visit This Area Again

George P. Mahoney of Owings Mills in Baltimore County, Democratic candidate for governor, will make a final pre-primary election visit to Allegany and Garrett counties next week.

Mahoney will be accompanied by Philip H. Dorsey Jr. of Leonardtown, his running mate for Attorney General. They will arrive in Cumberland about 1 p. m. Thursday, June 10, and will visit the B & O shops and various local and area industries during the afternoon.

That night Mahoney and Dorsey will attend a rally in South Cumberland. Other details of their visit have not yet been completed but they are expected to tour the George's Creek area Friday, June 11, and attend another meeting Friday night.

Saturday, June 12, they will go on to Garrett County to talk with interested citizens about the campaign.

Trainmen To Fete Retiring Worker

William R. Durbin Lodge 628, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, will honor T. A. Jones, a retiring Western Maryland Railway employe, at a party in the Herman Room of the Queen City Brewery at 8:30 p. m. today.

The special guest for the evening will be W. J. Weil, vice president of the Grand Lodge in Cleveland. He will present a 40-year pin to C. C. Walters and a 15-year pin to D. M. Goff. All members are requested to be present.

Cable-Spinning At Telephone Exhibit

Telephone Poles Being Placed In Bittinger Area

The new dial system for some 85 homes of the area will restore phone service which was knocked out by the sleet storm of January 1953.

The line will be used for long-distance lines connecting the Bittinger area with all parts of the Bell system. Two-wire circuits are being strung along the poles. Carrier equipment, to increase the number of circuits which can be handled, will be installed later.

Modern dial service is to be provided for homes of the area, and the complete installation is estimated to cost about $102,000.

Equity Suits Filed

Three equity suits have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Rita Snoeberger vs. Roscoe L. Snoeberger, Lillian E. Taylor vs. Charles Taylor and Nellie T. Wolford vs. Hollie H. Wolford.

Dr. Adam Baer Is Renamed To Examiner Board

Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg chiropractor, has been notified of his reappointment to the Maryland State Board of Chiropractic Examiners for a three-year term by Governor McKeldin.

Baer, who was first appointed to the board in 1950 by Gov. McKeldin, has served as secretary-treasurer of the board for the past three years. His appointment is effective June 1.

The Frostburg practitioner is the present chairman of the National Council of State Examining Boards, having been elected to the post at the national convention of the National Chiropractic Association in March.

He has practiced in Frostburg for 18 years since he was graduated from the National College of Chiropractic in Chicago in 1935. Dr. Baer served his internship at Chicago Health Clinic before coming to Frostburg.

He is a native of Hagerstown and was graduated from Hagerstown High School and attended Eastern Mennonite College. He formerly held the office of state chairman of the Chiropractic Research Foundation and is a past president of the Western Maryland Chiropractic Association.

Dr. Baer was a member of the Maryland State Social Hygiene Committee and also served as social hygiene chairman of Allegany County for the Congress of Parents and Teachers. He is a member of the Frostburg Rotary Club and of the Cumberland National Dinner Club.

Dr. Baer said the Maryland State Chiropractic Association submits five names to the governor for appointment to the examiners board, four of whom are elected at the state convention, and the incumbent. The board includes three members, one named every year for three-year periods.

Dr. Baer's companions on the board are Dr. Kermit Smith, Silver Spring, president of the board and Dr. Lewis Tawney Sr., Baltimore.

Dr. Baer lives at 111 Frost Avenue in Frostburg with his wife and three children.

He received notification of his appointment from State Senator Robert B. Kimble.

Jaycees Discuss City Problems With Candidates

Six Nominees Asked Questions

The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce entertained some of the candidates for city office last night at the regular Jaycee dinner meeting.

Invitations had been extended to all successful primary candidates to be guests at the dinner and participate in a round-table discussion period on campaign issues and civic problems.

George L. Carney, president, welcomed the guests, Mayoral Candidates Roy W. Eves and Lucile W. Roeder, and Council Candidates William H. Buchholtz, John J. Long, George Tederick and F. Allan Weatherholt.

E. William Lowery served as moderator for the discussion. Among the questions which were asked and discussed were the overhead bridge, sewage disposal and sewage treatment, augmenting the city's water supply, industrial promotion, off-street parking and general city development.

The questions were directed to a particular candidate in most instances and then the other candidates were invited to comment.

The moderator and Carney thanked the candidates who attended and invited them to return again.

Roland Hebb, of Hagerstown, a candidate for national vice president of Jaycees, was also a guest and spoke to the membership.

Trophies were presented to the three winners of the teen-age Road-e-o to George L. Hast, and Roger Reynolds of Fort Hill High School and James A. Sisk of Allegany High School.

James W. Hines, chairman of the Road-e o committee, made the presentations and told the Jaycees that both the first and second place winners will compete in the state driving contest in Baltimore, and not only the first-place winner, as previously announced.

BULLETIN

A 14-year-old boy died early this morning of injuries sustained in a fall over a cliff along the Westbound Hump of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

He was William Largent, son of Mrs. Evelyn R. Buell of 200 Thomas Street. The boy died about 12:02 a. m. in Memorial Hospital.

The accident occurred about 11 p. m. and the boy was brought from the scene by police and firemen, and was taken to the hospital.

Railroad officials used the light from a shifter engine, and firemen used their portable light plant to find their way to the boy.

Rescuers were hampered by the steep slope nearby, covered with underbrush. The boy was reported to have plunged approximately 30 feet.

City Tax Bills To Be Mailed In September

City taxpayers were reminded yesterday that they will not be sent bills on city real estate taxes until September.

City Tax Collector George E. Davis said that since county and state tax bills were mailed out near the end of May he has received about 100 telephone calls from residents asking why they have not received their city tax bills.

The new City Council, which will take office July 1, will have until August 25 to establish the budget and set the tax rate for the year. Once that rate is set the bills will be prepared and mailed.

Marilyn Kreider Wins VFW Statewide Essay Contest

Miss Marilyn Kreider, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett B. Kreider, 214 Schley Street, yesterday was named winner of the 19th annual essay contest for high school students sponsored by the Department of Maryland, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary.

Miss Kreider, a senior at Allegany High School, will be presented a $35 cash award and a silver medal at the state VFW Auxiliary encampment in Baltimore June 26.

Second honors went to Miss Edith Lowery of Stevensville High School, Stevensville, and third place to Miss Peggy Ann Frith of Allegany High School.

Contestants wrote on the subject "Build Through Citizenship." Finalists for the state contest were selected from a field of 15 entries.

Miss Kreider, who won over a field of six other contestants for the state title, is a native of Ottawa, Ohio, and a former resident of Michigan.

She came here with her parents five years ago, and entered the eighth grade at Allegany, where her father is a shorthand and typing instructor.

Miss Kreider is editor-in-chief of the school paper, the Alcohi Mirror, and is feature editor of this year's edition of Allegewi, the student annual. She was named "student editor of the year" for Maryland during the current scholastic term.

Winner of the Allegany County "I Speak for Democracy" speech contest, she also was presented a Freedoms Foundation Award this year for her work on the student publications. She is president of Choral Club, vice president of the Allegany Chapter of Tri-Hi-Y, and has consistently led her class.

She plans to enter the University of Maryland next fall to study counselling and personnel work.

Other contestants in the state competition were Miss Rose Marie Barnes of Fort Hill High School, Miss Helen Layman of St. Michael's High at Royal Oak, Miss Evelyn Mortimer, Surrattsville High, Clinton, and Miss Trudi Truitt, Stevensville High.

Mrs. Lillian D. Zimmerman of Cumberland, state essay chairman, was in charge of the contest. Judges were Winfield H. Adam, general secretary of Central YMCA; Raymond Benton, of the faculty of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and Bernard E. Sitter of The Cumberland News.

Deaf School Construction Gets Start

ROMNEY, W. Va., June 2 (AP)—West Virginia's Schools for the Deaf and Blind broke ground for a new $400,000 dormitory here today as a sidelight of the schools' annual commencement programs.

The president of that school's newly organized student body, Gladys Cassidy of Davis, Tucker County, turned the first spadeful of earth on the spacious grounds.

The structure is to house 122 advanced deaf students.

The smiling deaf students gathered around a small plot squared off with twine for the ceremony they could not hear. "This is a very happy occasion in your life and mine." Were the words spoken and spelled out in sign language by Romney Supt. Hugo F. Schunoff.

Also taking turns with the ribboned shovel were Charles A. Williamson of Charleston, commencement speaker and president of the state board of education. Mrs. Thelma B. Loudin of Fairmont, a board member and Romney Mayor David Shear. Mrs. Elizabeth Seaton, 88, of Romney, who came here as a deaf student in 1875 and whose husband was a teacher at the Romney Schools for 42 years, also was present.

The ground-breaking ceremony was held after the morning commencement for eight deaf students and preceding a similar afternoon program for four blind graduates.

Telephone Poles Being Placed In Bittinger Area

C & P. Telephone Company construction crews have begun the installation of poles needed to provide a modern telephone system for the Bittinger area.

The new dial system for some 85 homes of the area will restore phone service which was knocked out by the sleet storm of January 1953.

The first of about 1,000 poles needed in the area are being strung along the Bittinger-Grantsville Road.

The line will be used for long-distance lines connecting the Bittinger area with all parts of the Bell system. Two-wire circuits are being strung along the poles. Carrier equipment, to increase the number of circuits which can be handled, will be installed later.

Modern dial service is to be provided for homes of the area, and the complete installation is estimated to cost about $102,000.

Official Figures Change Primary Vote Slightly

Four Candidates' Totals Changed

Results of Tuesday's city primary election were made official yesterday with the canvass by City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery with only minor change in the vote of four of the 19 candidates.

The official totals:

FOR MAYOR:
Lucile W. Roeder	3,298
Roy W. Eves	3,177
A. Lee Marple	595
French Sensabaugh	513
FOR COUNCIL:
William V. Keegan	3,836
William H. Buchholtz	3,336
William J. Edwards	3,230
John J. Long	2,890
George H. Tederick	2,136
Keith T. Sisk	1,785
F. Allan Weatherholt	1,607
Ward N. Hauger Jr.	1,509
Philip E. Keller	1,170
Frank J. Davis	1,016
Joseph H. Griffin	979
Stanley E. Zorick	953
Charles W. Hensell	481
George O. Butts	396
William B. Lewis	264

In the mayoral race the only change between the unofficial and official tabulation was in the vote for Marple. He lost 20 votes from his unofficial total of 615. In Ward 3, Precinct 1 (L-Z), Marple received only 29 instead of 39 as originally reported. In Ward 6, Precinct 4, his total was 23, not 33 as unofficially tabulated.

In the council race, figures for Davis, Edwards and Zorick were changed. Davis got only 68 instead of 78 in Ward 6, Precinct 4, bringing his total down to 1,016.

Edwards' total vote was not changed but the votes he got in two precincts cancelled each other. In Ward 5, Precinct 2 (A-K), his vote was 110 instead of 100 but in 5-2 (L-Z) he got 109 instead of 119.

Zorick's figure dropped one vote when he received 39 instead of 40 in Ward 6, Precinct 6, lowering his total to 953.

Home Agent Gets Permission For New Kitchen

Permission for the installation of an up-to-date kitchen on the third floor of the Court House was granted this week to Miss Joanne W. Reitz, Allegany County home demonstration agent.

Approval of the action came from the County Board of Commissioners after the board had heard Miss Reitz and three women who are active in homemaker clubs, Mrs. H. R. Aldridge, Mrs. John S. Cook and Mrs. L. H. Shafferman.

Miss Reitz explained that she has an unexpended balance of $670.82 in her budget for the year which ends June 30. If not spent this month the balance will revert to the state, which appropriated the money.

The home demonstration agent told the commission it will cost about $550 for the installation of four wall cabinets, two base cabinets, one base cabinet sink, one wall filler, one formica top with sink boards and fixtures and one light unit for wall cabinets.

The commissioners referred to County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman a written request from Ross Shaw for the removal of weeds from the main section of Oldtown.

Company Receives Sewage Commitment

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company on Monday acknowledged the receipt of a resolution passed by the Mayor and Council concerning a sewage disposal plant.

The resolution pointed out that the city will proceed with the construction of the plant upon assurance from the company of its intention to locate a plant near Cumberland.

The Weather
